U. S. Will Fight On, Austin Declares

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 3 (AP) — The U. N. cease-fire committee today acknowledged failure in its efforts to stop the fighting in Korea. U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin, promptly said American troops will fight on against aggressors in Korea and urged the free world to stand together in the hope of averting a world war.

United States delegates met late today with delegates from Britain, Cuba, Ecuador, France and Norway to discuss the next step.

These powers are sponsoring a U. N. resolution calling for Communist China to withdraw her troops from Korea. The U. S. was reported seeking support for a stronger resolution labelling Communist China as the aggressor, but a spokesman said no formal resolution has yet been drafted.

Rau Reports Failure

Sir Benegal N. Rau of India told the 60-nation Political Committee of the General Assembl y that the three-man cease fire group was not able to find a satisfactory arrangement to stop the fighting. He said the group had no recommendations now, but insisted that "every honorable avenue should be explored to maintain peace."

"If by mischance there should be a third world war," Rau said, "then history would record that the United Nations had done everything humanly possible to avert it."

Austin called on the U. N. to show the Chinese Reds how bad their Korean adventure is bound to prove for them, saying in that way "we can hope to avert the tragic consequences of an extension or a continuation of the conflict."

No Appeasement, Austin Said

"In the view of my government, aggression must be resisted," Austin said. "There can be no appeasement. The United Nations is engaged in its peace-making functions in the use of such force as has been used and will continue to be used. The people of the free world, acting through the United Nations, must decide how the Charter can best be upheld."

Voicing American determination to continue fighting against aggression, Austin said:

"If hostilities continue, our troops will fight on in Korea. This is in keeping with our understanding of the resopnsobilities laid on all members by the resolutions of the Security Council and of the General Assembly."

President Signs Profits Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — President Truman signed the $3,300,000,000 excess profits tax into law today and served notice that "more and much heavier taxes" will be needed.

The new law, second tax hike since the outbreak of the Korean war, hits corporations alone. In signing it, however, Mr. Truman said that in the coming months "we shall have to canvass and recanvass every revenue possibility" to keep the nation's financial situation stable under the impact of the costly rearmament effort.

His language clearly opened the possibility of heavier taxes on individuals.

Revenue from the excess profits tax, combined with existing levies on individuals and corporations, is expected to funnel a record $45,000,000,000 a year into the Treasury. In wartime 1945, collections hit the previous high — $43,900,000,000.

Dynamite Blast Kills 20

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 3 (AP)—A dynamite blast killed 20 men and injured 28 others near the port city of Chimbote today. Failure to count accurately the number of dynamite explosions caused the victims to be buried under tons of debris and rocks.

Missing Illinois Family Of Five Believed Slain

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 3 (AP) — A blood-splattered, bullet-riddled automobile found on Tulsa's outskirts today led police to theorize tonight that a missing Illinois family of five had been murdered — possibly by a hitch-hiker.

The missing people were Carl, 35, and Thelma Mosser, 29, and their three children, a farm family of near Atwood, Ill. Their blood-stained clothing was found crumpled in the car.

Officers and volunteers were searching the area tonight for bodies.

Acheson Wants Soviet Yes Or No To Peace Talks

Declares Moscow Ignores Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson indicated today that the Western Powers may ask Russia for a plain yes or no answer to their proposal for world peace talks.

Moscow, he declared, ignored the proposal in its weekend note. That Russian message renewed the idea of a foreign ministers conference to discuss German questions alone. The U. S., Britain and France want to talk about all major issues causing present global tension.

"It is obvious," Acheson said, "that we must have further clarification of the Soviet position before we can assume that the U. S. S. R. is ready to accept our proposal to discuss the solution of outstanding problems, including Germany, in regard to which the Soviet attitude has created a sense of insecurity in minds of peace-loving nations."

The United States has started discussions with Britain and France on the next step. There have been reports from Paris that the western capitals were divided on the chances for a useful Big Four meeting on Russia's terms, but Acheson told his news conference that he found no differences.

He declined to predict in so many words that Moscow would be asked for the clarification of its stand. But it appeared obvious to his hearers that only the Kremlin itself could shed real light on Soviet intentions.

The Russian note, Acheson commented, was neither an acceptance nor a rejection of the proposal the U. S., Britain and France submitted on Dec. 22.

Refugee Women Ordered Searched

WITH U. N. FORCES NORTH OF SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 3 (AP)—Forward Allied battalions today ordered a strict search of all refugee women crossing battle lines when spot checks revealed this latest wrinkle in guerrilla supply:

Chinese Reds Using Copies Of U. S. Rocket

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The Army said today rockets used against U. S. troops in Korea are Chinese Communist copies of an American made 4.5 inch rocket.

A statement noted that press reports had indicated the rockets were of American manufacture. However, the Army said experts in the field had found them to be copies of the U. S. World War II rocket.

Ship Strikes Rock

SYDNEY, Australia, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—The 11,000-ton British freighter Palana hit a rock and was badly holed off Pine Peak Island last night. Advices received here said most of the crew of 69 had taken to lifeboats and a Dutch freighter was standing by to render aid.

Representatives Are Sworn In

Dixie-GOP Bloc Restores Power To House Group

Can Prevent Bills From Reaching Floor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The new 82nd Congress convened today under the threat of World War III and with a warning from President Truman that he will soon ask "much heavier" taxes to pay for the nation's rearmament.

Watched by crowded galleries, the legislators met in an atmosphere of solemnity and tension stemming from the realization that the next two years may be the most fateful in American history.

In the Senate, Vice President Barkley banged his gavel promptly at noon to start the legislative machinery rolling. The chamber recessed 38 minutes later, until Friday, after the oath-taking ceremonies for new senators and those re-elected to new terms.

In the House, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) opened the session in the newly redecorated blue-and-gold chamber, and stood with his colleagues in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

Youngest House Member Is 27

Among the 430 new House members sworn in, 27-year-old Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif), a World War II veteran, became the youngest member of the 82nd Congress.

Taking the speaker's chair for his sixth term—longer than any man before him—Rayburn told the House in grave tones that "the United States of America cannot wrap two oceans around it and stay secure and free."

Administration forces suffered a jolting setback in the first hours of the new session when a coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans rolled up a 244-179 margin in a critical test of House strength.

Nominally, the Democrats control the House by 235 to 199, but there was no mistaking the power of the Dixie-GOP bloc to threaten that slim majority at any time.

The vote came on a motion to restore authority to the coalition-dominated House Rules Committee to pigeonhole legislation.

Rule Is Repealed

Mustering 92 Democrats and 152 Republicans, the coalition rammed through a repeal of a rule which had allowed other committees to bypass the rules group and get legislation to the House floor.

Truman Democrats put in the rule two years ago because Dixie Democrats and Republicans on the Rules Committee were bottling up many administration measures — notably President Truman's civil rights proposals.

Across the Capitol, the Republican high command also opened fire on the administration. Sen. Taft

Peiping Radio Gloats Over American Defeat

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP) — "They just ran and ran and ran."

That's how Peiping radio tonight described the American defeat by Chinese Communist "volunteers" in the Changchin reservoir area last month.

"The Americans have developed a technique whereby they have put running away on a streamline basis," the broadcast said. "Instead of going forward they get into reverse and go 'forward' that way — then if they hear a shot they can easily start to run."

Administration "Bungling" Hit By Gov. Dewey

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey charged today that President Truman's administration had bungled home defense, and urged the Legislature to gird New York state for its "own salvation" against possible atomic attack.

Dewey outlined a sweeping and costly preparedness program for the state, in the face of what he termed the "genuine possibility" of a "most savage" attack. But, he said, "I hope it will not be necessary" to increase taxes.

The two-time Republican presidential nominee told the opening session of the 1951 Legislature that drastic economies must be carried out in all non-vital state activities. He also recommended pay boosts for teachers and state employes.

Dewey charged that Russia was "in fact, waging a war in a number of forms against us now."

Dewey was inaugurated Monday for a third four-year term. He already has served as governor longer than any Republican and is the first of his party to be elected three times.

Republican Senators Reelect Top Leaders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Republican Senators late today unanimously reelected their top leaders for another two years in office.

Then they became tangled in talk over a proposed new system for giving freshman senators some major committee jobs.

The leadership slate, put through without opposition, includes:

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of policy committee; Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.), floor leader; Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the conference which includes all 47 senators; Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), assistant floor leader, and Sen. Young (R-N.D.), secretary of the conference.

Plans For Splitting Warner Movie Empire Announced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Plans for splitting the vast Warner brothers movie empire into two separate concerns were announced by Attorney General McGrath today.

The proposed action is part of the government's 12-year-old drive to break up movie combines on the ground of anti-trust law violation.

McGrath said Warner Bros. has agreed to the solution.

Similar "bills of divorcement" have already been put into effect for Paramount and RKO, and negotiations along the same general lines will be applied to Loew and Fox.

Under the plan, Warner Bros. will be split into two new companies operating independently of each other. One will limit itself to movie production and distribution. The other will operate local film theaters across the country.

The plan, which will involve the sale of some movie houses in Warner's 430-theater chain, will be presented by federal attorneys in U. S. District Court in New York tomorrow (4 p. m., E. S. T.)

Officials said the new Warner Theater Company will have less than 375 exhibition houses when the changeover is completed.

The Justice Department stipulated that when the split-up takes place, the three Warner brothers—Harry M., Albert and Jack L.—must decide within 27 months whether they will remain in the production-distribution end or in the exhibition end.

McGrath said the Warners, who own about 25 per cent of Warner Bros. stock, have agreed to this.

Super Carrier Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — Legislation for a 60,000-ton super aircraft carrier which presumably could put the Navy in the atom bomb business was introduced today as one of the first bills of the new congress. Hearings start Jan. 9.

In the background as Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee offered the measure were the same explosive issues which brought about the "admirals' revolt" and a sensational congressional investigation in 1949.

The basic disputes then were over the roles to be assigned to the Navy and the Air Force in carrying long-range war to an enemy, and the division of funds to prepare for those roles.

The Air Force, which has primary responsibility for strategic bombing under the service unification program, never liked Navy plans for a 65,000-ton atom bomb carrier. Air enthusiasts argued it would be a vulnerable target, not specially valuable for Navy operations on and close to the sea and inefficient as compared with big land-based bombers for long strikes.

Louis Johnson, then secretary of defense, cancelled construction of the proposed U.S.S. United States in April, 1949, after the keel for the huge ship had been laid at Newport News.

Dance Of Death

AUGSBURG, Germany, Jan. 3 (AP)—Two Portugese sister dancers died today from burns suffered when their dresses caught fire last week in an Augsgurg night club.

They were identified by hospital authorities as Lucilla Ferreira, 30, and Lucinda Ferreira, 21, both of Lisbon.

Less Tin, Aluminum To Go In Metal Tubes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) —The government is getting ready to squeeze some tin and aluminum out of the metal tubes in which shaving cream and a number of other products are sold.

Officials of the National Production Authority advised manufacturers of such tubes today that an order is being developed fixing the amount of tin that may be used in each of their products.

"This order," the NPA said, "is designed to help the industry maintain present production levels and at the same time considerable savings of tin and aluminum."

SHIPS READY TO REMOVE U. N. TROOPS

WITH U. N. NAVAL FORCES OFF WEST COAST OF KOREA, Jan. 3 (AP) — United Nations naval forces are ready "to redeploy our ground troops by sea," should Korean war developments make that necessary, Rear Adm. L. A. Thackrey said tonight.

"We are ready to provide naval gunfire and, if necessary, naval transports and merchant ships to redeploy our ground troops by sea," Thackrey declared.

He said ships of several U. N. nations, including the United States, Great Britain, Canada and Australia, are lying off shore, waiting to do whatever they can to aid Allied troops.

Truman Sets Up Agency To Speed Nation's Defense

William H. Harrison Named To Head DPA

On recommendation of Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, the President gave Harrison a new agency—the Defense Production Administration—to govern all stages of production from mine to factory.

Harrison can pull the trigger on rationing of consumer goods, if that becomes necessary. He becomes boss of the emergency agencies scattered in the Commerce and Interior Departments and Interstate Commerce Commission.

In the production realm, he will wield the same authority over production—including industrial priorities, power, fuel and transportation—that Alan Valentine now wields in the field of price and wage stabilization.

Further, the new DPA will have certain powers, not defined in detail, over military buying and contracting — which some civilian officials have criticized as being too slow.

The authority of W. Stuart Symington, one-time "defense coordinator" and still chairman of the National Security Resources Board, was further stripped down.

Harrison takes over Symington's power to certify companies for direct loans under the $600,000,000 defense expansion program and to approve plant construction projects for tax benefits to encourage expansion.

Mr. Truman's nomination of Harrison, who has been head of the National Production Authority in the Commerce Department, is subject to Senate confirmation. This, it was predicted, will be given readily.

Harrison, former president of International Telephone & Telegraph Company, is responsible for the steady stream of NPA orders under which civilian supplies of copper, lead, rubber, zinc, nickel and other materials have been curtailed to make way for arms production.

He, like Valentine, will be subject to the "direction, control and coordination" of Wilson, brought to Washington last month as the supreme mobilization chief under Mr. Truman.

Value Of Ford Estate Is Put At $80,319,445

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP)—A final accounting of the estate of the late Henry Ford was filed in probate court today by his three grandsons.

It put at $80,319,445 the value of the estate that had been variously estimated at from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 when the pioneer auto manufacturer died April 7, 1947.

The accounting was filed in behalf of the late Mrs. Clara J. Ford, who was acting as executrix of her husband's estate when she died last Sept. 29. It showed the Ford Foundation, established in 1936 for charitable and educational purposes, received $38,623,365, and the grandchildren—Henry II, Benson, William and Josephine—divided $12,868,335 in equal shares.

Red Flanking Threat Rises East Of Capital

Enemy May Enter City By Nightfall

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—Chinese Reds today entered Seoul, the flaming, abandoned South Korean capital.

Allied fliers reported they inflicted 100 casualties on the vanguards of seven Red armies rolling in on the heels of four retreating American divisions and a British brigade.

The Allies demolished and abandoned the big Kimpo airfield, 15 miles northwest of Seoul.

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—Four American divisions and a British brigade retreated through flaming Seoul today ahead of seven Chinese Red armies. Enemy vanguards were expected to reach the abandoned South Koeran capital by nightfall.

A Communist entrapment threat developed to the east. Off Seoul's port of Inchon United Nations warships and transports stood ready to take off Allied troops if necessary. Inchon is 20 miles west of Seoul.

The U. S. heavy cruiser Rochester last night began bombarding Chinese northwest of Seoul with her nine eight-inch and 12 five-inch guns.

Other cruisers and destroyers of the U. S., Great Britain, Australia, Canada and the Netherlands were ready to add the weight of their fire.

Red cavalrymen were swinging down from Eastern Korea in an obvious attempt to cut roads down which U. N. forces could retreat southeastward from Seoul to the old Pusan beachhead.

Some U. N. trops still were north of the burning, deserted capital seeking to slow the onrush of hordes of Chinese foot soldiers.

Allied Planes Hit Reds

"It was almost certain that Chinese would be in the city before another sunset," reported AP Correspondent William J. Waugh from the war zone.

Swarms of Allied planes were in action, adding to a toll of 2,000 Red casualties inflicted by aircraft rockets, jellied gasoline bombs and machine-gun fire Wednesday. The planes swarmed back to the attack at sunup today.

Long columns of trucks and other vehicles, crammed with troops, moved south from Seoul.

A grave flanking threat arose simultaneously 50 miles east of Seoul. North Korean forces were striking swiftly southward toward Allied lines of retreat in Central Korea.

The question of the hour was: Would the powerful Chinese and North Korean offensive sweep the United Nations army entirely out of Korea?

The storm of battle was expected to break over the ancient Korean capital of Seoul at any hour. The city was paralyzed. It waited for the conqueror to come for the second time in six months.

U. N. Casualties Heavy

Associated Press Correspondent San Swinton said only a thin U. S. and Allied line stood between Seoul and elements of seven Chinese Communist armies at Seoul's outskirts.

The stricken city's fall depends upon how soon the Chinese can reassemble for a savage smash at this holding line. The enemy suffered bloody losses in a tornado of fire from Allied guns and warplanes. Allied casualties also were heavy.

The Korean police rounded up the few able-bodied citiezns still left in Seoul and set them to digging entrenchments on the south bank of the Han River. The Han flows through Seoul.

Normally a good defense line, it now is frozen. It is no more than a bridge for the swarming enemy.

Transit Strike Looms

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3 (AP)—A tieup of trolley and bus service within the next two weeks loomed sharply today after the Baltimore Transit Company and the union broke off contract talks.

Lane Says Adequate Taxes Needed To Continue Advances

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 3 (AP)—One sure thing in an uncertain world is that adequate taxes will be necessary to continue the advances of his four-year administration, Gov. Lane said today.

Otherwise, duties of Maryland's legislators will depend mostly "on policies and programs adopted on a national scale," the Democratic Governor said in his farewell message prepared for delivery at opening of the General Assembly.

Lane will give up the governor's position to Republican Theodore R. McKeldin Jan. 10.

"In matters of domestice concern," Lane told the Assembly, "you will find that the mounting requirements of the mobilization of our national strength will impinge, to a greater or lesser degree, on virtually every facet of the operation of the state government...

"Only the foolhardy would venture the expectation of business as usual in the weeks, and months, and years that loom ahead.

"Of the thing you may be sure—none of the advances which have been made in many fields in this state since the conclusion of World War II can be carried forward without adequate tax revenues to support them."

Among the advances Lane cited were "improving our hospitals for the mentally ill and the tuberculosis; for raising the standard of public education and staffing the schools with qualified personnel; for rehabilitating our system of roads.."

"It was a hard task" he declared.

"Existing revenues fell far short of providing the funds for the needed improvements—in fact, far short of supporting the state government at the level on which it was then functioning."

He recalled he had to take $15,000,000 from reserve funds "just to keep going as we then were" upon assuming four years ago.

His administration wasn't entirely one of tax increases, Lane maintained. He recalled the 1950 General Assembly broadened exemptions of the state income tax and reduced the real estate tax Last month, a special session raised the starting point of the sales tax from 14 to 50 cents and exempted certain items.

Lane said it is estimated now there will be a surplus of $6,312,742.78 June 30, end of the current fiscal year.

"One of the major concerns of this General Assembly" will be the needs of school construction, Lane predicted. "Unquestionably this problem will be complicated by restrictions in construction that will necessarily follow the increasing tempo of the marshaling of resources for the rearmament program."

The program will be created, the governor said, by an estimated 115,000 pupil increase in Maryland schools during the next seven years.

The legislature also will have to wrestle with the state's road rebuilding program, Lane forecast.

USSR Buys Granite Ordered By Hitler—And Never Used

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan 3 (AP) —The pile of red Swedish granite Hitler ordered for a victory monument to himself—and never used—is going to the Soviet Union, for a monument to somebody.

Adolf Hitler paid 20,000,000 marks (about $8,000,000 at the time) for the same stone a decade ago but the 18,500 tons of the attractive well-cut blocks never left Swedish shores.

The Soviet purchase was confirmed today by E. K. Fernstroem, head of the A. K. Fernstroem Stone Industries Company, present owners of the Hitler granite. He said he did not know what kind of monument the Russians plan to build.

He would not comment on the price the Russians are paying.

Mother Must Decide If Her Child Loses Sight Or Life

ATLANTA, Jan. 3 (AP)—Four-year-old Carolyn Purcell faces a life without sight, or no life at all, and the decision must be made soon by her mother.

The little girl has cancer in both eyes.

Specialists said just before Christmas her eyes must be removed or the little girl would die.

Two more specialists, appealed to by Carolyn's tearful mother, were unable to change the earlier diagnosis after a long examination today. However, they recommended only that Carolyn's right eye be removed immediately. About the other eye? They wouldn't say anything.

Mrs. Frank Purcell hasn't made up her mind yet.

"Oh, I don't know, I don't know," she wept. "I can't answer a thing like that. I keep hoping for a miracle. Maybe the Lord will take a hand and save her from darkness."

Weather Forecast

Cloudy and not as warm today with rain likely.

Youngest House Member Is 27

Among the 430 new House members sworn in, 27-year-old Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif), a World War II veteran, became the youngest member of the 82nd Congress.

Taking the speaker's chair for his sixth term—longer than any man before him—Rayburn told the House in grave tones that "the United States of America cannot wrap two oceans around it and stay secure and free."

Administration forces suffered a jolting setback in the first hours of the new session when a coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans rolled up a 244-179 margin in a critical test of House strength.

Nominally, the Democrats control the House by 235 to 199, but there was no mistaking the power of the Dixie-GOP bloc to threaten that slim majority at any time.

The vote came on a motion to restore authority to the coalition-dominated House Rules Committee to pigeonhole legislation.

Rule Is Repealed

Mustering 92 Democrats and 152 Republicans, the coalition rammed through a repeal of a rule which had allowed other committees to bypass the rules group and get legislation to the House floor.

Truman Democrats put in the rule two years ago because Dixie Democrats and Republicans on the Rules Committee were bottling up many administration measures — notably President Truman's civil rights proposals.

Across the Capitol, the Republican high command also opened fire on the administration. Sen. Taft

Peiping Radio Gloats Over American Defeat

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP) — "They just ran and ran and ran."

That's how Peiping radio tonight described the American defeat by Chinese Communist "volunteers" in the Changchin reservoir area last month.

"The Americans have developed a technique whereby they have put running away on a streamline basis," the broadcast said. "Instead of going forward they get into reverse and go 'forward' that way — then if they hear a shot they can easily start to run."

Administration "Bungling" Hit By Gov. Dewey

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey charged today that President Truman's administration had bungled home defense, and urged the Legislature to gird New York state for its "own salvation" against possible atomic attack.

Dewey outlined a sweeping and costly preparedness program for the state, in the face of what he termed the "genuine possibility" of a "most savage" attack. But, he said, "I hope it will not be necessary" to increase taxes.

The two-time Republican presidential nominee told the opening session of the 1951 Legislature that drastic economies must be carried out in all non-vital state activities. He also recommended pay boosts for teachers and state employes.

Dewey charged that Russia was "in fact, waging a war in a number of forms against us now."

Dewey was inaugurated Monday for a third four-year term. He already has served as governor longer than any Republican and is the first of his party to be elected three times.

Republican Senators Reelect Top Leaders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Republican Senators late today unanimously reelected their top leaders for another two years in office.

Then they became tangled in talk over a proposed new system for giving freshman senators some major committee jobs.

The leadership slate, put through without opposition, includes:

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of policy committee; Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.), floor leader; Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the conference which includes all 47 senators; Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), assistant floor leader, and Sen. Young (R-N.D.), secretary of the conference.

Plans For Splitting Warner Movie Empire Announced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Plans for splitting the vast Warner brothers movie empire into two separate concerns were announced by Attorney General McGrath today.

The proposed action is part of the government's 12-year-old drive to break up movie combines on the ground of anti-trust law violation.

McGrath said Warner Bros. has agreed to the solution.

Similar "bills of divorcement" have already been put into effect for Paramount and RKO, and negotiations along the same general lines will be applied to Loew and Fox.

Under the plan, Warner Bros. will be split into two new companies operating independently of each other. One will limit itself to movie production and distribution. The other will operate local film theaters across the country.

The plan, which will involve the sale of some movie houses in Warner's 430-theater chain, will be presented by federal attorneys in U. S. District Court in New York tomorrow (4 p. m., E. S. T.)

Officials said the new Warner Theater Company will have less than 375 exhibition houses when the changeover is completed.

The Justice Department stipulated that when the split-up takes place, the three Warner brothers—Harry M., Albert and Jack L.—must decide within 27 months whether they will remain in the production-distribution end or in the exhibition end.

McGrath said the Warners, who own about 25 per cent of Warner Bros. stock, have agreed to this.

Super Carrier Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — Legislation for a 60,000-ton super aircraft carrier which presumably could put the Navy in the atom bomb business was introduced today as one of the first bills of the new congress. Hearings start Jan. 9.

In the background as Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee offered the measure were the same explosive issues which brought about the "admirals' revolt" and a sensational congressional investigation in 1949.

The basic disputes then were over the roles to be assigned to the Navy and the Air Force in carrying long-range war to an enemy, and the division of funds to prepare for those roles.

The Air Force, which has primary responsibility for strategic bombing under the service unification program, never liked Navy plans for a 65,000-ton atom bomb carrier. Air enthusiasts argued it would be a vulnerable target, not specially valuable for Navy operations on and close to the sea and inefficient as compared with big land-based bombers for long strikes.

Louis Johnson, then secretary of defense, cancelled construction of the proposed U.S.S. United States in April, 1949, after the keel for the huge ship had been laid at Newport News.

Dance Of Death

AUGSBURG, Germany, Jan. 3 (AP)—Two Portugese sister dancers died today from burns suffered when their dresses caught fire last week in an Augsgurg night club.

They were identified by hospital authorities as Lucilla Ferreira, 30, and Lucinda Ferreira, 21, both of Lisbon.

Less Tin, Aluminum To Go In Metal Tubes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) —The government is getting ready to squeeze some tin and aluminum out of the metal tubes in which shaving cream and a number of other products are sold.

Officials of the National Production Authority advised manufacturers of such tubes today that an order is being developed fixing the amount of tin that may be used in each of their products.

"This order," the NPA said, "is designed to help the industry maintain present production levels and at the same time considerable savings of tin and aluminum."

SHIPS READY TO REMOVE U. N. TROOPS

WITH U. N. NAVAL FORCES OFF WEST COAST OF KOREA, Jan. 3 (AP) — United Nations naval forces are ready "to redeploy our ground troops by sea," should Korean war developments make that necessary, Rear Adm. L. A. Thackrey said tonight.

"We are ready to provide naval gunfire and, if necessary, naval transports and merchant ships to redeploy our ground troops by sea," Thackrey declared.

He said ships of several U. N. nations, including the United States, Great Britain, Canada and Australia, are lying off shore, waiting to do whatever they can to aid Allied troops.

Truman Sets Up Agency To Speed Nation's Defense

William H. Harrison Named To Head DPA

On recommendation of Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, the President gave Harrison a new agency—the Defense Production Administration—to govern all stages of production from mine to factory.

Harrison can pull the trigger on rationing of consumer goods, if that becomes necessary. He becomes boss of the emergency agencies scattered in the Commerce and Interior Departments and Interstate Commerce Commission.

In the production realm, he will wield the same authority over production—including industrial priorities, power, fuel and transportation—that Alan Valentine now wields in the field of price and wage stabilization.

Further, the new DPA will have certain powers, not defined in detail, over military buying and contracting — which some civilian officials have criticized as being too slow.

The authority of W. Stuart Symington, one-time "defense coordinator" and still chairman of the National Security Resources Board, was further stripped down.

Harrison takes over Symington's power to certify companies for direct loans under the $600,000,000 defense expansion program and to approve plant construction projects for tax benefits to encourage expansion.

Mr. Truman's nomination of Harrison, who has been head of the National Production Authority in the Commerce Department, is subject to Senate confirmation. This, it was predicted, will be given readily.

Harrison, former president of International Telephone & Telegraph Company, is responsible for the steady stream of NPA orders under which civilian supplies of copper, lead, rubber, zinc, nickel and other materials have been curtailed to make way for arms production.

He, like Valentine, will be subject to the "direction, control and coordination" of Wilson, brought to Washington last month as the supreme mobilization chief under Mr. Truman.

Value Of Ford Estate Is Put At $80,319,445

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP)—A final accounting of the estate of the late Henry Ford was filed in probate court today by his three grandsons.

It put at $80,319,445 the value of the estate that had been variously estimated at from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 when the pioneer auto manufacturer died April 7, 1947.

The accounting was filed in behalf of the late Mrs. Clara J. Ford, who was acting as executrix of her husband's estate when she died last Sept. 29. It showed the Ford Foundation, established in 1936 for charitable and educational purposes, received $38,623,365, and the grandchildren—Henry II, Benson, William and Josephine—divided $12,868,335 in equal shares.

Red Flanking Threat Rises East Of Capital

Enemy May Enter City By Nightfall

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—Chinese Reds today entered Seoul, the flaming, abandoned South Korean capital.

Allied fliers reported they inflicted 100 casualties on the vanguards of seven Red armies rolling in on the heels of four retreating American divisions and a British brigade.

The Allies demolished and abandoned the big Kimpo airfield, 15 miles northwest of Seoul.

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—Four American divisions and a British brigade retreated through flaming Seoul today ahead of seven Chinese Red armies. Enemy vanguards were expected to reach the abandoned South Koeran capital by nightfall.

A Communist entrapment threat developed to the east. Off Seoul's port of Inchon United Nations warships and transports stood ready to take off Allied troops if necessary. Inchon is 20 miles west of Seoul.

The U. S. heavy cruiser Rochester last night began bombarding Chinese northwest of Seoul with her nine eight-inch and 12 five-inch guns.

Other cruisers and destroyers of the U. S., Great Britain, Australia, Canada and the Netherlands were ready to add the weight of their fire.

Red cavalrymen were swinging down from Eastern Korea in an obvious attempt to cut roads down which U. N. forces could retreat southeastward from Seoul to the old Pusan beachhead.

Some U. N. trops still were north of the burning, deserted capital seeking to slow the onrush of hordes of Chinese foot soldiers.

Allied Planes Hit Reds

"It was almost certain that Chinese would be in the city before another sunset," reported AP Correspondent William J. Waugh from the war zone.

Swarms of Allied planes were in action, adding to a toll of 2,000 Red casualties inflicted by aircraft rockets, jellied gasoline bombs and machine-gun fire Wednesday. The planes swarmed back to the attack at sunup today.

Long columns of trucks and other vehicles, crammed with troops, moved south from Seoul.

A grave flanking threat arose simultaneously 50 miles east of Seoul. North Korean forces were striking swiftly southward toward Allied lines of retreat in Central Korea.

The question of the hour was: Would the powerful Chinese and North Korean offensive sweep the United Nations army entirely out of Korea?

The storm of battle was expected to break over the ancient Korean capital of Seoul at any hour. The city was paralyzed. It waited for the conqueror to come for the second time in six months.

U. N. Casualties Heavy

Associated Press Correspondent San Swinton said only a thin U. S. and Allied line stood between Seoul and elements of seven Chinese Communist armies at Seoul's outskirts.

The stricken city's fall depends upon how soon the Chinese can reassemble for a savage smash at this holding line. The enemy suffered bloody losses in a tornado of fire from Allied guns and warplanes. Allied casualties also were heavy.

The Korean police rounded up the few able-bodied citiezns still left in Seoul and set them to digging entrenchments on the south bank of the Han River. The Han flows through Seoul.

Normally a good defense line, it now is frozen. It is no more than a bridge for the swarming enemy.

Transit Strike Looms

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3 (AP)—A tieup of trolley and bus service within the next two weeks loomed sharply today after the Baltimore Transit Company and the union broke off contract talks.

Lane Says Adequate Taxes Needed To Continue Advances

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 3 (AP)—One sure thing in an uncertain world is that adequate taxes will be necessary to continue the advances of his four-year administration, Gov. Lane said today.

Otherwise, duties of Maryland's legislators will depend mostly "on policies and programs adopted on a national scale," the Democratic Governor said in his farewell message prepared for delivery at opening of the General Assembly.

Lane will give up the governor's position to Republican Theodore R. McKeldin Jan. 10.

"In matters of domestice concern," Lane told the Assembly, "you will find that the mounting requirements of the mobilization of our national strength will impinge, to a greater or lesser degree, on virtually every facet of the operation of the state government...

"Only the foolhardy would venture the expectation of business as usual in the weeks, and months, and years that loom ahead.

"Of the thing you may be sure—none of the advances which have been made in many fields in this state since the conclusion of World War II can be carried forward without adequate tax revenues to support them."

Among the advances Lane cited were "improving our hospitals for the mentally ill and the tuberculosis; for raising the standard of public education and staffing the schools with qualified personnel; for rehabilitating our system of roads.."

"It was a hard task" he declared.

"Existing revenues fell far short of providing the funds for the needed improvements—in fact, far short of supporting the state government at the level on which it was then functioning."

He recalled he had to take $15,000,000 from reserve funds "just to keep going as we then were" upon assuming four years ago.

His administration wasn't entirely one of tax increases, Lane maintained. He recalled the 1950 General Assembly broadened exemptions of the state income tax and reduced the real estate tax Last month, a special session raised the starting point of the sales tax from 14 to 50 cents and exempted certain items.

Lane said it is estimated now there will be a surplus of $6,312,742.78 June 30, end of the current fiscal year.

"One of the major concerns of this General Assembly" will be the needs of school construction, Lane predicted. "Unquestionably this problem will be complicated by restrictions in construction that will necessarily follow the increasing tempo of the marshaling of resources for the rearmament program."

The program will be created, the governor said, by an estimated 115,000 pupil increase in Maryland schools during the next seven years.

The legislature also will have to wrestle with the state's road rebuilding program, Lane forecast.

USSR Buys Granite Ordered By Hitler—And Never Used

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan 3 (AP) —The pile of red Swedish granite Hitler ordered for a victory monument to himself—and never used—is going to the Soviet Union, for a monument to somebody.

Adolf Hitler paid 20,000,000 marks (about $8,000,000 at the time) for the same stone a decade ago but the 18,500 tons of the attractive well-cut blocks never left Swedish shores.

The Soviet purchase was confirmed today by E. K. Fernstroem, head of the A. K. Fernstroem Stone Industries Company, present owners of the Hitler granite. He said he did not know what kind of monument the Russians plan to build.

He would not comment on the price the Russians are paying.

Mother Must Decide If Her Child Loses Sight Or Life

ATLANTA, Jan. 3 (AP)—Four-year-old Carolyn Purcell faces a life without sight, or no life at all, and the decision must be made soon by her mother.

The little girl has cancer in both eyes.

Specialists said just before Christmas her eyes must be removed or the little girl would die.

Two more specialists, appealed to by Carolyn's tearful mother, were unable to change the earlier diagnosis after a long examination today. However, they recommended only that Carolyn's right eye be removed immediately. About the other eye? They wouldn't say anything.

Mrs. Frank Purcell hasn't made up her mind yet.

"Oh, I don't know, I don't know," she wept. "I can't answer a thing like that. I keep hoping for a miracle. Maybe the Lord will take a hand and save her from darkness."

Trial Magistrate Carpenti Answers City's Charges

Trial Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday answered city police officials who Tuesday night questioned his handling of certain parking tickets by personally entering 78 violations on the police docket without having the violators appear in court or post bond.

Magistrate Carpenti, who said he was not asked to discuss the matter with police or attend Tuesday night's Council meeting when queries were made, wrote the following reply to Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long:

"This is in reply to your letter dated January 2, postmarked 7 p. m. on the same day and which I received at 9:45 a. m. on January 3, today. I wish to sincerely thank you for your kind courtesy in matter in publishing the letter prior to my reception of it. Of course, you could have called me on this matter as you did on another matter.

Some Did Appear

"In reference to the list that you have in your letter, I can truthfully say (not from hearsay, either) that some of the people mentioned did appear in Court either personally or by a representative which they have a right to do. Those who did not appear on the particular mornings in question had seen me personally in my offices, The Trial Magistrates Court on Union Street where I transact some city business, such as issuing warrants, listening to complaints, etc. This is done for the convenience of all concerned, including myself, the general public and the police department.

"For your information, no bond need be posted in parking violations for the ticket is only a summons to appear and in the cases of those people who did not appear in court, and the sentence for violation was suspended, the people involved pleaded guilty to the violation and offered a sufficient excuse for their inability to be present in Court. This was done in what seemed to me to be the public interest inasmuch usually the officer involved in the ticket is not in Court anyway. It has been felt by the magistrates that the ticket speaks for itself.

"Until your election to the position you now hold, no question was ever raised regarding the actions of the magistrate while he was performing his duty on the bench. All the tickets were placed on the docket in open Court in plain view of the desk sergeant and others who may have had business in Court on that particular day.

"I might also add that at various times during my periods of duty on the Police Court, suspended sentences or dismissals on parking tickets and other violations of the City ordinances have been granted at the request of some of your officers even though the officer involved on the ticket or the defendant were not present.

Will Change Policy

"In view of the attitude of the Police Department which is headed by you, I wish to assure you that all city business relating to violations of ordinances whether parking or other, will be handled in Police Court only and the public and the Police Department will have to be inconvenienced. I can also assure you that if you had mentioned this to me when you were talking to me over the phone, I would have done the same by assuring you personally that no city business will be handled except in Police Court."

Mayor Thomas S. Post, who presided at the Council session, asked City Solicitor W. Earle Cobey to take the parking ticket matter under consideration. The former appeared in Police Court yesterday morning as a spectator in a parking ticket case.

Police said an employe of Memorial Hospital received a ticket December 11 for illegal parking in a restricted zone adjoining the Elks' Home on South Centre Street. A hospital official called Mayor Post who referred the matter to Commissioner Long. Eventually the case was turned over to Chief R. Emmett Flynn who referred the case back to the commissioner.

Comment By Mayor

The defendant appeared in court today and admitted that he had parked illegally and noticed warning signs. Mayor Post showed up shortly before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew fined the violator $1. Said the Mayor:

"I thought he (the defendant) was to appear and be found not guilty. I'd better put Carpenti back on there."

Read To Council

Long brought up the ticket subject when he read into the Council record a copy of a letter which he sent to Magistrate Carpenti.

W. Dwight Stover Sworn In As State's Attorney

W. Dwight Stover, of Oakland, was sworn into office as state's attorney of Garrett County in a ceremony yesterday morning in the office of Asociate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Administering the oath to Stover was Judge Harris in the presence of Mrs. Stover, Associate Judge George Henderson, Paul Fisher, sheriff of Garrett County, and Parole Officer David M. Steele.

Stover was elected in November without opposition on the Republican ticket. He had been appointed State's Attorney in January, 1948, to fill the unexpired term of Walter W. Dawson, who resigned.

Jobs In Maryland More Easy To Find

It's getting easier to find a job in Maryland, the head of the State's Employment Security Board says, according to the Associated Press.

Board Chairman William H. Mahaney, reported employers are relaxing their specifications for new employes. This is because lists of the unemployed are shrinking and job openings are increasing.

"Employers are placing less stress on age provided a worker is qualified and physically capable," Mahaney declared.

"More and more women will be needed both in productions jobs in war plants and as replacements in non-defense industries for men entering the armed forces or taking jobs in war industries."

The nation's defense effort is given as the reason for the changing situation.

Maryland now has about 40,000 unemployed — mostly in unskilled and semi-skilled categories. Mahaney estimated about 70,000 workers are available for jobs.

Trial Magistrate Carpenti Answers City's Charges

Trial Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday answered city police officials who Tuesday night questioned his handling of certain parking tickets by personally entering 78 violations on the police docket without having the violators appear in court or post bond.

Magistrate Carpenti, who said he was not asked to discuss the matter with police or attend Tuesday night's Council meeting when queries were made, wrote the following reply to Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long:

"This is in reply to your letter dated January 2, postmarked 7 p. m. on the same day and which I received at 9:45 a. m. on January 3, today. I wish to sincerely thank you for your kind courtesy in matter in publishing the letter prior to my reception of it. Of course, you could have called me on this matter as you did on another matter.

Some Did Appear

"In reference to the list that you have in your letter, I can truthfully say (not from hearsay, either) that some of the people mentioned did appear in Court either personally or by a representative which they have a right to do. Those who did not appear on the particular mornings in question had seen me personally in my offices, The Trial Magistrates Court on Union Street where I transact some city business, such as issuing warrants, listening to complaints, etc. This is done for the convenience of all concerned, including myself, the general public and the police department.

"For your information, no bond need be posted in parking violations for the ticket is only a summons to appear and in the cases of those people who did not appear in court, and the sentence for violation was suspended, the people involved pleaded guilty to the violation and offered a sufficient excuse for their inability to be present in Court. This was done in what seemed to me to be the public interest inasmuch usually the officer involved in the ticket is not in Court anyway. It has been felt by the magistrates that the ticket speaks for itself.

"Until your election to the position you now hold, no question was ever raised regarding the actions of the magistrate while he was performing his duty on the bench. All the tickets were placed on the docket in open Court in plain view of the desk sergeant and others who may have had business in Court on that particular day.

"I might also add that at various times during my periods of duty on the Police Court, suspended sentences or dismissals on parking tickets and other violations of the City ordinances have been granted at the request of some of your officers even though the officer involved on the ticket or the defendant were not present.

Will Change Policy

"In view of the attitude of the Police Department which is headed by you, I wish to assure you that all city business relating to violations of ordinances whether parking or other, will be handled in Police Court only and the public and the Police Department will have to be inconvenienced. I can also assure you that if you had mentioned this to me when you were talking to me over the phone, I would have done the same by assuring you personally that no city business will be handled except in Police Court."

Mayor Thomas S. Post, who presided at the Council session, asked City Solicitor W. Earle Cobey to take the parking ticket matter under consideration. The former appeared in Police Court yesterday morning as a spectator in a parking ticket case.

Police said an employe of Memorial Hospital received a ticket December 11 for illegal parking in a restricted zone adjoining the Elks' Home on South Centre Street. A hospital official called Mayor Post who referred the matter to Commissioner Long. Eventually the case was turned over to Chief R. Emmett Flynn who referred the case back to the commissioner.

Comment By Mayor

The defendant appeared in court today and admitted that he had parked illegally and noticed warning signs. Mayor Post showed up shortly before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew fined the violator $1. Said the Mayor:

"I thought he (the defendant) was to appear and be found not guilty. I'd better put Carpenti back on there."

Read To Council

Long brought up the ticket subject when he read into the Council record a copy of a letter which he sent to Magistrate Carpenti.

W. Dwight Stover Sworn In As State's Attorney

W. Dwight Stover, of Oakland, was sworn into office as state's attorney of Garrett County in a ceremony yesterday morning in the office of Asociate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Stover was elected in November without opposition on the Republican ticket. He had been appointed State's Attorney in January, 1948, to fill the unexpired term of Walter W. Dawson, who resigned.

The Will For Freedom

There is a rule in business which could be turned to good purpose in Washington's dealings with foreign powers. In any transaction of importance contracting parties declare they are ready, willing and able to live up to their obligations.

This is more than a declaration of good intent, which is vital, but also an affirmation by those who are parties to the transaction that they are not only ready and willing, but also able, to carry out its specifications.

Preliminary to an ambitious program to rearm Western Europe, it is widely demanded that the nations involved should first make a declaration of their intentions. There is considerable doubt that they can be fully relied upon to offer stiff resistance to the spread of communism.

Before the United States spends more billions in Europe, there should be a guarantee European nations are willing to help themselves to the fullest extent possible.

The U. S. can provide armament and troops, but unless there is complete cooperation by the spirits of determined peoples, all that would come of it would be another Korea. Europeans must have the will for freedom if they are to escape the menace of communism.

Ruined By Relief

Canadian Eskimos are reported to be enjoying one of the most prosperous winter seasons in recent years. From Ottawa comes word that the caribou are on the move, and the government relief checks arrive on schedule every month.

Nanook of the North is not the man he used to be before the Canadian government put him on relief and started giving him up to $8 a month for every child under 16 years of age. Those with large families are enjoying such prosperity there no longer is need to depend upon their own initiative and effort, as they did before relief came.

Sometimes in years past the caribou, the principal source of Eskimo diet, failed to appear and things were tough for Nanook. But the caribou are to be found in all sections of the country, relief checks are coming through, and it looks like a fat winter for the Eskimos.

In many respects the relief program has been harmful to these simple people. Many are no longer content with such simple food as caribou meat and whale blubber, but have shown a taste for the white man's diet. Crime is on the increase where formerly it was practically unknown. Drinking has become a serious problem for the authorities.

Fell Into Trap

Many Allied military leaders were fearful of trouble with Russia as long ago as World War II, when the Russians refused to permit American military observers to go to the Russian front and interned U. S. fliers who landed on Russian soil after bombing Japan. Washington at the time was making every effort to strengthen the Soviet government economically as well as militarily.

It is recalled that General Patton, soon after the fall of Berlin, in an address to his troops, told the men to banish the idea World War II had been a war to end war. He told the troops they would be fighting Russia within 10 years.

General Patton was taken to task by leftwingers in and out of Washington for his utterances, and General Eisenhower removed him from command of his Third Army. Real Americans sided with Patton, but they had little influence in Washington at the time.

In recent months, because of the turn of events in the Far East, there has been growing criticism of Eisenhower's action in permitting Russia to have the honor of entering Berlin first, and of Washington's long record of kotowing to the Stalin crowd, which started with recognition of the Moscow regime by Roosevelt in 1933.

The Old Army Game

Harassed taxpayers will applaud the Senate "watchdog" committee when it deplores the fact that the Army has bought butter in the open market at the same time that the government was paying storage on a butter hoard and losing money on spoilage. Actually, however, it is not the Defense Department or the Commodity Credit Corporation that is responsible for this wanton waste of the taxpayers' money.

The blame lies entirely with Congress which, at the behest of the administration, passed the laws which require the CCC to buy butter when that commodity falls below the so-called "support price." And the law also provides that the CCC cannot sell the butter to the Army or anybody else unless it receives five per cent more than the support price in addition to reasonable handling charges.

The cure for all this foolishness? The very least that should be done is to pass a law permitting one government agency to sell anything to another government agency at cost.

As it is, everybody's hands are tied except those of the taxpayer. He is privileged to put them in his pocket and dig up the required money. If ever there was an old army game this is it.

German Attitude

In Germany the average man approaches the subject of the remilitarization of his country with the question, "What have I got to fight for?" He says the Americans, British and French should do the fighting. A German magazine poll shows 82.6 per cent against compulsory military service.

There are indications that most Frenchmen and Britons feel Americans should do the fighting. Probably if they fall under the heel of Russia, they will not think this aloofness was such a good idea.

Germans frequently express the fallacious thought that it is doubtful whether Moscow can stir up the Russian people to attack the West if the West takes no aggressive action. It will not be necessary to stir up the Russian people. They are slaves, and as such will take orders.

Harelip Can Be Corrected

THE BIRTH of a malformed youngster is a hard cross to bear. The parents are upset emotionally and may feel so conscience stricken for months thereafter, that they refuse to mingle with society. Most of this reaction can be avoided by learning all that is known about the particular abnormality.

Medical science has made rapid strides in the correction of many defects that are present at birth. Cleft palate and harelip provide excellent examples of what can be done. The transformation created by surgical repair of this unsightly imperfection is little short of miraculous. Several operations are needed and the experience is almost as trying for the parents as for the child.

As soon as the father and mother are aware of the condition of their infant they are likely to ask the age old questions: "Is it inherited? Have we done something to cause it?" Hereidity plays a role in about 40 per cent of all cases. This possibility exists only when there is a family history of the disturbance. Otherwise, nature probably can be blamed; something happened prior to birth in the period in which the upper jaw was forming. The normal process was delayed so that the roof of the mouth and the upper lip failed to close. German measles and other virus infections cause related defects of the eyes, ears, and heart and it is possible that a somewhat similar infection is a factor in harelip and cleft palate. In these cases the ancestors are not to blame and the abnormality cannot be passed along to succeeding generations.

Occasionally we are asked point plank by one who has a defect of this nature whether or not his children will be affected in like manner. If he knows his family tree and there is no hereditary tendency, the chances are good that the flaw will not appear in later generations. On the other hand, if the family history is not clear, the answer of necessity, must be vague. In the old days many youngsters with this defect failed to survive and after they died the parents kept the secret.

"When are you going to operate?" is another question asked by parents. This is an individual problem but most surgeons recommend that the lip be repaired in the first few months of life, when the infant is gaining weight and is in good condition to undergo the procedure. The opening through the hard and soft palates is left alone for months or even years, to permit growth of these parts. Meanwhile, the child has difficulty in nursing because he cannot suck and his nourishment is expelled through the nose and does not reach the stomach. A device is available that can be placed over the roof to supply an artificial ceiling. This will permit food to go to its destination.

The results of surgery often are unbelievable. They are rarely appreciated unless we look at before-and-after pictures. But the improvement in appearance is only part of the job. Many of these children must be taught to speak; and re-alignment of the teeth often is necessary. The psychological aspects must be watched. It is apparent that the problem of the cleft palate is complicated and requires the services of many specialists. To encourage this teamwork, physicians are starting rehabilitation clinics where all of these services are available.

NO SUGAR

B. W. writes: I have not used sugar for the last three years since I have been trying to reduce. A friend tells me I may damage my liver by this practice. Is this possible?

REPLY

No. After all, sugar is only one form of carbohydrate which is an essential food element. In addition, any time you eat sweet food you are obtaining a certain amount of sugar.

•—•—•

NAUSEA FROM DRUG

Mrs. E. writes: I'm giving my youngster aureomycin under doctor's orders but it makes her sick to her stomach. Is there any way to prevent this?

REPLY

A glass of milk with each dose often prevents irritation of the stomach. Antacids and aluminum gels also help but there is some evidence that these products interfere with absorption of the drug.

DIPHTHERIA PROTECTION

M. B. writes: Should an adult who was exposed to diphtheria be immunized if the Schick test is positive.

REPLY

Yes, immediately. Members of the family, school teachers, hospital personnel, and employes in children's homes are susceptible to the disease if they never had it and never received the protective vaccine.

Truman Letter-Writing May Pay Unexpected Dividends; Congress To Consider Draft Law Changes; Price Czars Stymied By Under-Parity Prices

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the "man of letters" in the White House is going to make a lot of money for the recipients of those letters.

Out in Denver, Dr. Neal Bishop, who suggested to Mr. Truman that John L. Lewis be appointed ambassador to Russia, is going to auction off his Trumanesque reply for the benefit of the Denver Community Chest.

The reply, which stated that he, Truman, would not even appoint John L. as dogcatcher, should bring a large amount of money—though Bishop has generously given the letter to the Community Chest and they will make the profit.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Paul Hume, the Washington Post music critic, has turned down various offers for his letter regarding Margaret Truman's singing. One offer is reputed in five figures.

If Mr. Hume ever does decide to sell this coveted letter, it can make him much more dough than he realizes, for he will only have to pay a capital gains tax of 25 per cent on the sale. In other words, the Truman letter is not earned income, but a special personal gift from the President of the United States. A gift is not taxable until it is sold, and as long as Mr. Hume keeps the letter more than six months, his tax will be only 25 per cent.

If Treasury agents argue about this, Mr. Hume can tell them quite truthfully that his letter is something which happens only once in a lifetime, that it was an unsolicited gift from the President, and that if any gift tax is paid it should come out of Harry Truman's pocket, not his.

Other people who got indignant letters from the President can also cash in on this nice low-bracket tax. In brief, the President has been awfully kind to Mr. Hume, to Bernie Baruch, to Dr. Bishop, to Jimmie Byrnes and others. The only one he has slighted is me. Because when he hurled the "servant of brotherhood" charge in my direction, he did it orally. He did not write a letter.

Someday, if I can get up nerve enough, I am going to ask Mr. Truman to put it in writing, so I can have something either to hand down to my children or else sell under a capital gains tax. Having been the first to arouse public Presidential ire, I think the President owes it to me to put it in writing.

NOTE—Anyone who wants to bid on the Truman letter blackballing John L. Lewis as dogcatcher can wire the Denver Press Club.

New Order of Draft

Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey is recommending the following changes in the draft law to the new session of Congress:

1. That the draft age be lowered from 19 to 18 years, with the maximum age limit kept at 25.

2. That deferment of enlistees in the Organized Reserves and the National Guard be stopped.

3. That draft eligibles between 18 and 25 be taken in the following order: first, all unmarried college students except the top third in their classes; second married nonvets without children; third, unmarried veterans; last, nonvets with children.

Increased Living Cost

One thing that has stumped price czars Alan Valentine and Mike DiSalle is that they cannot impose over-all price controls on certain farm products until the cost of living goes up even more.

This is because the farm bloc in Congress inserted a provision in the price control bill whereby certain farm prices cannot be controlled at a point under parity or under the price of last May and June.

Because of this, the Agriculture Department has advised the big bakers and millers that they face no early price control. Bread will have to increase one or two cents a loaf to permit price controls, Ralph Twigg, the department's production and marketing boss, privately informed bakers and millers last week.

The Agriculture Department has also informed Economic Stabilizer Valentine that over-all controls on farm products would raise the nation's food bill from five to ten per cent because of the number of commodities now below parity prices.

Meat Price Ceilings

Of the foods that will be controlled, beef, lamb and veal top the list. All are above parity. Price Administrator DiSalle will have a meeting with Chicago meat-packers and Western cattlemen this month and expects to put a price ceiling on meat in February. It will take at least that time for him to get organized.

Next to meat, products most likely to be controlled include cotton, raisins, rice, flue-cured tobacco, and possibly cottonseed oil, all of which are above parity. Valentine and DiSalle are hesitant about controlling wool, also above parity, for fear of discouraging domestic production of this critically short war essential.

Publicly, the Agriculture Department has taken an aloof position on farm price ceilings, but privately it has submitted the following list of farm products for possible control:

Wool, about 29 per cent above parity; cotton, 27 per cent above; sheep, 10 per cent above; beef cattle, 5 per cent above; rice 2 per cent above; tobacco, 2 per cent above; and lamb, 1 per cent above.

The list also shows these items to be below parity: Hogs, 10 per cent; peanuts, 12 per cent; milk for processing, 12 per cent; soy beans, 12 per cent; butter fat, 13 per cent; eggs, 14 per cent; wheat, 15 per cent; edible dry beans, 16 per cent; corn, 18 per cent; chickens, 25 per cent; oats, 18 per cent; potatoes, 51 per cent; and oranges, 60 per cent.

Silver Bullets

A plan to use "silver bullets," the ancient and still most effective weapon in China, is being carefully studied by U. S. strategists.

One specific proposal offers hard cash and a guarantee of food to Chinese who surrender to United Nations forces in Korea. A soldier with rifle or pistol would get $10 plus six months food rations. A soldier surrendering a mortar would get one ounce of gold, and so on up to five gold bars (10 ounces) to be given for the surrendering of a plane or a unit commander surrendering with his troops.

Intelligence reports from the front reveal that only a fraction of the Chinese troops fighting in Korea are hard-bitten Communists not susceptible to silver bullets.

The Wave

WASHINGTON

THIS squalid city currently resembles nothing so much as a drunken beach picnic, continuing in full course, its members reveling, quarreling, gormandizing and making fools of themselves, long after the hurricane warning has been given.

By all the signs, the all-out Chinese offensive in Korea is only the first instalment of what is in store for us. The latest intelligence confirms the impression that the Kremlin means to round out its triumph in Asia by a Chinese attack on Indo-China, timed to follow immediately upon the effort in Korea and thus to intensify almost incalculably the political impact of Korean defeat.

During the past two weeks, the French have been forced to close their consulates at Kunming and Canton. These are the only points in South China where the French might have observed Chinese Communist preparations for an attack across the Indo-Chinese border.

Simultaneously, a Soviet air mission has turned up on the island of Hainan, off the South China coast. Russian jet aircraft, presumably transferred to the Chinese Air Force, have also appeared on the Hainan Island airfields. These airfields command northern Indo-China. The Russian jets should be more than a match for the few score B-26 bombers and the hundred odd propeller-driven fighters which this country has given the French for Indo-China's defense.

Propaganda Changed

Finally and most significantly, there has been a recent marked change in the propaganda line of the Viet Minh movement of Ho Chiminh, the Kremlin's native instrument in Indo-China. Until recently, Ho Chi-minh's following was in majority more nationalist and anti-French than party-line Communist. The Indo-Chinese hate their Chinese neighbors quite as much as they do the French colonialists. Hence Ho Chi-minh's propaganda for a long time was pointedly silent about Chinese "liberation" of his country.

Now three things have happened. The Ho Chi-minh propaganda has suddenly begun to stress the glorious advantages to Indo-China of being "liberated" by the Chinese. A number of the more nationally-minded Ho Chi-minh followers have defected. And other non-Communist nationalists with influence in the movement are being purged, according to recent reports.

All this of course implies that Ho Chi-minh has either agreed or submitted to a plan of Chinese invasion. The date when the Chinese will move is generally set within this month, and by many people before Jan. 15.

On the French side, the new commander, Gen De Lattre de Tassigny has at last arrived in Indo-China. He disposes of perhaps 150,000 French, African and Foreign Legion troops, plus perhaps some thousands of loyal native Indo-Chinese. But these French forces face the Chinese "liberation army" of 250,000, now at Nanning just above the border; plus Ho Chi-minh's own organized force of about 70,000; plus the guerrillas whom Ho Chi-minh is able to raise up in many areas.

Will Affect All Asia

Confirmation has been received that the Chinese army at Nanning, which also has some face-saving Indo-Chinese elements, is under the direction of a Sino-Soviet staff. News has reached Washington of tanks and other heavy equipment being gathered for the attack. The roads and railroads leading into Indo-China are also reported ready.

In short, the task of Gen. De Lattre de Tassigny would appear well-nigh hopeless. Meanwhile, the probablitiy is greater than ever that a successful Chinese invasion of Indo-China will affect the rest of Asia like a ten-strike in bowling. In neighboring Siam, the pro-American administration of Premier Phibun Songgram has just dug itself in to withstan normal storms. But with the Chinese Communists across the border, an early

U. S. Forces Handicapped By Present War Policies

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 — The United States is determined to keep the war in Korea from spreading beyond the borders of that unfortunate country. That's the present policy and yet it imposes on our forces a handicap the far-reaching nature of which the American people scarcely realize.

Munitions of war are going from Great Britain and other members of the United Nations to Red China. There is no economic boycott of war materials flowing to the aggressor.

Airplanes built and equipped by Russia are being sent into Korea to fight against the UN forces.

Despite the knowledge that Russia is aiding in the military fight against the United Nations, there is no denunciation by the UN of Soviet Russia's part in killing the young men who are fighting under the UN flag.

Despite the fact that Red China is engaged in an organized war against UN forces, Great Britain still maintains diplomatic relations with Red China and objects to restrictions on her trade with Communists in the Far East.

Encouraging Aggressors

Despite the fact that resistance to aggression was ordered by the UN in the resolution of June 26 last, no resolution has been adopted by the UN condemning all the nations which have been aiding the aggressors.

What is even more depressing is that member governments of the UN are encouraging the aggressor countries by giving an impression of divided counsels in the UN. Instead of presenting a united front against the aggressors, there are various countries which behind the scenes are violating the spirit of the UN's own resolution by trying to obtain admission of Red China to the Security Council of the UN.

The UN forces in Korea are engaged in a life-and-death struggle. Most of the troops are American but the faithlessness being shown inside the UN is a blow to all the UN forces. Every day that this situation continues, public opinion in the United States will keep on wondering whether the recent speech of John Foster Dulles, urging Americans not to forsake their allies in Europe, might not better have urged certain governments allied with us in the UN not to forsake us.

The military situation in Korea will remain desperate but not hopeless. For many weeks, perhaps months, the struggle will go on as brave men withstand superior numbers. There will be retreats and setbacks but ground will be given only after severe punishment has been inflicted on the enemy.

The battle would be won without question if the UN forces could bombard the supply depots and air bases of the North Koreans in Red China. For every bit of outside aid is coming from across the border in Manchuria, which, according to UN instructions, the American Air Forces are forbidden to attack even in retaliation.

History records no such handicap in fighting a major war of the past, and the responsibility for the handicap must be placed squarely on the UN member governments which voted to resist aggression and then refused to allow the aggressors to be attacked at their bases of supply.

Bluffed Into Inaction

The usual argument against authorizing UN airmen to bomb bases in Manchuria is that this might start World War III. This means, in effect, that the UN is being bluffed into inaction by fear. It means that the UN, for all practical purposes, is acknowledging its inability to enforce the peace of the world against aggression.

But is military force the only means? Surely the hesitation to extend the war by bombardment of Manchurian bases should not tie the tongues of the spokesmen of the free world in the UN. There have been times in world history when courageous statesmen have not feared to use moral force. Plainly the continued presence of Russia in the UN affords no advantage to the family of nations. Likewise, the continuance of diplomatic relations with Moscow itself does not reflect credit on free governments.

Thus, the American ambassador to Russia reported recently that he is a virtual prisoner and cannot move about freely in Moscow. If that's all the value that our communication through diplomatic channels affords today, the same opportunity of communication is available through wireless and the mails. It would seem that to maintain diplomatic relations with barbaric governments is to condone their evil and to make a mockery of an organization which uses the name "united" in its formal title.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Blame Is Fixed

ON JULY 8, an estimated 116,000 regular Chinese Communist troops were stationed in Manchuria. By August 8, this number had been increased to 217,000; by August 30, to 246,000. After September 21, Lin Piao's Army, arriving from South China, and with other contingents, brought the Chinese Communist troops in Manchuria up to 850,000.

These dates are important because, if you will recall, throughout this period the American people were led to believe that somehow we were going to have a deal with Mao Tze-Tung, that British diplomacy would help win Mao away from Russia, and all that was needed was to give Soviet China a seat in the United Nations. Meanwhile they were building up this huge force to fight us.

What made it easy for the Chinese Communists was the immobilization of the Nationalists, their acceding to President Truman's instruction for Chiang Kai-Shek to refrain from any military action against Soviet China. This assurance made it possible for Lin Piao's army to return to Manchuria. Lin Piao's army was reinforced by other Chinese Communist troops not usually associated with him.

When the build-up reached 10 corps of three divisions each, namely the 55th, 57th, 41st, 46th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 42nd 56th and 45th along the Yalu with other unidentified divisions along the Tumen, the situation became serious. The potential for a large invasion was present.

The United Nations forces were facing a new force with which only the highest government levels could have contact. When these 30 divisions and the waves of divisions behind them began to move like a horde across the Yalu into Korea, MacArthur, as a military commander, was forced, by his instructions, to stand still until they were out of Manchuria. He could use no weapons at his disposal to keep them on the other side of the Yalu. He could only fight them after they had crossed from Manchuria into Korea. Never had a commander faced a more harassing situation.

From all this the conclusion is inevitable that the Chinese Communists had not had enough troops in Manchuria in June and July to intervene in the Korean situation; that they were able to build up their forces because they were assured by the United States, directly, indirectly or by inference, that Nationalist China would remain immobilized by the U. S. 7th Fleet and by an agreement between Chiang Kai-Shek and President Truman.

Once Soviet China was convinced that this would hold, it moved Lin Piao's army from South China to Manchuria, added other units to it, thus producing an overwhelming force against General MacArthur.

Throughout this period, Chiang Kai-Shek offered his services either for participation in Korea or for guerrilla warfare. This, Washington rejected on the ground that it would bring Soviet China into the war. After Soviet China took over the war, the United States continued to reject Chiang's services, although his participation would have forced Soviet China to withdraw troops from Manchuria for service in South China.

It is almost impossible to explain this policy by political or historical logic. It makes no sense. Yet that is precisely what our policy is and has been up to this moment.

And that is what General MacArthur has been up against. As a commander in the field, he has not been permitted to avail himself of intelligence, of reconnaissance by air, of the use of a willing ally whose nearly a million troops are ready for action, having been fighting Chinese Communists since 1927.

In fact, this story adds up to our weakening our own forces while strengthening the enemy and doing it all in diplomatic maneuvers at the highest levels, in direct opposition to General Douglas MacArthur's judgment on the spot. It would not be unwise for a committee of the Senate to investigate this Korean war that the people may know the facts.

The time has come for Americans to know the facts. As the "Hongkong Standard" said:

"His critics who have for years indulged in the fond dream of achieving peace at the expense of others have no right to complain. If any one has the right to complain, it is General MacArthur. He did not bring on the war; only he has to fight it — often with his hands tied."

The Will For Freedom

There is a rule in business which could be turned to good purpose in Washington's dealings with foreign powers. In any transaction of importance contracting parties declare they are ready, willing and able to live up to their obligations.

This is more than a declaration of good intent, which is vital, but also an affirmation by those who are parties to the transaction that they are not only ready and willing, but also able, to carry out its specifications.

Preliminary to an ambitious program to rearm Western Europe, it is widely demanded that the nations involved should first make a declaration of their intentions. There is considerable doubt that they can be fully relied upon to offer stiff resistance to the spread of communism.

Before the United States spends more billions in Europe, there should be a guarantee European nations are willing to help themselves to the fullest extent possible.

The U. S. can provide armament and troops, but unless there is complete cooperation by the spirits of determined peoples, all that would come of it would be another Korea. Europeans must have the will for freedom if they are to escape the menace of communism.

Ruined By Relief

Canadian Eskimos are reported to be enjoying one of the most prosperous winter seasons in recent years. From Ottawa comes word that the caribou are on the move, and the government relief checks arrive on schedule every month.

Nanook of the North is not the man he used to be before the Canadian government put him on relief and started giving him up to $8 a month for every child under 16 years of age. Those with large families are enjoying such prosperity there no longer is need to depend upon their own initiative and effort, as they did before relief came.

Sometimes in years past the caribou, the principal source of Eskimo diet, failed to appear and things were tough for Nanook. But the caribou are to be found in all sections of the country, relief checks are coming through, and it looks like a fat winter for the Eskimos.

In many respects the relief program has been harmful to these simple people. Many are no longer content with such simple food as caribou meat and whale blubber, but have shown a taste for the white man's diet. Crime is on the increase where formerly it was practically unknown. Drinking has become a serious problem for the authorities.

Fell Into Trap

Many Allied military leaders were fearful of trouble with Russia as long ago as World War II, when the Russians refused to permit American military observers to go to the Russian front and interned U. S. fliers who landed on Russian soil after bombing Japan. Washington at the time was making every effort to strengthen the Soviet government economically as well as militarily.

It is recalled that General Patton, soon after the fall of Berlin, in an address to his troops, told the men to banish the idea World War II had been a war to end war. He told the troops they would be fighting Russia within 10 years.

General Patton was taken to task by leftwingers in and out of Washington for his utterances, and General Eisenhower removed him from command of his Third Army. Real Americans sided with Patton, but they had little influence in Washington at the time.

In recent months, because of the turn of events in the Far East, there has been growing criticism of Eisenhower's action in permitting Russia to have the honor of entering Berlin first, and of Washington's long record of kotowing to the Stalin crowd, which started with recognition of the Moscow regime by Roosevelt in 1933.

The Old Army Game

Harassed taxpayers will applaud the Senate "watchdog" committee when it deplores the fact that the Army has bought butter in the open market at the same time that the government was paying storage on a butter hoard and losing money on spoilage. Actually, however, it is not the Defense Department or the Commodity Credit Corporation that is responsible for this wanton waste of the taxpayers' money.

The blame lies entirely with Congress which, at the behest of the administration, passed the laws which require the CCC to buy butter when that commodity falls below the so-called "support price." And the law also provides that the CCC cannot sell the butter to the Army or anybody else unless it receives five per cent more than the support price in addition to reasonable handling charges.

The cure for all this foolishness? The very least that should be done is to pass a law permitting one government agency to sell anything to another government agency at cost.

As it is, everybody's hands are tied except those of the taxpayer. He is privileged to put them in his pocket and dig up the required money. If ever there was an old army game this is it.

German Attitude

In Germany the average man approaches the subject of the remilitarization of his country with the question, "What have I got to fight for?" He says the Americans, British and French should do the fighting. A German magazine poll shows 82.6 per cent against compulsory military service.

There are indications that most Frenchmen and Britons feel Americans should do the fighting. Probably if they fall under the heel of Russia, they will not think this aloofness was such a good idea.

Germans frequently express the fallacious thought that it is doubtful whether Moscow can stir up the Russian people to attack the West if the West takes no aggressive action. It will not be necessary to stir up the Russian people. They are slaves, and as such will take orders.

Harelip Can Be Corrected

THE BIRTH of a malformed youngster is a hard cross to bear. The parents are upset emotionally and may feel so conscience stricken for months thereafter, that they refuse to mingle with society. Most of this reaction can be avoided by learning all that is known about the particular abnormality.

Medical science has made rapid strides in the correction of many defects that are present at birth. Cleft palate and harelip provide excellent examples of what can be done. The transformation created by surgical repair of this unsightly imperfection is little short of miraculous. Several operations are needed and the experience is almost as trying for the parents as for the child.

As soon as the father and mother are aware of the condition of their infant they are likely to ask the age old questions: "Is it inherited? Have we done something to cause it?" Hereidity plays a role in about 40 per cent of all cases. This possibility exists only when there is a family history of the disturbance. Otherwise, nature probably can be blamed; something happened prior to birth in the period in which the upper jaw was forming. The normal process was delayed so that the roof of the mouth and the upper lip failed to close. German measles and other virus infections cause related defects of the eyes, ears, and heart and it is possible that a somewhat similar infection is a factor in harelip and cleft palate. In these cases the ancestors are not to blame and the abnormality cannot be passed along to succeeding generations.

Occasionally we are asked point plank by one who has a defect of this nature whether or not his children will be affected in like manner. If he knows his family tree and there is no hereditary tendency, the chances are good that the flaw will not appear in later generations. On the other hand, if the family history is not clear, the answer of necessity, must be vague. In the old days many youngsters with this defect failed to survive and after they died the parents kept the secret.

"When are you going to operate?" is another question asked by parents. This is an individual problem but most surgeons recommend that the lip be repaired in the first few months of life, when the infant is gaining weight and is in good condition to undergo the procedure. The opening through the hard and soft palates is left alone for months or even years, to permit growth of these parts. Meanwhile, the child has difficulty in nursing because he cannot suck and his nourishment is expelled through the nose and does not reach the stomach. A device is available that can be placed over the roof to supply an artificial ceiling. This will permit food to go to its destination.

The results of surgery often are unbelievable. They are rarely appreciated unless we look at before-and-after pictures. But the improvement in appearance is only part of the job. Many of these children must be taught to speak; and re-alignment of the teeth often is necessary. The psychological aspects must be watched. It is apparent that the problem of the cleft palate is complicated and requires the services of many specialists. To encourage this teamwork, physicians are starting rehabilitation clinics where all of these services are available.

No. After all, sugar is only one form of carbohydrate which is an essential food element. In addition, any time you eat sweet food you are obtaining a certain amount of sugar.

Mrs. E. writes: I'm giving my youngster aureomycin under doctor's orders but it makes her sick to her stomach. Is there any way to prevent this?

Truman Letter-Writing May Pay Unexpected Dividends; Congress To Consider Draft Law Changes; Price Czars Stymied By Under-Parity Prices

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the "man of letters" in the White House is going to make a lot of money for the recipients of those letters.

Out in Denver, Dr. Neal Bishop, who suggested to Mr. Truman that John L. Lewis be appointed ambassador to Russia, is going to auction off his Trumanesque reply for the benefit of the Denver Community Chest.

The reply, which stated that he, Truman, would not even appoint John L. as dogcatcher, should bring a large amount of money—though Bishop has generously given the letter to the Community Chest and they will make the profit.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Paul Hume, the Washington Post music critic, has turned down various offers for his letter regarding Margaret Truman's singing. One offer is reputed in five figures.

If Mr. Hume ever does decide to sell this coveted letter, it can make him much more dough than he realizes, for he will only have to pay a capital gains tax of 25 per cent on the sale. In other words, the Truman letter is not earned income, but a special personal gift from the President of the United States. A gift is not taxable until it is sold, and as long as Mr. Hume keeps the letter more than six months, his tax will be only 25 per cent.

If Treasury agents argue about this, Mr. Hume can tell them quite truthfully that his letter is something which happens only once in a lifetime, that it was an unsolicited gift from the President, and that if any gift tax is paid it should come out of Harry Truman's pocket, not his.

Other people who got indignant letters from the President can also cash in on this nice low-bracket tax. In brief, the President has been awfully kind to Mr. Hume, to Bernie Baruch, to Dr. Bishop, to Jimmie Byrnes and others. The only one he has slighted is me. Because when he hurled the "servant of brotherhood" charge in my direction, he did it orally. He did not write a letter.

Someday, if I can get up nerve enough, I am going to ask Mr. Truman to put it in writing, so I can have something either to hand down to my children or else sell under a capital gains tax. Having been the first to arouse public Presidential ire, I think the President owes it to me to put it in writing.

NOTE—Anyone who wants to bid on the Truman letter blackballing John L. Lewis as dogcatcher can wire the Denver Press Club.

New Order of Draft

Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey is recommending the following changes in the draft law to the new session of Congress:

1. That the draft age be lowered from 19 to 18 years, with the maximum age limit kept at 25.

2. That deferment of enlistees in the Organized Reserves and the National Guard be stopped.

3. That draft eligibles between 18 and 25 be taken in the following order: first, all unmarried college students except the top third in their classes; second married nonvets without children; third, unmarried veterans; last, nonvets with children.

Increased Living Cost

One thing that has stumped price czars Alan Valentine and Mike DiSalle is that they cannot impose over-all price controls on certain farm products until the cost of living goes up even more.

This is because the farm bloc in Congress inserted a provision in the price control bill whereby certain farm prices cannot be controlled at a point under parity or under the price of last May and June.

Because of this, the Agriculture Department has advised the big bakers and millers that they face no early price control. Bread will have to increase one or two cents a loaf to permit price controls, Ralph Twigg, the department's production and marketing boss, privately informed bakers and millers last week.

The Agriculture Department has also informed Economic Stabilizer Valentine that over-all controls on farm products would raise the nation's food bill from five to ten per cent because of the number of commodities now below parity prices.

Meat Price Ceilings

Of the foods that will be controlled, beef, lamb and veal top the list. All are above parity. Price Administrator DiSalle will have a meeting with Chicago meat-packers and Western cattlemen this month and expects to put a price ceiling on meat in February. It will take at least that time for him to get organized.

Next to meat, products most likely to be controlled include cotton, raisins, rice, flue-cured tobacco, and possibly cottonseed oil, all of which are above parity. Valentine and DiSalle are hesitant about controlling wool, also above parity, for fear of discouraging domestic production of this critically short war essential.

Publicly, the Agriculture Department has taken an aloof position on farm price ceilings, but privately it has submitted the following list of farm products for possible control:

Wool, about 29 per cent above parity; cotton, 27 per cent above; sheep, 10 per cent above; beef cattle, 5 per cent above; rice 2 per cent above; tobacco, 2 per cent above; and lamb, 1 per cent above.

The list also shows these items to be below parity: Hogs, 10 per cent; peanuts, 12 per cent; milk for processing, 12 per cent; soy beans, 12 per cent; butter fat, 13 per cent; eggs, 14 per cent; wheat, 15 per cent; edible dry beans, 16 per cent; corn, 18 per cent; chickens, 25 per cent; oats, 18 per cent; potatoes, 51 per cent; and oranges, 60 per cent.

Silver Bullets

A plan to use "silver bullets," the ancient and still most effective weapon in China, is being carefully studied by U. S. strategists.

One specific proposal offers hard cash and a guarantee of food to Chinese who surrender to United Nations forces in Korea. A soldier with rifle or pistol would get $10 plus six months food rations. A soldier surrendering a mortar would get one ounce of gold, and so on up to five gold bars (10 ounces) to be given for the surrendering of a plane or a unit commander surrendering with his troops.

Intelligence reports from the front reveal that only a fraction of the Chinese troops fighting in Korea are hard-bitten Communists not susceptible to silver bullets.

Encouraging Aggressors

Despite the fact that resistance to aggression was ordered by the UN in the resolution of June 26 last, no resolution has been adopted by the UN condemning all the nations which have been aiding the aggressors.

What is even more depressing is that member governments of the UN are encouraging the aggressor countries by giving an impression of divided counsels in the UN. Instead of presenting a united front against the aggressors, there are various countries which behind the scenes are violating the spirit of the UN's own resolution by trying to obtain admission of Red China to the Security Council of the UN.

The UN forces in Korea are engaged in a life-and-death struggle. Most of the troops are American but the faithlessness being shown inside the UN is a blow to all the UN forces. Every day that this situation continues, public opinion in the United States will keep on wondering whether the recent speech of John Foster Dulles, urging Americans not to forsake their allies in Europe, might not better have urged certain governments allied with us in the UN not to forsake us.

The military situation in Korea will remain desperate but not hopeless. For many weeks, perhaps months, the struggle will go on as brave men withstand superior numbers. There will be retreats and setbacks but ground will be given only after severe punishment has been inflicted on the enemy.

The battle would be won without question if the UN forces could bombard the supply depots and air bases of the North Koreans in Red China. For every bit of outside aid is coming from across the border in Manchuria, which, according to UN instructions, the American Air Forces are forbidden to attack even in retaliation.

History records no such handicap in fighting a major war of the past, and the responsibility for the handicap must be placed squarely on the UN member governments which voted to resist aggression and then refused to allow the aggressors to be attacked at their bases of supply.

Bluffed Into Inaction

The usual argument against authorizing UN airmen to bomb bases in Manchuria is that this might start World War III. This means, in effect, that the UN is being bluffed into inaction by fear. It means that the UN, for all practical purposes, is acknowledging its inability to enforce the peace of the world against aggression.

But is military force the only means? Surely the hesitation to extend the war by bombardment of Manchurian bases should not tie the tongues of the spokesmen of the free world in the UN. There have been times in world history when courageous statesmen have not feared to use moral force. Plainly the continued presence of Russia in the UN affords no advantage to the family of nations. Likewise, the continuance of diplomatic relations with Moscow itself does not reflect credit on free governments.

Thus, the American ambassador to Russia reported recently that he is a virtual prisoner and cannot move about freely in Moscow. If that's all the value that our communication through diplomatic channels affords today, the same opportunity of communication is available through wireless and the mails. It would seem that to maintain diplomatic relations with barbaric governments is to condone their evil and to make a mockery of an organization which uses the name "united" in its formal title.

The Blame Is Fixed

ON JULY 8, an estimated 116,000 regular Chinese Communist troops were stationed in Manchuria. By August 8, this number had been increased to 217,000; by August 30, to 246,000. After September 21, Lin Piao's Army, arriving from South China, and with other contingents, brought the Chinese Communist troops in Manchuria up to 850,000.

These dates are important because, if you will recall, throughout this period the American people were led to believe that somehow we were going to have a deal with Mao Tze-Tung, that British diplomacy would help win Mao away from Russia, and all that was needed was to give Soviet China a seat in the United Nations. Meanwhile they were building up this huge force to fight us.

What made it easy for the Chinese Communists was the immobilization of the Nationalists, their acceding to President Truman's instruction for Chiang Kai-Shek to refrain from any military action against Soviet China. This assurance made it possible for Lin Piao's army to return to Manchuria. Lin Piao's army was reinforced by other Chinese Communist troops not usually associated with him.

When the build-up reached 10 corps of three divisions each, namely the 55th, 57th, 41st, 46th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 42nd 56th and 45th along the Yalu with other unidentified divisions along the Tumen, the situation became serious. The potential for a large invasion was present.

The United Nations forces were facing a new force with which only the highest government levels could have contact. When these 30 divisions and the waves of divisions behind them began to move like a horde across the Yalu into Korea, MacArthur, as a military commander, was forced, by his instructions, to stand still until they were out of Manchuria. He could use no weapons at his disposal to keep them on the other side of the Yalu. He could only fight them after they had crossed from Manchuria into Korea. Never had a commander faced a more harassing situation.

From all this the conclusion is inevitable that the Chinese Communists had not had enough troops in Manchuria in June and July to intervene in the Korean situation; that they were able to build up their forces because they were assured by the United States, directly, indirectly or by inference, that Nationalist China would remain immobilized by the U. S. 7th Fleet and by an agreement between Chiang Kai-Shek and President Truman.

Once Soviet China was convinced that this would hold, it moved Lin Piao's army from South China to Manchuria, added other units to it, thus producing an overwheming force against General MacArthur.

Throughout this period, Chiang Kai-Shek offered his services either for participation in Korea or for guerrilla warfare. This, Washington rejected on the ground that it would bring Soviet China into the war. After Soviet China took over the war, the United States continued to reject Chiang's services, although his participation would have forced Soviet China to withdraw troops from Manchuria for service in South China.

It is almost impossible to explain this policy by political or historical logic. It makes no sense. Yet that is precisely what our policy is and has been up to this moment.

And that is what General MacArthur has been up against. As a commander in the field, he has not been permitted to avail himself of intelligence, of reconnaissance by air, of the use of a willing ally whose nearly a million troops are ready for action, having been fighting Chinese Communists since 1927.

In fact, this story adds up to our weakening our own forces while strengthening the enemy and doing it all in diplomatic maneuvers at the highest levels, in direct opposition to General Douglas MacArthur's judgment on the spot. It would not be unwise for a committee of the Senate to investigate this Korean war that the people may know the facts.

The time has come for Americans to know the facts. As the "Hongkong Standard" said:

"His critics who have for years indulged in the fond dream of achieving peace at the expense of others have no right to complain. If any one has the right to complain, it is General MacArthur. He did not bring on the war; only he has to fight it — often with his hands tied."

The Wave

WASHINGTON

THIS squalid city currently resembles nothing so much as a drunken beach picnic, continuing in full course, its members reveling, quarreling, gormandizing and making fools of themselves, long after the hurricane warning has been given.

By all the signs, the all-out Chinese offensive in Korea is only the first instalment of what is in store for us. The latest intelligence confirms the impression that the Kremlin means to round out its triumph in Asia by a Chinese attack on Indo-China, timed to follow immediately upon the effort in Korea and thus to intensify almost incalculably the political impact of Korean defeat.

During the past two weeks, the French have been forced to close their consulates at Kunming and Canton. These are the only points in South China where the French might have observed Chinese Communist preparations for an attack across the Indo-Chinese border.

Simultaneously, a Soviet air mission has turned up on the island of Hainan, off the South China coast. Russian jet aircraft, presumably transferred to the Chinese Air Force, have also appeared on the Hainan Island airfields. These airfields command northern Indo-China. The Russian jets should be more than a match for the few score B-26 bombers and the hundred odd propeller-driven fighters which this country has given the French for Indo-China's defense.

Propaganda Changed

Finally and most significantly, there has been a recent marked change in the propaganda line of the Viet Minh movement of Ho Chiminh, the Kremlin's native instrument in Indo-China. Until recently, Ho Chi-minh's following was in majority more nationalist and anti-French than party-line Communist. The Indo-Chinese hate their Chinese neighbors quite as much as they do the French colonialists. Hence Ho Chi-minh's propaganda for a long time was pointedly silent about Chinese "liberation" of his country.

Now three things have happened. The Ho Chi-minh propaganda has suddenly begun to stress the glorious advantages to Indo-China of being "liberated" by the Chinese. A number of the more nationally-minded Ho Chi-minh followers have defected. And other non-Communist nationalists with influence in the movement are being purged, according to recent reports.

All this of course implies that Ho Chi-minh has either agreed or submitted to a plan of Chinese invasion. The date when the Chinese will move is generally set within this month, and by many people before Jan. 15.

On the French side, the new commander, Gen De Lattre de Tassigny has at last arrived in Indo-China. He disposes of perhaps 150,000 French, African and Foreign Legion troops, plus perhaps some thousands of loyal native Indo-Chinese. But these French forces face the Chinese "liberation army" of 250,000, now at Nanning just above the border; plus Ho Chi-minh's own organized force of about 70,000; plus the guerrillas whom Ho Chi-minh is able to raise up in many areas.

Will Affect All Asia

Confirmation has been received that the Chinese army at Nanning, which also has some face-saving Indo-Chinese elements, is under the direction of a Sino-Soviet staff. News has reached Washington of tanks and other heavy equipment being gathered for the attack. The roads and railroads leading into Indo-China are also reported ready.

In short, the task of Gen. De Lattre de Tassigny would appear well-nigh hopeless. Meanwhile, the probablitiy is greater than ever that a successful Chinese invasion of Indo-China will affect the rest of Asia like a ten-strike in bowling. In neighboring Siam, the pro-American administration of Premier Phibun Songgram has just dug itself in to withstan normal storms. But with the Chinese Communists across the border, an early

Legion Plans Meeting Sunday On Child Welfare

An important meeting of Mountain District, American Legion, has been called Sunday at 2 p. m. in the home of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 here by Russell C. Paupe, Mountain District vice commander.

Paupe said the session will be for district executive committeemen, post commanders, auxiliary unit presidents and the heads of the 40 & 8 and 8 & 40, in addition to child welfare chairmen, junior baseball chairmen and membership chairmen.

Attending will be the Maryland Department child welfare commission comprised of Martin Iverson, Bethesda, chairman; Dr. Jerome S. Cullen, Baltimore, and Samuel A. Graham, Cumberland.

The officers of the new Mountain District Child Welfare Coordinated Committee will be chosen, Paupe reported.

This group is being set up to dispense the child welfare program on a district-wide basis, according to Paul C. Weisenmiller, this city, district Legion child welfare chairman.

Instead of pursuing this program from the individual organization standpoint, the department believes more can be accomplished on a district level.

Participating in the district child welfare coordinated groups are two members from each of the 14 Legion Posts, 13 Legion auxiliary units, and 40 & 8 and 8 & 40 units.

In preparation for the district's junior American Legion baseball season this spring, Paupe said a district baseball chairman will be named.

He urged that each post participating in the league should have as representatives the post commanders, baseball managers and chairmen.

Also to attend will be Benjamin Wolfson, of Baltimore, department membership chairman. He will outline the 1951 program in the state for recruiting additional members.

Discarded Yule Trees To Be Collected

Discarded Christmas trees will be collected here Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights, January 10, 11, and 12.

Emmett A. Dougherty, city garbage contractor, set collections for next week and urged that residents place garbage and trees on curbs separately.

Two different collections will be made each night, one for trees and one for garbage.

"Residents should not place trees on top of garbage cans," Dougherty said.

There are some 700,000 beds in mental hospitals in the United States—not nearly enough.

SIDEGLANCES at Celebrities: Vagrant memory of Lt. Gen. Matt Ridgway . . . On a short trip to Korea last August the iron-faced, straight-backed General paced up and down the aisle of Gen. MacArthur's plane in his paratrooper's boots. He couldn't wait to get there.

Other generals, some of them of equal rank, lounged easily in the seats of the plane and chatted about things ranging from their kids to their golf scores. Ridgway either sat alone, going over maps, or strode restlessly, or moved up to the cockpit to talk to Lt. Col. Tony Story, MacArthur's pilot.

There was some hesitation on the part of the group to pick up and strap on the .45's provided for them before the landing. But that didn't go for Ridgway. He was the first to arm himself, and one Air Force general, who had said he didn't care for a gun, reconsidered at the sight of the stern Ridgway, shrugged, and said, "Well, I guess I'd look pretty silly without it, if I needed it."

Ridgway was first down the ladder at Taegu, to pump the hand of the man he was destined to succeed, Gen. Walton Walker. During the briefings that followed later at Walker's headquarters and Maj. Gen. Gay's First Cavalry Hq., at an abandoned racetrack, Ridgway asked most of the questions. And in a voice that was made for giving orders. It was at his insistence that the group bounced up to a battalion command post in a shed about a mile from the North Korean lines.

When Gen. Wu and his party left New York to return to Red China by way of Moscow, by an unfunny coincidence, airline attendants discovered that they had bought so many clothes and luxuries here that their overweight charges amounted to nearly $2,000.

Wu tossed two $1,000 bills on the counter, to take care of the bill, while airline attendants with brothers, relatives and friends fighting in Korea winced.

To date, no one has satisfactorily answered this question, "Who paid for Wu's abusive trip to New York?" The first report was that they came with dollars they had picked up in Hong Kong. But a spokesman at the Waldorf where the group ran up a bill slightly resembling the national deficit, said he "presumed" the U. N.—which means us, financially—would grab the tab.

If it is true that Marshal Georgi Zhukov is directing the Chinese Red armies in Korea, as reported, this may represent a "comeback" for the one-time Red army leader. Or another chance to regain his lost lustre.

Zhukov was broken to a comparatively minor command at the beginning of the cold war. The charge against him seems to have been that he got along fine with Gen. Ike Eisenhower, during that period that began at the Elbe. The honeymoon ended late in '45 when Zhukov, invited to fly to the U. S. for a visit, (he was offered Ike's C-54 and, as travelling companions, Maj. Gen. Lucius Clay and Lt. John Eisenhower) was ordered to leave Berlin and return to Moscow.

It was thought for some time that he had been liquidated.

Learn to dress as the models do, and you'll be sure to look smart and chic in all your clothes!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

EVERY day, I see proof walking a fashion-show runway that it's not so much what you wear, but the way that you wear it that counts. A good model, with her knowledge of how to wear clothes, can take even a poorly-designed dress and cut right through its dowdiness and give it an aura of smartness. In the midst of glamorous lames and minks, she can model a simple sports dress or a plain skirt and sweater and look so attractive as she glides down the runway that every woman in the audience resolves to own the outfit. That's really wearing clothes with a personal flare—and it's what every Powers Girl does!

Backstage

How? If you'd like to learn the secret, let Model Susan Hold lead you backstage for a lesson in model dressing.

"The lightning speed with which the models must dress is never allowed to interfere with the care given to each detail. Knowing how important the foundation garment is to the finished effect, a model may change hers with each costume if a different type of underscoring is required.

"The same is true of her stockings. She changes them for the purpose of ensembling costume colors, which in turn makes her legs look trim and inconspicuous.

"She also gives her slip much thought. It's adjusted so carefully that there can be no underlying ripple to disturb the smooth line of her dress. And you'll never catch her with a light slip under a dark dress — on the other way round. What can't be seen is as important to the poise of a well-dressed woman as what is apparent to all eyes.

"From underpinnings to the last earbob, everything is donned with a deftness and skill that must add up to perfection. The model makes certain that closings are safely secured, and seams, shoulders and neckline 'set' in the right place.

Model Ways

"Because her hair is groomed to mind her at all times, it takes only a half second to put on her hat, and gather up her accessories. Smoothing on her gloves on her way to the wings, automatically placing her bag at a slenderizing angle to her body (practice makes this second nature), she takes a last glance in the long mirror off stage and enters on cue.

"Whenever you see a woman who wears her clothes smartly," concludes Miss Hold, "you can be sure that she has dressed with the same kind of practiced care."

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

THE State of the Union message I have no advance information on . . . However, I am just breathless from an exclusive interview with Mr. Truman, who did tell me that what this country needs is "stronger leadership" . . . But my Mr. Truman's report to the nation is probably entirely different from what your Mr. Truman will say . . . My Mr. Truman is William Edward Truman Jr., a 30-year-old telephone employe, whose life is plagued by such bum gags as this:

AUSTINE

Children and grown-up children alike cannot resist calling and asking to talk to this other Mr. Truman of the Capital . . . Lately they've even been asking him to write them letters.

Claiming no relation to the family in the White House, he doesn't play the piano, have a singing daughter, or any children for that matter . . . Just lives in the suburbs at Temple Hills, Maryland, and thinks "we're on the brink of another world conflict."

Everybody was wild-guessing over the week end what the Truman would say . . . Galleries in both the Senate and House expected to be brimming to the rails for the opening of the new Congress yesterday . . . And the Senate still convened with only one lady in its midst —Margaret Chase Smith . . . Maybe last week was an off week—between two Congresses—between two holidays—and between two years . . . But the city began gaining momentum Saturday morning before New Year's . . . Trunks, suitcases, furniture and families of new senators arriving . . . And the new fellows themselves snooping around to look things over.

The 14 new members of the Senate hailing from everywhere Salt Lake City and Pekin, Ill., to Custis, S. D., and Fayette, Idaho . . . Among them, four governors fresh from executive mansions, six former representatives already familiar with the workings of Congress (like George H. "Handsome" Smathers of Florida, and California's piano-playing Richard Nixon. Incidentally, Nixon celebrates a birthday Jan. 9 . . . The new Senate now has two Butlers (Hugh of Nebraska and John of Maryland) . . .

Three Smiths . . . And Texas and Colorado each send a Johnson (Colorado's Senator Edwin, got his Happy Birthday cards on New Year's Day) . . . All the Thomases have gone . . . Oklahoma's Thomas opens a law office here . . . While Utah's Thomas expects to be a governor of the Mandate Islands in the South Pacific.

• — • — •

Some of the old senators down in Florida . . . Those kicked out are pecking up . . . Some spent their last hours as senators and congressmen consoling themselves at the many and festive New Year's cocktail parties, dinners and balls . . . Mrs. Harry Grant Meem, widow of the beloved bank president and an Old Guard social pillar, ladling her traditional egg nog and fruit cake Saturday afternoon . . . Guests burying noses in the delicious, fluffy drink . . . Coming up with whipped-creamy-Santa mustaches . . . After happy rounds the guests bundled into their mink coats, hopped into their limousines, snuggled under their lap robes and unpiled over at the Sulgrave club (awhile back the scene of the Pearson-McCarthy Battle Royal . . . But the club, like a dowager who has been tickled in an impertinent place, has gathered her skirts and with great dignity carries on as if nothing had happened) where attractive Mrs. William Thomas Mann was presenting her debutante daughter to society . . . The pretty pair more like sisters than mother and daughter.

• — • — •

Morton Downey and his bride, the former Princess Hohenloe, flying in for week end with Col. and Mrs. Tony Biddle . . Small Sunday luncheon in their honor.

• — • — •

Happiest man in town as the New Year chimed in: Jose Felix Lequerica (Felix means "Happy" in Latin and it certainly fits him now!" . . . Because he could drop the title of "Ambassador-at-Large" to become, as he put it, "Ambassador-at Last!" . . . After he was officially notified that relations would be cozy-wozy from now on between the U. S. and Spain, when asked for his visiting card at a cocktail party, he proudly struck out "At Large" and replaced it with "Designate."

At the Spanish Embassy business will go along exactly as before . . . And the big change in diplomatic relations represents no big change in the embassy offices or staff . . . The new Ambassador, has, however, big plans, for changes in his already palatial embassy . . . To have additional embassy . . . To have additional drawing room space he'll move the Embassy portico closed to 16th Street.

The huge ballroom at the Embassy will be decorated with tapestries from Madrid son to arrive . . . and changed into a great salon, competing only with the British in size.

The sleepy-looking, but quick thinging, bon vivant Spaniard who's weathered a difficult storm in the Capital can now start to relax and enpoy himself—invitations are inevitable!

From now on he needn't concentrate on entertaining, he can concentrate on being entertained . . . And believe me, that can be a lot of fun in Washington!

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Kenneth Rockwell, the critic, relays the story of the man who swallowed his glass eye and rushed to a stomach specialist. The latter peered down the unfortunate fellow's throat and exclaimed, "I've looked into a lot of stomachs in my day, but I must say this is the first one that ever looked back at me."

William Faulkner reports that one of the unreconstructed rebels in Oxford, Mississippi, wrote off the entire Northern victory in one sentence after a little possum hunt recently. "Shucks," deprecated this perspicacious gentleman, "if the South had had the atom bomb, we would have licked the damn Yanks in a matter of weeks."

A discussion of the merits of a new magazine reminded Editor Gordon Carroll of his secretary's estimate of a pretty new telephone operator: "At least she has an open mind. She's got a hole in her head."

How? If you'd like to learn the secret, let Model Susan Hold lead you backstage for a lesson in model dressing.

"The lightning speed with which the models must dress is never allowed to interfere with the care given to each detail. Knowing how important the foundation garment is to the finished effect, a model may change hers with each costume change if it's different type of undergarment is required.

Mr. Truman's message I have no advance information on with Mr. Truman, I am just breathless from an exclusive interview with Mr. Truman who did me the honor to say that what this country needs is "stronger leadership." But my interview with Mr. Truman will be probably entirely different from what your Mr. Truman will say . . . My Mr. Truman is William Edward Truman Jr., a 30-year-old telephone employe, whose life is plagued by such bum raps as this:

Children and grown-up children alike cannot resist calling and asking to talk to this other Mr. Truman at the Capital . . . Lately they've even been asking him to write them letters.

Claiming no relation to the family in the White House, he doesn't play the piano, have a singing daughter, or any children for that matter . . . Just lives in the suburbs at Temple Hills, Maryland, and thinks "we're on the brink of another world conflict."

Everybody was wild-guessing over the week end what the Truman would say . . . Galleries in both the Senate and House expected to be brimming to the rafts for the opening of the new Congress yesterday . . . And the Senate still convened with only one lady in its midst of the Mandate Islands in the South Pacific.

Try And Stop Me

Kenneth Rockwell, the critic, relays the story of the man who swallowed his glass eye and rushed to a stomach specialist. The latter peered down the unfortunate fellow's throat and exclaimed, "I've looked into a lot of stomachs in my day, but I must say this is the first one that ever looked back at me."

William Faulkner reports that one of the unreconstructed rebels in Oxford, Mississippi, wrote off the entire Northern victory in one sentence after a little possum hunt recently. "Sherman," deprecated this perspicuous gentleman, "if the South had had the atom bomb, we would have licked the damn Yanks in a matter of weeks."

A discussion of the merits of a new magazine reminded Editor Gordon Carroll of his secretary's estimate of a pretty new telephone operator: "At least she has an open head."

Professor Says Remington Was "Vigorous" Red

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—William W. Remington, former Commerce Department economist, was described by a college professor today as taking an "active and vigorous" part in Communist meetings in Knoxville, Tenn., in the late 1930's.

The witness was Howard A. Bridgman, assistant professor economics at Tufts College, Medford, Mass. He testified in the federal court trial of Remington, who is charged with perjury in denying he ever was a Communist Party member.

Bridgman said he himself joined the party in Knoxville in December, 1936, and withdrew in 1939. He said he was known in the party as Howard North.

The professor said the meetings were held in the Knoxville home of Betty Malcolm, also identified as the wife of Kenneth E. McConnell.

Bridgman pointed out Remington in the courtroom and said:

"He took an active and vigorous part in the meetings. I can picture him leaning forward with his hands out in front of him, gesturing as he spoke. I have a clear picture of that."

Bridgman said no Communist Party card was issued to him when he joined the party in 1936 but that one was sent to him in New York two years later by Ted Wellman, whom he described as the party's organizer in Tennessee.

The professor said the card, forwarded to him by way of Pittsfield, Mass., was accompanied by a letter saying the writer was enclosing Bridgman's "book."

The book, or card, as it was interchangeably called, was made out in the name of Howard North. The letter was read to the federal jury.

Remington's defense has emphasized that no government witness so far has testified of ever seeing a Communist Party card in Remington's name or possession.

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 3 (AP) — Two of the nation's top grid stars, Kentucky's All-America Bob Gain and Southern Methodist's Kyle Rote, were selected as captains for the Senior Bowl game here Saturday.

Gain, 230 pound tackle, will head the South team.

Missing Lieutenant Will Get Congressional Medal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) —The Congressional Medal of Honor awarded to First Lt. Frederick F. Henry, who is missing in action in Korea, will be presented to his wife by President Truman next Tuesday.

Henry, a native of Clinton, Okla., was last seen holding off Communist troops while his platoon withdrew near Amdong on Sept. 1. The medal will be given to Mrs. Lavon Henry of Salt Lake City in a White House ceremony.

The Army in announcing the plans today released a description of the action which won the medal—the country's highest award — for Henry. The description was by Sgt. Richard A. Siman of Philadelphia who was a member of the platoon.

"A bunch of North Koreans attacked our positions," Siman said. "Lt. Henry jumped out of the foxhole and started running down the line telling his men to stay in place and keep firing.

"He came back a few minutes later and I saw he was wounded in the shoulder. He seemed to be in great pain.

"We fought the enemy for a long time, and it seemed as if we were stopping them. Lt. Henry tried to call the battalion on the phone, but the line was out. He said he wasn't sure if the rest of the outfit was completely ready so we had to stay put.

"There were bullets and shells falling all around. Our ammunition was running low.

"Lt. Henry sent me out after the guns and ammunition of the wounded. When I came back he put them in the hole with him and told the men to start withdrawing and he would cover us.

"We started back and Lt. Henry stayed by himself. He seemed to be firing everything at once.

"I didn't see Lt. Henry after that."

Collins Backs Strader As New York Coach

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Ted Collins, owner of the New York football Yanks, said today "Red Strader is the best coach I know."

He gave the answer after being questioned regarding a published story that Strader would be let out and would be replaced by Clark Shaughnessy, one-time coach of the Los Angeles Rams, Pittsburgh Panthers and Stanford.

Collins, terming the story an outrage, said "right now Strader is on a scouting trip hunting talent for next season."

Stabilization Powers Turned Over To DiSalle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle today became the price stabilization director in fact as well as in name.

Until now the former Toledo mayor has been operating without legal powers—except to perform whatever functions might be prescribed by his superior, Alan Valentine, administrator of the Economic Stabilization Agency.

Today Valentine issued an order turning over all his price control functions — including "powers, duties, authority, responsibilities and discretion"—to DiSalle.

(R-Ohio) bluntly accused Mr. Truman of forcing Congress to mark time "for perhaps two weeks" in a time of urgency by delaying his annual "state of the union," economic and budget messages to Congress.

Taft, wearing a cutaway coat, protested when the new Senate Democratic leader, McFarland of Arizona, requested the chamber to follow its usual custom of conducting no business until the President has delivered his "state of the union" address.

Mr. Truman is scheduled to deliver the message in person to a joint session of Congress next Monday. His economic message will follow several days later, and his budget message is due on Jan. 15.

Butler Sworn In As U. S. Senator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — John Marshall Butler, Baltimore Republican was sworn in "without prejudice" today as senator from Maryland.

As Butler stood up to take the oath to the first elective office he has ever held, Senate Democratic Leader McFarland asked that it be administered without prejudice either to Butler's rights or those by the Senate.

McFarland's move was taken as an indication that the Democrats later might make a formal move to deny Butler a seat.

In a whirlwind campaign, he defeated veteran Democratic Sen. Millard Tydings. A Senate Campaign Investigating Committee has been studying charges that scurrilous and fraudulent campaign literature was used in his behalf.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee decided in advance not to protest the Democrats' move to swear in the new senator "without prejudice." Policy Chairman Taft (Ohio) said the Republicans are convinced that with Butler seated, it would take a two-thirds Senate majority to oust him.

Dozens Will Join In Helping Polio Victim On Unique Trip

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 3 (AP)—A frail 17-year-old boy who owes his life to a machine is going to put his life now in the hands of people, people who have guaranteed to protect him on a unique journey.

The boy is 17-year-old Donald Fassnacht, so stricken by infantile paralysis that he can live only in an iron lung.

Donald has been in an iron lung at Lancaster General Hospital since October. But his physician, Dr. Page M. Schildnecht, says Donald must be moved to a different hospital where he can receive long range treatment.

It is no easy matter for Donald to move. He is so severely afflicted that the doctors don't believe he can live more than a few minutes in a portable lung, the ordinary device used to transport polio sufferers.

In desperation, Dr. Schildnecht called on the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company for assistance. The PP&L people promptly took over and arranged to have Donald sent to Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital, 35 miles away, in a moving van and using a big iron lung powered by portable power plants.

Two portable power machines were located and the miniature power plants were installed on a trailer to follow the moving van.

But somebody suggested the little power plants might fail.

The PP&L people investigated the route and found a number of poles along the way up which linemen could climb to tap main lines for power.

Donald has been in an iron lung at Lancaster General Hospital since October. But his physician, Dr. Page M. Schildnecht, says Donald must be moved to a different hospital where he can receive long range treatment.

It is no easy matter for Donald to move. He is so severely afflicted that the doctors don't believe he can live more than a few minutes in a portable lung, the ordinary device used to transport polio sufferers.

In desperation, Dr. Schildnecht called on the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company for assistance. The PP&L people promptly took over and arranged to have Donald sent to Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital, 35 miles away, in a moving van and using a big iron lung powered by portable power plants.

Two portable power machines were located and the miniature power plants were installed on a trailer to follow the moving van.

But somebody suggested the little power plants might fail.

The PP&L people investigated the route and found a number of poles along the way up which linemen could climb to tap main lines for power.

Viennese Pay Tribute To Late President

VIENNA, Jan. 3 (AP) — Some 30,000 Viennese, many of them sobbing, filed past the bier of the late Austrian president, Dr. Karl Renner, today.

Surrounded by a sea of flowers, the President's casket lay in state in the capital's ancient City Hall.

Thousands of people waited outside the building throughout the day to join the slow-moving procession past the casket in which the President's body was visible through a glass cover.

The casket will remain in the City Hall until Friday, when Renner, who died Dec. 31, will be buried in the city cemetery.

Maryland's Old Treasury Building To Reopen As Colonial Showplace

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—(AP)—Maryland's old treasury building, restored to provincial elegance, will reopen today as a colonial showplace.

Gov. Lane will unlock the heavy oaken doors with a huge brass key at a ceremony for members of the Legislature and connoisseurs of things colonial.

Circa 1735, the brick cruciform building stands primly on the eastern slope of State House Circle in the heart of Annapolis. Circa, because no one is certain exactly how long she's stood there.

Dr. Morris L. Radoff, state archivist, concedes it was erected sometime between 1735 and 1737. Patrick Creagh was the contractor. In infancy it served as an office for the "commissioners for emitting bills of credit," provincial counterpart of a public loan office.

"Iron chest accounts," so called because the commissioners kept their records in iron chests, are preserved in the Maryland Hall of Records.

The tiny one-story building acquired its name for posterity in the last quarter of the 18th century. First it became treasury for the Western Shore of Maryland, later for the entire state.

Aging and tolerating modern improvements, it obliged subsequent generations as headquarters for the State Department of Education, the Anne Arundel County superintendent of schools, Annapolis and Anne Arundel Chamber of Commerce and, two years ago, the State Department of Information.

But its history still is obscure, Radoff says. For years historians took for granted that the building rose in 1694. On Maryland Day 20 years ago the Daughters of the American Revolution put up a bronze plaque proclaiming 1694 as the birth date.

Then a scholarly naval officer named Harry W. Hill lifted eyebrows in a book entitled "Maryland's Colonial Charm Portrayed In Silver." From his research, Hill contended the building was of 18th century vintage. Radoff and others came to agree with him.

Then a commander, Hill is now a vice admiral and superintendent of the Naval Academy, three blocks away.

Restoration began 17 months ago at the direction of Governor Lane. The old treasury building now breathes "the character of the original structure," says Architect Henry Powell Hopkins.

Exterior walls have shed their glossy paint of more recent derivation. Inside walls have been stripped of ornate green plaster and resurfaced in keeping with the original. One patch of the wall colonial travelers admired has been glassed in for contemporary scrutiny.

Two fireplaces, bare of mantles, have been restored to their 18th century simplicity. Tables and chairs are in period. Visitors will tread on brick floors similar to those paced by the provincial commissioners.

Former U. S. Sen. George L. Radcliffe will preside over a reopening ceremony in the State House at 4 p. m. He is president of the Maryland Historical Society.

Governor and Mrs. Lane will entertain senators, delegates and other guests at a reception in Government House after an inspection of the building.

Fairchild Will Help Kaiser Build Planes

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan.3 & — Fairchild Aircraft has announced it is cooperating with Henry J. Kaiser "at the request of the Air Force" to help the automobile builder get started building troop-carrying transport planes.

The Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. designed and has been the sole builder of the C119, an improved version of the C82 Packet.

The Kaiser-Frazer Company has been talking with the Air Force about building the mammoth carriers at its Willow Run plant, although no order has been announced. The Air Force, however, appears to be sympathetic to granting Kaiser contracts to build them.

British Commonwealth Ministers Meet To Spur Arms Programs

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Ministers of British commonwealth nations meet here today to spur their rearmament programs.

Informed officials said one of the aims of the parley is to merge individual and joint commonwealth defense plans into those of the Atlantic pact allies.

The strength of the commonwealth could well be decisive in any modern war. It has 540,000,000 people spread over more than one-quarter of the earth's surface. These nations produce much of the non-Communist world's strategic raw materials. They possess some of the world's best air, land and sea bases which control many main strategic air, land and sea routes.

Present will be Canada's Louis St. Laurent, Australia's R. G. Menzies, New Zealand's Sidney Holland, India's Jawaharlal Nehru, Pakistan's Liaquat Ali Khan, Ceylon's D. S. Senanayake, Southern Rhodesia's Sir Godfrey Huggins. Ailing Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan of South Africa is sending his minister of the interior, Dr. T. E. Donges, as his personal representative.

Although an agenda has still formally to be set, Britain at least wants to talk about:

The campaign in Korea.

Events in Southeast Asia, with special stress on Western efforts to stop the spread of Communism through the whole seething region.

A review of commonwealth efforts to achieve military preparedness with a parallel study of the effects of rearmament on the economies of each country.

The economic and financial situation.

Attlee is expected to give his fellow prime ministers a complete fill-in on his talks with President Truman. Those talks ranged over the whole field of foreign affairs, the Far Eastern situation, political differences between the United States and Britain, and the two countries' economic problems.

Australia, for instance, is still anxious to organize a Pacific defense pact linked to the Atlantic pact.

Menzies will also press Britain to work for a proper balance of military and economic priorities between the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. Australia and New Zealand fear that if the Atlantic pact nations put too much effort into building up the barricades in Europe, the Pacific and Indian Ocean territories will be exposed to sudden Red thrusts.

Eritrea Moslems Fear Selassie's Rule Under Ethiopia Federation

By OSCAR RAMPONE

ASMARA, Eritrea—(AP)—The half million Moslems of Eritrea look with some suspicion to future rule by Haile Selassie, a Coptic Christian emperor.

The United Nations General Assembly voted last month to federate this former Italian colony along the steamy Red Sea coast of East Africa with Selassie's kingdom of Ethiopia.

The federation plan—a compromise to demands for independence and demands for outright union with Ethipia—calls for a transition period not beyond September 15, 1953.

The Assembly thus disposed of the last of Mussolini's prewar African colonies. Libia, on the Mediterranean, is to become fully independent by January 1, 1952. Italian Somaliland, down the east coast of Africa from Eritrea, is under a 10-year Italian trusteeship pending its independence.

An Assembly-appointed commissioner will help the 1,000,000 Eritrea blacks get ready to run their own administration under a federation with Ethiopia.

The British have been governing Eritrea since British Tommies captured it in 1941. The British administration will continue until the turnover date.

Moslem, forming half of the Eritrean population have accepted but are not satisfied with the United Nations decision—made after a U. N. international commission made a country-wide tour to determine the people's wishes. The people disagreed—split down the line—with about half for independence and half for union with Ethiopia. The commission split, too. That's why the compromise.

The Moslems were the backbone of the independence group. Some wanted to unite part of Eritrea with the Anglo-Egyptian Suday, also a Moslem country.

The unionist group was composed chiefly of Coptic Christians. They were sympathetic to Ethiopian claims for unity.

The Moslem independence bloc argued that Eritrea, which is about the size of the State of Ohio, is far more civilized than Ethiopia because of 70 years of Italian rule.

Moslems fear that they will not enjoy the same rights as the Copts in an Eritrea dominated by Ethiopia. The Coptic religion is one of the oldest Christian sects. Its members are centered chiefly in Ethiopia and Egypt.

This difficult religious problem will face the U. N. high commissioner assigned to work out the Assembly's plan.

Moslems, fo rexample, already are claiming that the new state's flag should bear the crescent moon of Islam.

Eritrea is a poor country with not much of a future. Besides some agriculture there are limited mining activities. Both are now badly disturbed by bandit terrorism.

This is a land of great contrasts. Dankalia, in the lowlands, is one of the hottest places in the world. Asmara, the capital, is 8,000 feet high—a city above the clouds. There are deserts where rain never falls and hilly regions with a rainfall of 47 inches annually. There are flat plains and torturous mountains.

The people, too, vary widely. There are 12 racial groups, each with its own language. They have widely varying customs.

There are still 20,000 Italians remaining in Eritrea, but there number may decrease as much as 50 per cent as Eritreans gradually replace Italians in government positions.

Eritrea Moslems Fear Selassie's Rule Under Ethiopia Federation

By OSCAR RAMPONE

ASMARA, Eritrea—(AP)—The half million Moslems of Eritrea look with some suspicion to future rule by Haile Selassie, a Coptic Christian emperor.

The United Nations General Assembly voted last month to federate this former Italian colony along the steamy Red Sea coast of East Africa with Selassie's kingdom of Ethiopia.

The federation plan—a compromise to demands for independence and demands for outright union with Ethipia—calls for a transition period not beyond September 15, 1953.

The Assembly thus disposed of the last of Mussolini's prewar African colonies. Libia, on the Mediterranean, is to become fully independent by January 1, 1952. Italian Somaliland, down the east coast of Africa from Eritrea, is under a 10-year Italian trusteeship pending its independence.

An Assembly-appointed commissioner will help the 1,000,000 Eritrea blacks get ready to run their own administration under a federation with Ethiopia.

The British have been governing Eritrea since British Tommies captured it in 1941. The British administration will continue until the turnover date.

Moslem, forming half of the Eritrean population have accepted but are not satisfied with the United Nations decision—made after a U. N. international commission made a country-wide tour to determine the people's wishes. The people disagreed—split down the line—with about half for independence and half for union with Ethiopia. The commission split, too. That's why the compromise.

The Moslems were the backbone of the independence group. Some wanted to unite part of Eritrea with the Anglo-Egyptian Suday, also a Moslem country.

The unionist group was composed chiefly of Coptic Christians. They were sympathetic to Ethiopian claims for unity.

The Moslem independence bloc argued that Eritrea, which is about the size of the State of Ohio, is far more civilized than Ethiopia because of 70 years of Italian rule.

Moslems fear that they will not enjoy the same rights as the Copts in an Eritrea dominated by Ethiopia. The Coptic religion is one of the oldest Christian sects. Its members are centered chiefly in Ethiopia and Egypt.

This difficult religious problem will face the U. N. high commissioner assigned to work out the Assembly's plan.

Moslems, fo rexample, already are claiming that the new state's flag should bear the crescent moon of Islam.

Eritrea is a poor country with not much of a future. Besides some agriculture there are limited mining activities. Both are now badly disturbed by bandit terrorism.

This is a land of great contrasts. Dankalia, in the lowlands, is one of the hottest places in the world. Asmara, the capital, is 8,000 feet high—a city above the clouds. There are deserts where rain never falls and hilly regions with a rainfall of 47 inches annually. There are flat plains and torturous mountains.

The people, too, vary widely. There are 12 racial groups, each with its own language. They have widely varying customs.

There are still 20,000 Italians remaining in Eritrea, but there number may decrease as much as 50 per cent as Eritreans gradually replace Italians in government positions.

Fred Wilt Wins Annual Sullivan Sports Award

Miler Named Best Athlete For 1950

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — Fred Wilt, 29-year-old Indiana University graduate who runs in the colors of the New York Athletic Club, today was named as winner of the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy for 1950.

The award has been presented annually since 1930 to the amateur athlete "who, by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

Wilt won by a substantial margin in the ballots cast by 479 members of a tribunal of experts. He received 166 first place votes and, on a 5-3-1 scoring basis, a total of 1197 points.

Runner-up for the second straight year was Joseph Verdeur of Philadelphia, 1948 Olympic breast stroke swimming champion, with 114 firsts and 1013 points. Dick Attlesey, world-record breaking hurdler from Southern California, was third with 104 firsts and 838 points.

Wilt, whose training is restricted to early morning and late evening hours because of his duties with the F. B. I., earned a place as the outstanding American runner at distances from one mile to 10,000 meters during 1950. He won the national outdoor 5,000 meters championship, ran the mile consistently at 4:12 or better and the two miles at nine minutes or better.

The galloping G-man also figured in the outstanding track and field "rhubarb" of 1950 when he and Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann finished in a virtual dead heat in the Wanamaker Mile last February. This precipitated a dispute among officials which was not finally settled until the A. A. U. convention in December. Gehrmann was declared the winner.

Pennington Presses For Scoring Honors

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Jan. 3 (AP)—Charlie Pennington, the big Georgetown forward with plenty of basketball know-how, is pressing the country's scoring leaders with a fabulous 24.1 points a game average this season.

Now at the peak of his collegiate point production, the six-foor-three cager has stuffed in 55 field goals and 35 free throws for 145 points in six games. He has 12 games remaining, exclusive of tournament play.

Pennington shattered the collegiate scoring mark in Kentucky with 44 points against Chase College of Cincinnati last month. He did it on 20 fielders and four free tosses and for most of the tilt stayed ahead of the Chase quintet in scoring.

Dorish Inks Contract

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 (AP) — Pitcher Harry Dorish, drafted from Toronto of the International League, today signed his 1951 contract with the Chicago White Sox. He was the 15th player to sign for the Pale Hose next season.

Irish Are Voted Year's Biggest Disappointment

Notre Dame Gridders Lost Four 1950 Tilts

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Notre Dame's football team was voted the "disappointment of the year" in an Associated Press poll today as the result of its four losses during the past season, an event as rare as a snowfall in July.

The Irish had been named the "team of the year" in 1949. They were picked as the probable 1950 champions in a pre-season poll and they had run up 39 games without defeat when disaster struck in the form of an inspired Purdue eleven on Oct. 7.

Purdue kon, 28-14, and before the curtain fell, Indiana, Michigan State, and Southern California made up for years of frustration by whipping famed Notre Dame, a synonym for success in football.

A total of 133 sports writers and sportcasters, out of a panel of 212, voted the Fighting Irish as the "flop" of 1950. On a basis of three points for a No. 1 pick, two for second and one for third, Notre Dame had 486 points for the dubious distinction.

The runnerup position went to Joe Louis, the former heavyweight champion, whose amazing string of triumphs and records fatten the record books. The old Brown Bomber's comeback was ruined by the flashing fists of Ezzard Charles in a 15-round bout in Yankee Stadium.

Sixteen voters tabbed the results of Louis' return to the ring as the disappointment of the year. Louis had 156 points.

Right behind the former heavyweight boss came the Boston Red Sox, a perennial contender in the "flop" league. Once again the Red Sox were picked as the team to succeeed in the American League and once again they didn't make it, finishing third.

The St. Louis Cardinals, finishing out of the first division for the first time since 1938, were fourth, followed by the Brooklyn Dodgers, the pre-season choice to win the National League pennant.

The list of those with five or more points (based on 3 for first, 2 for second and 1 for third), giving No. 1 votes and points:

| | | |
| Notre Dame, football | 133 | 486 |

Hunting License Fees Set Mark

$37,641,049 spent By Nation's Hunters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The nation's sportsmen paid $37,641,049 — an all-time high — for hunting licenses during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, the fish and wildlife service said today.

They also paid a record breaking $3,909,468 for federal migratory bird hunting stamps required of every adult waterfowl hunter.

The number of hunting licenses sold dropped 132,159 below the 1948-49 total of 12,758,698 licenses. Because of increased hunting fees in many states, however, the revenue from licenses was $2,674,362 greater than in the previous year.

Similarly, the sale of duck stamps declined to 1,954,734 from the previous year's all time record of 2,127,598. However, the 1949-50 duck stamps cost $2 each — double the amount charged in previous years.

The four leading states in hunting license sales were Michigan 1,031,035; Pennsylvania 834,091; New York 751,036; Ohio 740,509.

Pacific Coast League May Discontinue Rose Bowl Play

Heads Disturbed By "Intensity" Of Game

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—Possibility that participation of the Pacific Coast Conference in annual Rose Bowl football games might be discontinued rocked the organization at its meeting here today.

It followed a closed meeting between the faculty representatives, presidents of the nine member schools and athletic directors.

Everest said that the conference faculty representatives and the athletic directors would hold a special meeting following the NCAA convention in Dallas, Tex., next week, to reach "a definitive conclusion" on the fate of the "oldest bowl game in the country," as it has been operated.

Everest said that the conference fathers were disturbed by the "growing intensity of post-season football games."

Everest's announcement was made in the presence of Victor O. Schmidt, the conference commissioner.

Pacific Coast Conference teams, barring two years during World War I, have always been the host elevens in the Rose Bowl game each New Year's day.

For the last five years the guest team was from the Big Ten Conference. Renewal of the pact with the Big Ten is favored by both conferences, according to a formal announcement by both groups yesterday.

Everest said that there was no disagreement in any way with the Big Ten; or the Tournament of Roses Association in Pasadena, which stages the game.

The whole problem, he said, is strictly within the coast conference itself.

The turn of affairs has no relation to any national emergency, Everest continued.

Asked if an all-star game between coast and Big Ten schools had been discussed, he said such a procedure might follow. He pointed out that the word "modify" in his statement would cover such a proposal.

First Period Rally Gives Blues 98-76 Win Over Spas

Team Arrives Late, Visitors Start Subs

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 3 — A first period rally which netted 32 points enabled the Wheeling Blues to hand the Cumberland Spas their third straight road defeat here tonight by the score of 98 to 76 in an All-American Professional Basketball game.

The Cumberland team was late arriving and the visitors had to start a substitute lineup. The Blues took advantage of the break to hop to a 25-3 lead in the first eight minutes of the game. The Cumberland first string then arrived and took the floor and held its own with the home squad but never was able to overcome the huge disadvantage.

Wheeling pounded the nets for 40 goals and 18 of 26 fouls while Cumberland collected 32 goals and 12 of 17 free tosses. Eddie Sterling, the former West Virginia University great, collected 29 tallies for the winners on 11 goals and 7 of 9 foul tries. Bob Pence paced the losers with 19 tallies. Clevenger had 13 and Mathewson 15 for the Spas.

Boxers To Wear Harness For Bout

Benefit Show Slated For Fighter's Family

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — Boxers in tomorrow's benefit show for the late Al (Sonny Boy) West will be under orders to wear a head harness.

The benefit performance will feature hard-hitting Percy Bassett, Philadelphia, in a ten-rounder and Ted (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn., in the main event.

It will be Bassett's first fight since then. West died 22 hours after he was dropped by Bassett.

A few days after West died, the district boxing commission ruled that the six-ounce head protector must be worn in all pro bouts here.

Tomorrow night's show also features ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis and welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson in the role of referees.

The use of a head harness for tomorrow's show has stirred a controversy in boxing circles. With a rubber pad on the back of the head, the harness is designed to cushion falls on knockdowns.

Advocates of the harness contend it will compel fighters to shoot for the chin, and eliminate technical knockouts due to cut eyes.

Others, however, contend the harness will slow down action. They say the harness will absorb most of the wallop.

Reese Signs 1951 Brooklyn Contract

BROOKLYN, Jan. 3 (AP)—Harold (Peewee) Reese, veteran Brooklyn Dodger shortstop, today returned his signed contact for a reported $30,000 salary.

The 31-year-old club captain told vice president Buzzie Bavasi in a phone conversation he regarded 1950 as an "off year" and looked for a comeback next season.

West Siders Drop 4th Tilt To Somerset

Rosbaugh, Rice Lead Pennsylvania Team To Victory

SOMERSET, Pa., Jan. 3 — Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers of Cumberland made it four out of five tonight—on the losing side of the ledger—by dropping their return game with Somerset High here, 45-31.

The West Siders, in losing their third straight, trailed all the way although pulling within four points of the victors in the third stanza, before Somerset hiked its margin for good.

Rice kept the home team in the fore in the initial half by potting nine of his 14 points during the first two quarters of play. Don Rosbaugh and Jim Karras took up the slack in the latter two periods to keep Allegany on the defensive all the way.

It was the second straight for Somerset over Allegany as the Pennsylvanians copped the opener of their home-and-home series on the Campobello court, 46-31

The winners outscored Allegany 17 field goals to 12 and converted 11 of 13 fouls to seven of 17 for the losers. Ronnie Chapman, AHS forward, left the game via personal fouls in the third quarter. The lineups:

Duquesne Cage Team Wins Close Games

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3 (AP) — Duquesne University's unbeaten basketball win streak of 10 games is tops in the east but Coach Dudey Moore isn't impressed.

"We've been lucky," Moore, said today, "but I'm afraid our luck is going to run out."

The biggest thorn in Moore's side is the manner in which the Dukes eke out most of their games.

They've edged Westminster 53-52, South Carolina 67-64 in an overtime, Arizona 63-62, Wake Forest 63-59 and Detroit 60-52.

Moore, member of the famed 1934 Duquesne team which amassed a victory string of 25 straight wins, thinks an upcoming road trip will tell another story.

"Teams like Long Island, Akron, Cincinnati, Baldwin-Wallace and Villanova aren't any pushovers," he declared.

Former Champ Shows His Old-Time Power

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP) — Savage-punching Joe Louis looked the Brown Bomber of old tonight as he knocked out a dead game Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., in the fourth round of a bloody battle.

Officially the knockout was listed at 2:48 of the fourth round when Referee Johnny Webber stepped in to save the bloody and beaten Beshore from additional punishment.

The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds.

The plucky Beshore was nearly cut to pieces by Louis' deadly wallops, as the ex-champ had little trouble in hitting him with either hand.

Beshore's nose was bloodied in the first round, his nose was broken in the third and his left eye was cut in the third by a sizzling punch that jarred him to his heels.

Louis, who came in at 210¼—his lowest fighting weight since the second Billy Conn fight in 1946—had about a nine-pound advantage and he used it to advantage in the short-lived scrap.

Pence, Orndorff Officials For Fort Hill Game

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh announced last night that Bob Pence and William "Bee" Orndorff will officiate the Fort Hill and Martinsburg basketball game on the Sentinels' court tomorrow night at 8 p. m. The Scarlet and White quintet will be seeking its fifth straight victory against the invading Bulldogs.

A preliminary contest between the school's reserve teams will get underway at 6:50.

On the other side of town, Allegany and LaSalle will pry the lid off the 1951 city series when the Explorers and Campers clash at Campobello at 8 o'clock.

Fred Wilt Wins Annual Sullivan Sports Award

Miler Named Best Athlete For 1950

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — Fred Wilt, 29-year-old Indiana University graduate who runs in the colors of the New York Athletic Club, today was named as winner of the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy for 1950.

The award has been presented annually since 1930 to the amateur athlete "who, by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

Wilt won by a substantial margin in the ballots cast by 479 members of a tribunal of experts. He received 166 first place votes and, on a 5-3-1 scoring basis, a total of 1197 points.

Runner-up for the second straight year was Joseph Verdeur of Philadelphia, 1948 Olympic breast stroke swimming champion, with 114 firsts and 1013 points. Dick Attlesey, world-record breaking hurdler from Southern California, was third with 104 firsts and 838 points.

Wilt, whose training is restricted to early morning and late evening hours because of his duties with the F. B. I., earned a place as the outstanding American runner at distances from one mile to 10,000 meters during 1950. He won the national outdoor 5,000 meters championship, ran the mile consistently at 4:12 or better and the two miles at nine minutes or better.

The galloping G-man also figured in the outstanding track and field "rhubarb" of 1950 when he and Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann finished in a virtual dead heat in the Wanamaker Mile last February. This precipitated a dispute among officials which was not finally settled until the A. A. U. convention in December. Gehrmann was declared the winner.

Pennington Presses For Scoring Honors

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Jan. 3 (AP)—Charlie Pennington, the big Georgetown forward with plenty of basketball know-how, is pressing the country's scoring leaders with a fabulous 24.1 points a game average this season.

Now at the peak of his collegiate point production, the six-foor-three cager has stuffed in 55 field goals and 35 free throws for 145 points in six games. He has 12 games remaining, exclusive of tournament play.

Pennington shattered the collegiate scoring mark in Kentucky with 44 points against Chase College of Cincinnati last month. He did it on 20 fielders and four free tosses and for most of the tilt stayed ahead of the Chase quintet in scoring.

Dorish Inks Contract

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 (AP) — Pitcher Harry Dorish, drafted from Toronto of the International League, today signed his 1951 contract with the Chicago White Sox. He was the 15th player to sign for the Pale Hose next season.

Notre Dame Gridders Lost Four 1950 Tilts

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Notre Dame's football team was voted the "disappointment of the year" in an Associated Press poll today as the result of its four losses during the past season, an event as rare as a snowfall in July.

The Irish had been named the "team of the year" in 1949. They were picked as the probable 1950 champions in a pre-season poll and they had run up 39 games without defeat when disaster struck in the form of an inspired Purdue eleven on Oct. 7.

Purdue kon, 28-14, and before the curtain fell, Indiana, Michigan State, and Southern California made up for years of frustration by whipping famed Notre Dame, a synonym for success in football.

A total of 133 sports writers and sportcasters, out of a panel of 212, voted the Fighting Irish as the "flop" of 1950. On a basis of three points for a No. 1 pick, two for second and one for third, Notre Dame had 486 points for the dubious distinction.

The runnerup position went to Joe Louis, the former heavyweight champion, whose amazing string of triumphs and records fatten the record books. The old Brown Bomber's comeback was ruined by the flashing fists of Ezzard Charles in a 15-round bout in Yankee Stadium.

Sixteen voters tabbed the results of Louis' return to the ring as the disappointment of the year. Louis had 156 points.

Right behind the former heavyweight boss came the Boston Red Sox, a perennial contender in the "flop" league. Once again the Red Sox were picked as the team to succeeed in the American League and once again they didn't make it, finishing third.

The St. Louis Cardinals, finishing out of the first division for the first time since 1938, were fourth, followed by the Brooklyn Dodgers, the pre-season choice to win the National League pennant.

The list of those with five or more points (based on 3 for first, 2 for second and 1 for third), giving No. 1 votes and points:

Hunting License Fees Set Mark

$37,641,049 spent By Nation's Hunters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The nation's sportsmen paid $37,641,049 — an all-time high — for hunting licenses during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, the fish and wildlife service said today.

They also paid a record breaking $3,909,468 for federal migratory bird hunting stamps required of every adult waterfowl hunter.

The number of hunting licenses sold dropped 132,159 below the 1948-49 total of 12,758,698 licenses. Because of increased hunting fees in many states, however, the revenue from licenses was $2,674,362 greater than in the previous year.

Similarly, the sale of duck stamps declined to 1,954,734 from the previous year's all time record of 2,127,598. However, the 1949-50 duck stamps cost $2 each — double the amount charged in previous years.

The four leading states in hunting license sales were Michigan 1,031,035; Pennsylvania 834,091; New York 751,036; Ohio 740,509.

Pacific Coast League May Discontinue Rose Bowl Play

Heads Disturbed By "Intensity" Of Game

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—Possibility that participation of the Pacific Coast Conference in annual Rose Bowl football games might be discontinued rocked the organization at its meeting here today.

It followed a closed meeting between the faculty representatives, presidents of the nine member schools and athletic directors.

Everest said that the conference faculty representatives and the athletic directors would hold a special meeting following the NCAA convention in Dallas, Tex., next week, to reach "a definitive conclusion" on the fate of the "oldest bowl game in the country," as it has been operated.

Everest said that the conference fathers were disturbed by the "growing intensity of post-season football games."

Everest's announcement was made in the presence of Victor O. Schmidt, the conference commissioner.

Pacific Coast Conference teams, barring two years during World War I, have always been the host elevens in the Rose Bowl game each New Year's day.

For the last five years the guest team was from the Big Ten Conference. Renewal of the pact with the Big Ten is favored by both conferences, according to a formal announcement by both groups yesterday.

Everest said that there was no disagreement in any way with the Big Ten; or the Tournament of Roses Association in Pasadena, which stages the game.

The whole problem, he said, is strictly within the coast conference itself.

The turn of affairs has no relation to any national emergency, Everest continued.

Asked if an all-star game between coast and Big Ten schools had been discussed, he said such a procedure might follow. He pointed out that the word "modify" in his statement would cover such a proposal.

First Period Rally Gives Blues 98-76 Win Over Spas

Team Arrives Late, Visitors Start Subs

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 3 — A first period rally which netted 32 points enabled the Wheeling Blues to hand the Cumberland Spas their third straight road defeat here tonight by the score of 98 to 76 in an All-American Professional Basketball game.

The Cumberland team was late arriving and the visitors had to start a substitute lineup. The Blues took advantage of the break to hop to a 25-3 lead in the first eight minutes of the game. The Cumberland first string then arrived and took the floor and held its own with the home squad but never was able to overcome the huge disadvantage.

Wheeling pounded the nets for 40 goals and 18 of 26 fouls while Cumberland collected 32 goals and 12 of 17 free tosses. Eddie Sterling, the former West Virginia University great, collected 29 tallies for the winners on 11 goals and 7 of 9 foul tries. Bob Pence paced the losers with 19 tallies. Clevenger had 13 and Mathewson 15 for the Spas.

Wheeling led 32-9 at the quarter, 53-32 at halftime and 76-50 at the close of the third stanza.

Petersburg Wallops Mathias Five, 59-39

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 3—Larry Landes and Carroll Michael scored 40 points between them as Petersburg High School's Vikings walloped Mathias High's floormen today by the score of 59 to 39, in a Potomac Valley Conference contest.

The two teams battled to an 8-8 deadlock in the initial quarter before the winners began drawing away to lead 18-11 at halftime and 37-22 at the close of the third stanza.

The triumph was the third in five starts for Coach Walt Owens Vikings and marked their second conference victory.

Landes pounded the hoops for 10 field goals and added three fouls for 23 points while Michael hit the cords for seven fielders and three singletons for 17 markers. DeLawder took scoring honors for the losers with 10.

Boxers To Wear Harness For Bout

Benefit Show Slated For Fighter's Family

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — Boxers in tomorrow's benefit show for the late Al (Sonny Boy) West will be under orders to wear a head harness.

The benefit performance will feature hard-hitting Percy Bassett, Philadelphia, in a ten-rounder and Ted (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn., in the main event.

The use of the harness is a result of the death of West, a popular Washington battler, in a bout with Bassett in New York on Dec. 20.

It will be Bassett's first fight since then. West died 22 hours after he was dropped by Bassett.

A few days after West died, the district boxing commission ruled that the six-ounce head protector must be worn in all pro bouts here.

Tomorrow night's show also features ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis and welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson in the role of referees.

The use of a head harness for tomorrow's show has stirred a controversy in boxing circles. With a rubber pad on the back of the head, the harness is designed to cushion falls on knockdowns.

Advocates of the harness contend it will compel fighters to shoot for the chin, and eliminate technical knockouts due to cut eyes.

Others, however, contend the harness will slow down action. They say the harness will absorb most of the wallop.

Reese Signs 1951 Brooklyn Contract

BROOKLYN, Jan. 3 (AP)—Harold (Peewee) Reese, veteran Brooklyn Dodger shortstop, today returned his signed contact for a reported $30,000 salary.

The 31-year-old club captain told vice president Buzzie Bavasi in a phone conversation he regarded 1950 as an "off year" and looked for a comeback next season.

West Siders Drop 4th Tilt To Somerset

Rosbaugh, Rice Lead Pennsylvania Team To Victory

SOMERSET, Pa., Jan. 3 — Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers of Cumberland made it four out of five tonight—on the losing side of the ledger—by dropping their return game with Somerset High here, 45-31.

The West Siders, in losing their third straight, trailed all the way although pulling within four points of the victors in the third stanza, before Somerset hiked its margin for good.

Rice kept the home team in the fore in the initial half by potting nine of his 14 points during the first two quarters of play. Don Rosbaugh and Jim Karras took up the slack in the latter two periods to keep Allegany on the defensive all the way.

It was the second straight for Somerset over Allegany as the Pennsylvanians copped the opener of their home-and-home series on the Campobello court, 46-31

The winners outscored Allegany 17 field goals to 12 and converted 11 of 13 fouls to seven of 17 for the losers. Ronnie Chapman, AHS forward, left the game via personal fouls in the third quarter. The lineups:

Duquesne Cage Team Wins Close Games

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3 (AP) — Duquesne University's unbeaten basketball win streak of 10 games is tops in the east but Coach Dudey Moore isn't impressed.

"We've been lucky," Moore, said today, "but I'm afraid our luck is going to run out."

The biggest thorn in Moore's side is the manner in which the Dukes eke out most of their games.

They've edged Westminster 53-52, South Carolina 67-64 in an overtime, Arizona 63-62, Wake Forest 63-59 and Detroit 60-52.

Moore, member of the famed 1934 Duquesne team which amassed a victory string of 25 straight wins, thinks an upcoming road trip will tell another story.

"Teams like Long Island, Akron, Cincinnati, Baldwin-Wallace and Villanova aren't any pushovers," he declared.

Former Champ Shows His Old-Time Power

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP) — Savage-punching Joe Louis looked the Brown Bomber of old tonight as he knocked out a dead game Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., in the fourth round of a bloody battle.

Officially the knockout was listed at 2:48 of the fourth round when Referee Johnny Webber stepped in to save the bloody and beaten Beshore from additional punishment.

The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds.

The plucky Beshore was nearly cut to pieces by Louis' deadly wallops, as the ex-champ had little trouble in hitting him with either hand.

Beshore's nose was bloodied in the first round, his nose was broken in the third and his left eye was cut in the third by a sizzling punch that jarred him to his heels.

Louis, who came in at 210¼—his lowest fighting weight since the second Billy Conn fight in 1946—had about a nine-pound advantage and he used it to advantage in the short-lived scrap.

Pence, Orndorff Officials For Fort Hill Game

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh announced last night that Bob Pence and William "Bee" Orndorff will officiate the Fort Hill and Martinsburg basketball game on the Sentinels' court tomorrow night at 8 p. m. The Scarlet and White quintet will be seeking its fifth straight victory against the invading Bulldogs.

A preliminary contest between the school's reserve teams will get underway at 6:50.

On the other side of town, Allegany and LaSalle will pry the lid off the 1951 city series when the Explorers and Campers clash at Campobello at 8 o'clock.

The defending champion 40-8 quintet pounded the hoops for 33 goals in walloping the Elks with Jimmy Eckard tallying 16 points followed closely by teammates, Ace Comer, 12, Jack Stotler, 13, and Buddy Giles, 12. Bill Day accumulated 17 for the losers.

Sedgeview Cops Tropical Park's Featured Race

Culmone Rides Two Winners On Card

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP)—Mrs. J. Kelley's Sedgeview, under a smart ride by Billie Fisk, won the featured seventh race at Tropical Park today getting up along the inside to beat O. J. Ciresa Jr's Mr. Ace by a head.

Mr. Ace, which had won his two previous starts over the track, is a chronic run-out horse. Rounding the stretch turn, he bore out somewhat under Joe Culmone, and Fisk, who evidently anticipated such a move, shot Sedgeview along the inner part of the track to make the accounting.

George D. Widener's Reveille, making his first start of the winter, was a creditable third, only a length farther away. Hash Night the second choice to Mr. Ace, was fourth. He too, was launching his winter campaign. Nine started in this six-furlong event, covered in 1.10 3/5. It was witnessed by a crowd of 8,289.

Sedgeview, which had raced over a distance in his last two starts, paid $10.60 straight.

Though Culmone failed to keep Mr. Ace straight in the feature, which cost the gelding the race, the Sicilian launched his return to silks on a successful note. He rode two winners out of five mounts, including a second and a third.

Culmone chalked up his first winner of 1951 aboard Elkcam Stable's Lands End, ($9.90) in the second race. The Sicilian brought the horse up fast to beat Bright Player by a length, while Kendor was third.

Culmone accepted his initial mount of the year on Colonel Zedar in the first, but the colt, backed into favoritism was soundly beaten by Elixir, $10.40, ridden by Albert Florio.

FIRST resolution on any New Year's Day should be to resolve not to make any more resolutions.

So, we'll just make a few predictions on sports for 1951 and let the alibis come later.

In 1950 we had our usual "good" year at prognosticating.

We picked Oil Capitol to win the Derby. We were sure the Dodgers would win the National league pennant. We started off the football season in great style by picking Notre Dame to murder Purdue. We strung along with Joe Louis to beat Ezzard Charles. And some others, too.

Say, how wrong can a guy be?

The cuts in our wounds were deep, as you can see, but we medicated them somewhat by selecting the Yankees to win the A. L. flag and the series, Michigan to win the Big Ten crown and the Cleveland Browns to grab the National Professional Football championship.

If that is enough to take the deep red blushes from our cheeks, we'll try a few more for 1951.

• • • •

IN BASEBALL we still like the Yankees, despite that help the Red Sox got since the season ended. And we'll go again with the Dodgers, despite the youth and zing of the Whiz Kids from Philly.

In college football, we'll take Army to rule the roost and we'll string along with the Cleveland Browns in the pro field despite the aging of its personnel. We'd like to mention the Detroit Lions here, for our guess is that the Lions will be rough.

We'd say that Sugar Ray Robinson will emerge the No. 1 figure in boxing again and that Ezzard Charles will defend and keep his heavyweight crown.

Might as well stick with the champion in tennis and nominate Art Larsen to repeat his U. S. championship.

In basketball we'll take those Kentucky Wildcats, with Bill Spivey and Baron Rupp.

In horse racing, we'll take the George D. Widener colt, Battlefield, to romp to victory in the Derby and Hill Prince to rule the handicap division.

Toronto and Detroit will fight it out for the Stanley Cup in hockey and the Cleveland Barons will roll again in the American ice loop.

We'll give the nod to Johnny Parsons again in auto racing and we'll ease out of the track and field situation by saying that a new personality will take over in track to grab the headlines.

Sedgeview Cops Tropical Park's Featured Race

Culmone Rides Two Winners On Card

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP)—Mrs. J. Kelley's Sedgeview, under a smart ride by Billie Fisk, won the featured seventh race at Tropical Park today getting up along the inside to beat O. J. Ciresa Jr's Mr. Ace by a head.

Mr. Ace, which had won his two previous starts over the track, is a chronic run-out horse. Rounding the stretch turn, he bore out somewhat under Joe Culmone, and Fisk, who evidently anticipated such a move, shot Sedgeview along the inner part of the track to make the accounting.

George D. Widener's Reveille, making his first start of the winter, was a creditable third, only a length farther away. Hash Night the second choice to Mr. Ace, was fourth. He too, was launching his winter campaign. Nine started in this six-furlong event, covered in 1.10 3/5. It was witnessed by a crowd of 8,289.

Sedgeview, which had raced over a distance in his last two starts, paid $10.60 straight.

Though Culmone failed to keep Mr. Ace straight in the feature, which cost the gelding the race, the Sicilian launched his return to silks on a successful note. He rode two winners out of five mounts, including a second and a third.

Culmone chalked up his first winner of 1951 aboard Elkcam Stable's Lands End, ($9.90) in the second race. The Sicilian brought the horse up fast to beat Bright Player by a length, while Kendor was third.

Culmone accepted his initial mount of the year on Colonel Zedar in the first, but the colt, backed into favoritism was soundly beaten by Elixir, $10.40, ridden by Albert Florio.

Sport Sputterings

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

FIRST resolution on any New Year's Day should be to resolve not to make any more resolutions.

So, we'll just make a few predictions on sports for 1951 and let the alibis come later.

In 1950 we had our usual "good" year at prognosticating.

We picked Oil Capitol to win the Derby. We were sure the Dodgers would win the National league pennant. We started off the football season in great style by picking Notre Dame to murder Purdue. We strung along with Joe Louis to beat Ezzard Charles. And some others, too.

Say, how wrong can a guy be?

The cuts in our wounds were deep, as you can see, but we medicated them somewhat by selecting the Yankees to win the A. L. flag and the Series, Michigan to win the Big Ten crown and the Cleveland Browns to grab the National Professional Football championship.

If that is enough to take the deep red blushes from our cheeks, we'll try a few more for 1951.

* * * *

IN BASEBALL we still like the Yankees, despite that help the Red Sox got since the season ended. And we'll go again with the Dodgers, despite the youth and zing of the Whiz Kids from Philly.

In college football, we'll take Army to rule the roost and we'll string along with the Cleveland Browns in the pro field despite the aging of its personnel. We'd like to mention the Detroit Lions here, for our guess is that the Lions will be rough.

We'd say that Sugar Ray Robinson will emerge the No. 1 figure in boxing again and that Ezzard Charles will defend and keep his heavyweight crown.

Might as well stick with the champion in tennis and nominate Art Larsen to repeat his U. S. championship.

In basketball we'll take those Kentucky Wildcats, with Bill Spivey and Baron Rupp.

In horse racing, we'll take the George D. Widener colt, Battlefield, to romp to victory in the Derby and Hill Prince to rule the handicap division.

Toronto and Detroit will fight it out for the Stanley Cup in hockey and the Cleveland Barons will roll again in the American ice loop.

We'll give the nod to Johnny Parsons again in auto racing and we'll ease out of the track and field situation by saying that a new personality will take over in track to grab the headlines.

It will be the 4th game of the season for Coach Emil Suder's Tucker Countians and a win would put them in the .500 class.

Castleman Pleads Guilty In Theft

Roy L. Castleman, 317 Arch Street, entered a guilty plea yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court to charges of breaking and entering Conway's Liquor Store, 402 Virginia Avenue, and stealing whiskey and other merchandise valued at $256.55, but Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris deferred sentencing the man until Saturday.

The defendant was tried yesterday after waiving his right to indictment and requesting an immediate trial. The court appointed William R. Carscaden as Castleman's attorney.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher Tuesday filed a criminal information against Castleman in which he contended the defendant had burglarized the shop of Isabel D. Conway from which 45 fifths of whiskey, cigars, candy, peanuts and wine, valued at a total of $256.55 were stolen December 3. The information also charged Castleman with larceny and receiving stolen goods in the same act.

Detective Thomas J. See, who questioned Castleman after his arrest December 4, said the man admitted drinking half of one of the fifths of whiskey before leaving the store. The detective added that Castleman sold or gave away most of the whiskey. Several bottles and some of the merchandise was recovered at the time of his arrest.

In another case yesterday, Charles McDonough, 114 Lennox Place, was sentenced by Judge Harris to six months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of violating his parole. McDonough had been paroled October 17 upon condition that he be of good behavior and abstain from use of alcoholic beverage.

His wife had charged him with being a habitual drunkard. In petitioning for violation of parole in this case, State's Attorney Fletcher cited that McDonough had been arrested December 9, December 22 and December 28 on drunkenness charges by Cumberland police.

Presbyterians

Dr. Claude S. Conley, executive secretary of the Synod of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa., will deliver the sermon. The presiding officer, Dr. Jackson, will present the Constitutional questions to the pastor and congregation. Dr. Lloyd Ice, pastor of Govans Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, will give the charge to the minister.

The charge will be given to the people by Dr. Henry S. Brown, vice president Emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary. The welcome to the new minister on behalf of the congregation will be given by T. Lohr Richards, an elder of the First Presbyterian Church.

Members of the Board of the Session, trustees and deacons and their wives will have dinner with the participating ministers at Central YMCA at 5:45 p. m. and will go to the church in time for the Installation service at 7:30 o'clock.

Record 54 Volunteer For Service

Steady Hands

revived some old memories.

"I can remember when people used to skate on the river here in the wintertime," he recalls. "There used to be as many on skates then as now see a parade on Baltimore street, with as many more watching from the banks."

When asked if the town had changed much since he began barbering he smiled and said "quite a bit."

Mechanic street wasn't paved then, he remembered, and most of the travel was still done in horse and buggy. There were several spring pumps used by residents for drinking water in the area and the river was used for washing.

"There were quite a few grocery stores around here then," he related, "but only about one or two remain now. I guess I've been here on Mechanic street longer than most anyone else."

Myers had a shop on Valley street for 12 years before entering his present shop which was converted from a driveway next to the old Fred Blough building on the corner of Mechanic and Valley streets.

"In those days Christmas used to come only once a year, but now the stores are all trimmed up every day of the year," he remarked wryly.

Too Much Double Talk

Jake gets a little troubled about present national and world conditions, too. "Trouble is too many people don't believe in law enforcement or read the Bible. Too many liars in the world, also. In my time if a man said something he meant it and was ready to back it up with force if necessary." He thinks the President of the United States may never live down the crack he made about the Marine Corps.

Despite his small stature Myers used to play football and baseball quite a lot in his younger days. "Never weighed more than 120 pounds, then," he remarked.

"Football was rougher than it is now. We used to play 35 minute halfs with 10 minute rest periods between. We never had substitutes either. A man didn't leave the game unless he had to. Sometimes we just had a few clothes left on our backs after a game," he said. "The game isn't what it used to be."

Myers lives at 226 Carroll Street "where I've lived ever since I got married 53 years ago."

He and his wife, the former Lillie Davis, will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary January 18, 1951. A native of Cumberland the old timer was born on Wallace Street and has spent his entire life here. His son has been with him at the barber shop since 1936.

Castleman Pleads Guilty In Theft

Roy L. Castleman, 317 Arch Street, entered a guilty plea yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court to charges of breaking and entering Conway's Liquor Store, 402 Virginia Avenue, and stealing whiskey and other merchandise valued at $256.55, but Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris deferred sentencing the man until Saturday.

The defendant was tried yesterday after waiving his right to indictment and requesting an immediate trial. The court appointed William R. Carscaden as Castleman's attorney.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher Tuesday filed a criminal information against Castleman in which he contended the defendant had burglarized the shop of Isabel D. Conway from which 45 fifths of whiskey, cigars, candy, peanuts and wine, valued at a total of $256.55 were stolen December 3. The information also charged Castleman with larceny and receiving stolen goods in the same act.

Detective Thomas J. See, who questioned Castleman after his arrest December 4, said the man admitted drinking half of one of the fifths of whiskey before leaving the store. The detective added that Castleman sold or gave away most of the whiskey. Several bottles and some of the merchandise was recovered at the time of his arrest.

In another case yesterday, Charles McDonough, 114 Lennox Place, was sentenced by Judge Harris to six months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of violating his parole. McDonough had been paroled October 17 upon condition that he be of good behavior and abstain from use of alcoholic beverage.

His wife had charged him with being a habitual drunkard. In petitioning for violation of parole in this case, State's Attorney Fletcher cited that McDonough had been arrested December 9, December 22 and December 28 on drunkenness charges by Cumberland police.

Steady Hands

revived some old memories.

"I can remember when people used to skate on the river here in the wintertime," he recalls. "There used to be as many on skates then as now see a parade on Baltimore street, with as many more watching from the banks."

When asked if the town had changed much since he began barbering he smiled and said "quite a bit."

Mechanic street wasn't paved then, he remembered, and most of the travel was still done in horse and buggy. There were several spring pumps used by residents for drinking water in the area and the river was used for washing.

"There were quite a few grocery stores around here then," he related, "but only about one or two remain now. I guess I've been here on Mechanic street longer than most anyone else."

Myers had a shop on Valley street for 12 years before entering his present shop which was converted from a driveway next to the old Fred Blough building on the corner of Mechanic and Valley streets.

"In those days Christmas used to come only once a year, but now the stores are all trimmed up every day of the year," he remarked wryly.

Too Much Double Talk

Jake gets a little troubled about present national and world conditions, too. "Trouble is too many people don't believe in law enforcement or read the Bible. Too many liars in the world, also. In my time if a man said something he meant it and was ready to back it up with force if necessary." He thinks the President of the United States may never live down the crack he made about the Marine Corps.

Despite his small stature Myers used to play football and baseball quite a lot in his younger days. "Never weighed more than 120 pounds, then," he remarked.

"Football was rougher than it is now. We used to play 35 minute halfs with 10 minute rest periods between. We never had substitutes either. A man didn't leave the game unless he had to. Sometimes we just had a few clothes left on our backs after a game," he said. "The game isn't what it used to be."

Myers lives at 226 Carroll Street "where I've lived ever since I got married 53 years ago."

He and his wife, the former Lillie Davis, will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary January 18, 1951. A native of Cumberland the old timer was born on Wallace Street and has spent his entire life here. His son has been with him at the barber shop since 1936.

Moose Present Book To College

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Margaret Tippen, Mooseheart Symposium chairman, and Mrs. Mary Ruffo, representing Frostburg Chapter, 348, Loyal Order of Moose, recently presented the library of Frostburg State College, a copy of the recently-published book, "Feelings and Emotions."

The book is a scientific treatise on the latest theoretical and experimental contributions to the psychology, both academic and applied, of feelings and emotions in the human body.

It represents, according to Mrs. Higgins, who presented the book to Miss Helen Hough, college librarian, a collection of more than 40 papers prepared by world renowned scientists for the symposium held at Mooseheart, Ill., in 1948.

The University of Illinois cooperated with the Loyal Order of Moose in conducting the symposium, Mrs. Tippen said.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3 (INS)—Over the holidays Glenn Ford put his name on a contract for "Striking A Match," which Mark Robson is directing and Harriet Parsons is producing for R-K-O.

Susan Hayward

Considering 2,000 intoxicated men and women were arrested during the holidays, "Strike A Match," which Robert Smith is adpating from his own story, is extremely timely. It's the story of a woman in Los Angeles at Christmas who cannot let liquor alone. Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna considered this very timely when they bought the story.

Susan Hayward won an Academy nomination for her performance as a drunk in "Smash Up," and may be borrowed from 20th, although this is still not settled and another top actress is being mentioned.

• — • — •

Corinne Calvert, the French cutiepie who, at one time, was so uncooperative that Paramount dropped her contract, starts 1951 with a new deal at 20th. In addition to the contract Hal Wallis already holds on Madamoiselle Calvert's services, she'll make five pictures in the next two years for 20th.

She has just finished "On The Riviera" with Danny Kaye and Gene Tierney at 20th, and her first on the new setup is a mellerdrama "Sense Of Guilt."

It's wonderful the way Corinne has snapped out of her temperamental antics and settled down to one of the hardest working gals in town.

• — • — •

It's all very secret, but I'm reliably informed that Mike Todd and Radio Commentator Lowell Thomas have purchased a new sound recording system from the government.

Right now there is talk of using this system to produce a feature length picture in which Todd would star his ex-wife, Joan Blondell. Also the talk persists that Joan and Mike will remarry.

They are seen everywhere together and whenever she makes any TV appearances Mike is always in the control booth making sure Joan is vocally and photographically A-1. In show business, that's love, brother!

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The John Sturgis baby is due almost any edition. He's an M-G-M director.

Elaine and John Steinbeck will stop in Hollywood en route to Mexico for their honeymoon.

Many guests in white tie and tails came on to Mike Romanoff's delightful and not too big party from the formal Tex Feldman dinner.

So nice to see Constance Bennett. She was with Virginia and Darryl Zanuck and that cute Susan Zanuck who danced every dance. Sitting with them were Clifton Webb and his mother.

Jane Wyman and Michael Wilding had a dance together for Auld Lang Syne. He was in "Stage Fright" with her. He brought Sharman Douglas who was having fun.

Jennifer Jones, out for the first time since her recent illness, looked very well, but thin. She and David Selznick sat with Bubbles and Arthur Hornblow.

It was late when I arrived at the Romanoffs, and as is usual on New Year's Eve, people kept coming and going—but it's a tribute to the Romanoffs hospitality that many of the guests were at Mike's for hamburgers and hot dogs in the early morn.

Others who were having fun were Joan Crawford, looking very regal in black velvet, dancing with Cesar Romero as only they can dance together; Pat Medina and Richard Greene, looking so happy that I am hopeful 1951 will see a real reconciliation between them; Dusty and Jean Negulesco; Joan Bennett and Walter Wanger and many, many more were among those to whom I wished "Happy New Year!"

Judy Garland and Sid Luft, who continue to act as though they mean it, Joan Fontaine and Collier Young, Benny Thau with the Dowling sisters, Alan Curtis and his bride, Betty Dodero, were among the hundreds who were in the crush at the Spiegels—or at least, so I hear. I didn't make it this year.

That's all today. So you tomorrow!

Should sex education come from parents?

Answer: It starts with them, whether they intend it to or not. A child's basic feelings about the relations of the sexes grow out of his impression of his parents' attitude toward sex and toward each other, and if they try to ignore the subject all they do is make him feel it is too shameful to speak of. Factual information is highly desirable, and may well be given by others if the parents feel themselves unfitted to impart it. But wherever sexual knowledge comes from, the atmosphere that surrounds it is what really matters.

Do some people like "routine" jobs best?

Answer: Yes. There is a type of person known as a "compulsive character" who feels safe only if he always does the same things in the same way. Changes disturb him, and having to make decisions in a hurry terrifies him. He is afraid of responsibility, but even more of letting himself act spontaneously. He grew up with an exaggerated fear of his own natural impulses and feels that to follow a fixed pattern of behavior is the only way to keep them under control. Too early and too strict toilet training may be where the trouble started.

Does music help industrial production?

Answer: That is the conclusion reached by a research conducted by the British Broadcasting Corporation and reported in Biology and Human Affairs, London. If the music "piped into" an industrial plant is well selected, it apparently helps workers to forget fatigue, relieves boredom, cuts down nervous strain, lessens the amount of distracting conversation, and reduces absenteeism. No one can do without pleasure very long, and if work offers little or none, any supplementary pleasure is of value.

Here's what happens in Washington in a year. Just last January, Mr. Truman happily trumpeted that Ike Eisenhower would not accept the Republican nomination.

Interesting events happen in that marble ant village on the Potomac. George Washington said that influence was not government and that second guesses gathered no moss.

Washington was no more an isolationist than a Fuller brush man with a loaded hand-bag. But he did know that foreign commitments were as dangerous as bottles with the labels off.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3 (INS)—er the holidays Glenn Ford put name on a contract for "Striking Match," which Mark Robson directing and rriet Parsons producing for K-O.

Considering 00 intoxicated n and women re arrested ring the holi-rs, "Strike A tch," which bert Smith is pating from his n story, is ex-mely timely. s the story of woman in Los Angeles at Christmas who cannot let liquor alone. Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna considered this very timely when they bought the story.

Susan Hayward

Susan Hayward won an Academy nomination for her performance as a drunk in "Smash Up," and may be borrowed from 20th, although this is still not settled and another top actress is being mentioned.

•—•—•

Corinne Calvert, the French cutie-pie who, at one time, was so uncooperative that Paramount dropped her contract, starts 1951 with a new deal at 20th. In addition to the contract Hal Wallis already holds on Madamoiselle Calvert's services, she'll make five pictures in the next two years for 20th.

She has just finished "On The Riviera" with Danny Kaye and Gene Tierney at 20th, and her first on the new setup is a mellerdrama "Sense Of Guilt."

It's wonderful the way Corinne has snapped out of her temperamental antics and settled down to one of the hardest working gals in town.

It's all very secret, but I'm reliably informed that Mike Todd and Radio Commentator Lowell Thomas have purchased a new sound recording system from the government.

Right now there is talk of using this system to produce a feature length picture in which Todd would star his ex-wife, Joan Blondell. Also the talk persists that Joan and Mike will remarry.

They are seen everywhere together and whenever she makes any TV appearances Mike is always in the control booth making sure Joan is vocally and photographically A-1. In show business, that's love, brother!

Bridges' Figured Tie

Gray-Figured Ties

FASHION: Film actor Lloyd Bridges (at left) wears one of the gray-ground ties that are proving a leading fashion feature for this season. In a wide variety of spaced-figures which pick up the clothing color, they're gay and smart for dress-up wear.

Good Ideas: To keep soap out of the youngsters' eyes when washing their hair—just rub some Vaseline or cold cream on the forehead. (Theirs—not yours!) . . . Bill Bertolotti told me—and you can tell your wife—that a couple of copper pennies, dropped into the water of a vase, will revive wilting flowers. (What else can one do with pennies these days?)

Handyman: To remove odor from bottles—fill with hot water, add teaspoon of mustard, let stand for hour, rinse and dry. . . . Have you a narrow garage? Here is a method for saving wear and tear on the fenders of your car. Merely suspend a ball from the center of the garage ceiling and line the radiator ornament up with it when entering.

Shaving Hints (from my favorite barber). Wash face first, with warm water. Leave it wet if using lather—dry for brushless cream. Let the latter soak in for five minutes, if possible, before shaving. Cut across the beard with diagonal strokes for close shave.

Wrong

Right

For Sportsmen: Be sure your golf clubs aren't stored in a too-dry place. The wooden heads and grips can dry out. . . . Winter sports enthusiasts should beware the glare. On a percentage basis, more sun-tan lotion is used by skiers than by swimmers.

Dress Tips: If shirt collars are just a bit too snug, you can stretch them slightly—by pulling on both ends of neckband. . . . If you must carry ordinary lead pencils in your shirt pockets, have the points down instead of up. Surprisingly, there's less tearage that way—and the shirt stays cleaner.

Care of Clothes: If seldom-worn clothes are stored in closet, shift the hangers around occasionally. Gives the clothes air and keeps lapels from getting out of shape. . . . Even if your hat doesn't seem to need it, give the bow on the band a brushing once in awhile. It's hard to get dirt out of creases if allowed to accumulate. Periodic brushing is easier and extends the life of the hat.

Odd Items: There's a "Drive-In Wedding Chapel & Auto Laundry" in Yuma, Arizona! . . . In the recent census, Scranton, Pa., had the greatest decrease in population in the first 100 cities—going from 63d to 80th place. . . . After selecting your cut of steak at the Sirloin Room, in Chicago's stockyards—you brand it, for identification, with a hot iron.

Rosemary Clooney

People: Movie star Kirk Douglas hasn't a swimming pool to his name—but his stand-in, Larry Randall, does have one! . . . And Ethel Barrymore apparently doesn't like new-fangled things. She rides around Hollywood in a 1925 car. . . . Songstress Rosemary Clooney (right) says, "Most men carry too many things in their pockets. It gets their clothes out of shape—and doesn't leave room for my compact, etc., that I'd like them to carry!" . . . This Week's "Pass the Cigars" to—Red Smith, who, within the confines of a limited field like sports, endows his pillar with literary gems and rare good humor.

Yesterday's Answer

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

K F M D S R K J H B K V, M F Q H U H C V C H R N, F C O F Q H C Z D X, Q R W H U H C W F Z C H H R W R Z B W M — C D W I B K.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Old Will Aired In Mineral Court Dispute

KEYSER, W. Va. — The will of the late Jacob Miller, Burlington, who died in 1931, has been reopened in a recent action in Mineral County Circuit Court in which the court ruled that the commissioner of accounts, then Hal Reynolds, had no authority to construe the will.

Attorney James H. Swadely, Jr., filed the suit recently in behalf of six grandchildren of Miller.

The defendant in the present action, Charles Rinker, who was the executor of Miller's estate, filed a demurrer in which he contended that Reynolds, the commissioner, had died 18 years ago and no action had been taken in that time. The demurrer also stated that the will excluded the plaintiffs because their mother, Mrs. Leona Rogers, had died before the will was made. The court overruled the demurrer, holding that the will, on its face, shows no intention to disinherit any child or grandchild of the deceased.

After Miller's death in 1931, Rinker, as executor, sold all the property except what was left to the widow and divided the proceeds among the three living children, excluding the grandchildren, following Reynolds' ruling. Miller's will had included a statement that, if any of the children should precede him in death then his or her share should be given to the grandchildren

Yank Officers Tell Of Terror On New Year Eve

By JACK MACBETH

WITH THE U. S. 24th DIVISION NEAR SEOUL, Korea—(AP)—Two young American officers huddled close to a hot stove and talked of terror on New Year's Eve.

In tired voices they recalled how waves of shrieking, singing, wild-eyed Chinese celebrated the Occidental new year to the accompaniment of bugles and whistles.

The told proudly but humbly how their men fought and how many of them died.

"We were doing okay until the two companies on our flank got shoved back," said Lt. Henry L. Oppenborn, Miami, Fla. He rubbed his hands and continued:

"We had been fighting with some enemy in front of us, but it didn't amount to much. Then we got ordered to drop back to protect our flanks."

Oppenborn, in his early 20s, said his platoon started down a ridge line but ran smack into several hundred Chinese who had slipped down the same ridge on its reverse side.

At a range of about 20 feet, he related, the enemy shouted something. Apparently they believed the American platoon to be friendly.

"I tossed my four grenades at them and they opened up with everything," he said.

"My men started to drop like flies. We returned the fire as best we could, but soon it was obvious we had to make a run for it. I gave the order, and we took off down a gully."

Finally, the lieutenant said, they reached the bottom of the gully and met another group of Americans.

Lt. Lester A. Loflen, Mount Airy, N. C., nodded his head and commented "that was the other outfit which had been forced back earlier."

Smoking a pipe slowly and deliberately, Loflen said that at one point during the bitter cold night he had been sent up to a mortar position with reinforcements.

"I no sooner got there than a whole company of Chinks came in on us, singing as though they were drunk," he said. "We chopped them down, but still they kept running straight at us. Pretty soon we had to get out.

"They were all around us," Loflen continued. "One guy stepped out about 20 feet from me and blew a bugle in my ear. It scared hell out of me. I fired five shots at him, but I don't know if I got him. Things were sure confused.

Loflen, with shrapnel holes in his parka to prove it, said Chinese mortar shells fell fast and thick. About 4 a. m. he gathered up as many as he could, took them to the road and walked them back to friendly positions, he said.

China Reds Make Good Air Target

By BILL BARNARD

FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP) — The Chinese Communist soldier in Korea makes a good target for air attacks — he doesn't scatter and run like the Korean Reds do.

An Air Force spokesman said that on more than one occasion "Chinese troops have continued marching down on open road while our planes swept down again and again," inflicting heavy casualties.

"The ranks would be broken only by the dead and wounded dropping out," he added. "North Korean soldiers scattered like rabbits when they see an American plane. But the Chinese seem psychologically unaffected by U. S. air power. When our planes go in with machine guns and rockets, Chinese soldiers go right on doing whatever they are doing, even though they are in great peril.

"This indicates a great, even though misguided, discipline. Our pilots especially appreciate such discipline, since it makes the Chinese soldier a fine target on some occasions."

The Eighth Army estimated that on Jan. 1 alone, U. S. planes killed or wounded 6,000 enemy troops.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T COVER AN HONOR

AGAINST the time when you should follow the parroty rule to "cover an honor with an honor," there are plenty of times when the contrary is more profitable. Among these are situations in which it is clear that covering will simply make it easy for your opponents to have some newly-established tricks. There are others in which you refrain because thereby you can cause the lead to be just where the opponent doesn't want it. And there are those in which refusal to cover will block a hostile suit.

West was one of those players who does everything by rule, or at least everything for which he has a rule. First the rule told him to lead the fourth-best of his longest suit, the heart 3, which was okeh. South took that in dummy to preserve his K as an entry. Needing some diamond tricks, he led the 2. East came in with the K and returned the heart Q, on which South refused the hold up, winning with the K. Now he led the diamond J.

"Always cover an honor with an honor," West must have said to himself as he put on the Q. The A knocked that off, and the 5 to the 10 brought two more diamond tricks with the 8 and 6. Now the spade J was of course covered by the K. The A won, also the Q, 10 and 5 to give the declarer a total of ten tricks, one over his contract.

West could have blocked the entire diamond suit by refusing to cover the J on the fourth trick. South then could have finessed spades to score four tricks in that suit and followed it with the diamond A. But that would have made only eight tricks, and the rest would have had to be given to the defenders in clubs and hearts.

West's automatic play of the diamond Q would have been avoided by a thinking player who figured out what would have happened if he put in his 9 and kept the Q as a blocker.

Generous Scattered Gains Blunt Slight Market Drop

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — Prices in the stock market lost a little of their edge today in spite of a brilliant show of strength.

Losses were from a few cents to around a dollar a share and even beyond two dollars in some cases.

But there were generous scattered gains which blunted the decline and gave a bullish undertone to the market.

Quick profit taking accounted for a lot of the selling, a development that was only natural after the market on average reached a new high yesterday going back to more than 20 years.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 40 cents at $89.40. The industrial componet of the average was down 60 cents and rails lost a like amount. Utilities, on the other hand, added 20 cents.

The most active in the list was International Telephone. It gained ⅞ at 14⅛.

Missouri Pacific preferred was second most active with a sharp loss of 3⅝ at 26½.

The volume of trading exceeded 3,370,000 shares today against $3,030,000 yesterday.

generally have been difficult ones, especially in Communist Poland and Peron's Argentina.

But the vigorous Griffis who has spent a fortune while working for the government at salaries which do not come close to covering his expenses, finds nothing very difficult if compared to his duties in 1943. It was his job for a time to dissuade the neutral Swedes from selling vital ball-bearings to the Germans, while the Eighth Air Force was running its costly raids against Schweinfurt and other Nazi bearing centers. The job called for a lot of shuttling back and forth between London and Stockholm, over enemy territory. Griffis travelled in perhaps the coldest and most uncomfortable accommodation known to aviation—the bomb-bay of an RAF Mosquito.

Matter Of Fact

victory is expected for Phibun's rival, Pridi Banomyong, the former Japanese collaborationist. Pridi is already known to have opened negotiations with the Communist high command.

In Burma, the distracted Socialist government has just decided on a firm anti-Communist policy. But it is hardly strong enough as yet to hold up under the pressure that must now be expected. Meanwhile in India, the death of the strongly anti-Communist Congress leader, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, makes it less likely that Pandit Nehru will respond to the anxious British pleas, that he prevent Communist occupation of Burma with Indian troops. And so it goes, throughout Southeast Asia.

If it were not for the threat of Chinese invasion of Indo-China, the whole Southeast Asiatic picture would now be hopeful and improving. Even in Indo-China itself, there has been an important response since the French have at last made the concessions to native nationalism that should have been three years ago. But all this hopeful process will be halted and reversed by the new step in the Kremlin's planned program of world aggression. And after Asia, will come Europe, and then, perhaps following a pause while the storm gathers new force, the tidal wave will engulf this hemisphere.

Old Will Aired In Mineral Court Dispute

KEYSER, W. Va. — The will of the late Jacob Miller, Burlington, who died in 1931, has been reopened in a recent action in Mineral County Circuit Court in which the court ruled that the commissioner of accounts, then Hal Reynolds, had no authority to construe the will.

Attorney James H. Swadely, Jr., filed the suit recently in behalf of six grandchildren of Miller.

The defendant in the present action, Charles Rinker, who was the executor of Miller's estate, filed a demurrer in which he contended that Reynolds, the commissioner, had died 18 years ago and no action had been taken in that time. The demurrer also stated that the will excluded the plaintiffs because their mother, Mrs. Leona Rogers, had died before the will was made. The court overruled the demurrer, holding that the will, on its face, shows no intention to disinherit any child or grandchild of the deceased.

After Miller's death in 1931, Rinker, as executor, sold all the property except what was left to the widow and divided the proceeds among the three living children, excluding the grandchildren, following Reynolds' ruling. Miller's will had included a statement that, if any of the children should precede him in death then his or her share should be given to the grandchildren

Yank Officers Tell Of Terror On New Year Eve

By JACK MACBETH

WITH THE U. S. 24th DIVISION NEAR SEOUL, Korea—(AP)—Two young American officers huddled close to a hot stove and talked of terror on New Year's Eve.

In tired voices they recalled how waves of shrieking, singing, wild-eyed Chinese celebrated the Occidental new year to the accompaniment of bugles and whistles.

The told proudly but humbly how their men fought and how many of them died.

"We were doing okay until the two companies on our flank got shoved back," said Lt. Henry L. Oppenborn, Miami, Fla. He rubbed his hands and continued:

"We had been fighting with some enemy in front of us, but it didn't amount to much. Then we got ordered to drop back to protect our flanks."

Oppenborn, in his early 20s, said his platoon started down a ridge line but ran smack into several hundred Chinese who had slipped down the same ridge on its reverse side.

At a range of about 20 feet, he related, the enemy shouted something. Apparently they believed the American platoon to be friendly.

"I tossed my four grenades at them and they opened up with everything," he said.

"My men started to drop like flies. We returned the fire as best we could, but soon it was obvious we had to make a run for it. I gave the order, and we took off down a gully."

Finally, the lieutenant said, they reached the bottom of the gully and met another group of Americans.

Lt. Lester A. Loflen, Mount Airy, N. C., nodded his head and commented "that was the other outfit which had been forced back earlier."

Smoking a pipe slowly and deliberately, Loflen said that at one point during the bitter cold night he had been sent up to a mortar position with reinforcements.

"I no sooner got there than a whole company of Chinks came in on us, singing as though they were drunk," he said. "We chopped them down, but still they kept running straight at us. Pretty soon we had to get out.

"They were all around us," Loflen continued. "One guy stepped out about 20 feet from me and blew a bugle in my ear. It scared hell out of me. I fired five shots at him, but I don't know if I got him. Things were sure confused.

Loflen, with shrapnel holes in his parka to prove it, said Chinese mortar shells fell fast and thick. About 4 a. m. he gathered up as many as he could, took them to the road and walked them back to friendly positions, he said.

China Reds Make Good Air Target

By BILL BARNARD

FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP) — The Chinese Communist soldier in Korea makes a good target for air attacks — he doesn't scatter and run like the Korean Reds do.

An Air Force spokesman said that on more than one occasion "Chinese troops have continued marching down on open road while our planes swept down again and again," inflicting heavy casualties.

"The ranks would be broken only by the dead and wounded dropping out," he added. "North Korean soldiers scattered like rabbits when they see an American plane. But the Chinese seem psychologically unaffected by U. S. air power. When our planes go in with machine guns and rockets, Chinese soldiers go right on doing whatever they are doing, even though they are in great peril.

"This indicates a great, even though misguided, discipline. Our pilots especially appreciate such discipline, since it makes the Chinese soldier a fine target on some occasions."

The Eighth Army estimated that on Jan. 1 alone, U. S. planes killed or wounded 6,000 enemy troops.

DON'T COVER AN HONOR

AGAINST the time when you should follow the parroty rule to "cover an honor with an honor," there are plenty of times when the contrary is more profitable. Among these are situations in which it is clear that covering will simply make it easy for your opponents to have some newly-established tricks. There are others in which you refrain because thereby you can cause the lead to be just where the opponent doesn't want it. And there are those in which refusal to cover will block a hostile suit.

West was one of those players who does everything by rule, or at least everything for which he has a rule. First the rule told him to lead the fourth-best of his longest suit, the heart 3, which was okeh. South took that in dummy to preserve his K as an entry. Needing some diamond tricks, he led the 2. East came in with the K and returned the heart Q, on which South refused the hold up, winning with the K. Now he led the diamond J.

"Always cover an honor with an honor," West must have said to himself as he put on the Q. The A knocked that off, and the 5 to the 10 brought two more diamond tricks with the 8 and 6. Now the spade J was of course covered by the K. The A won, also the Q, 10 and 5 to give the declarer a total of ten tricks, one over his contract.

West could have blocked the entire diamond suit by refusing to cover the J on the fourth trick. South then could have finessed spades to score four tricks in that suit and followed it with the diamond A. But that would have made only eight tricks, and the rest would have had to be given to the defenders in clubs and hearts.

West's automatic play of the diamond Q would have been avoided by a thinking player who figured out what would have happened if he put in his 9 and kept the Q as a blocker.

Generous Scattered Gains Blunt Slight Market Drop

Losses were from a few cents to around a dollar a share and even beyond two dollars in some cases.

But there were generous scattered gains which blunted the decline and gave a bullish undertone to the market.

Quick profit taking accounted for a lot of the selling, a development that was only natural after the market on average reached a new high yesterday going back to more than 20 years.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 40 cents at $89.40. The industrial componet of the average was down 60 cents and rails lost a like amount. Utilities, on the other hand, added 20 cents.

The most active in the list was International Telephone. It gained ⅞ at 14⅛.

Missouri Pacific preferred was second most active with a sharp loss of 3⅝ at 26½.

The volume of trading exceeded 3,370,000 shares today against $3,030,000 yesterday.

generally have been difficult ones, especially in Communist Poland and Peron's Argentina.

But the vigorous Griffis who has spent a fortune while working for the government at salaries which do not come close to covering his expenses, finds nothing very difficult if compared to his duties in 1943. It was his job for a time to dissuade the neutral Swedes from selling vital ball-bearings to the Germans, while the Eighth Air Force was running its costly raids against Schweinfurt and other Nazi bearing centers. The job called for a lot of shuttling back and forth between London and Stockholm, over enemy territory. Griffis travelled in perhaps the coldest and most uncomfortable accommodation known to aviation—the bomb-bay of an RAF Mosquito.

Matter Of Fact

victory is expected for Phibun's rival, Pridi Banomyong, the former Japanese collaborationist. Pridi is already known to have opened negotiations with the Communist high command.

In Burma, the distracted Socialist government has just decided on a firm anti-Communist policy. But it is hardly strong enough as yet to hold up under the pressure that must now be expected. Meanwhile in India, the death of the strongly anti-Communist Congress leader, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, makes it less likely that Pandit Nehru will respond to the anxious British pleas, that he prevent Communist occupation of Burma with Indian troops. And so it goes, throughout Southeast Asia.

If it were not for the threat of Chinese invasion of Indo-China, the whole Southeast Asiatic picture would now be hopeful and improving. Even in Indo-China itself, there has been an important response since the French have at last made the concessions to native nationalism that should have been three years ago. But all this hopeful process will be halted and reversed by the new step in the Kremlin's planned program of world aggression. And after Asia, will come Europe, and then, perhaps following a pause while the storm gathers new force, the tidal wave will engulf this hemisphere.

Kimble Named Minority Leader Of Senate As Assembly Opens

Allegany County Delegates Unsuccessful In Bids For Similar Position In House

Allegany County yesterday provided the minority leader in the Senate when Robert B. Kimble was named to that post but bids of members of the county delegation to a similar post in the House were unsuccessful.

His election was routine, even to the nomination of Kimble, the Republican leader, as his opponent. After a 17-10 vote, Kimble moved for unanimous election of Della.

John C. Luber, of the Fifth district, was elected speaker of the house, also on a strictly party-line vote.

ROBERT B. KIMBLE

A. R. LOFSTRAND

Retain Whip Hand

The Democrats retain the whip hand in the Assembly although a Republican, Theodore R. McKeldin, will become governor January 10.

In the Republican house caucus yesterday morning, Anders R. Lofstrand, of Montgomery County, thwarted Allegany County bids for the post of minority leader in the house.

At the caucus, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., withdrew as a candidate and was elected chairman of the meeting.

Lofstrand won the post when he received 26 votes to nine cast for Lester B. Reed, Allegany County delegate.

Leona Rush, Montgomery County, was named secretary of the House minority party.

See Heads Delegation

Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County delegation, said yesterday's sessions were strictly organizational in character and no business was transacted.

He said all members of the delegation were on hand for the opening of the session.

Each of the 123 members of the House, Delegate See reported, was given a parchment commission as a member of the legislature.

Committee appointments will be made next Monday or Tuesday, See said.

Fraley Seated Conditionally As State Senator

Gonder's Petition Sent To Committee

Republican Neil C. Fraley of Garrett County was seated conditionally as a state senator yesterday.

Bernard I. Gonder, his Democratic opponent in the November 7 election formally petitioned the Senate shortly after it convened for its 90-day session to seat him instead of Fraley.

The petition was received without comment and Fraley was allowed to take his seat "without prejudice" to Gonder's petition.

It will be referred to the elections committee.

Fraley, seeking election to a second term, received 3,080 votes to 3,079 for Gonder—a difference of one vote on the face of the canvassed election returns.

Gonder's petition said that he does not "charge any fraud or intentional wrong on the part of any election officials," but "does charge error and inaccuracy in tallying and counting of ballots cast and other irregularities in conducting the election."

Area Man Dies When Vehicles Collide Headon

John Graham, Jr., Is Fatally Burned

A former Mt. Savage man was fatally burned when two tractor trailers collided in Connecticut early yesterday morning, according to word received by the Mt. Savage Volunteer Fire Department.

Information received here was that Graham was burned to death in the cab of his vehicle while the driver of the other tractor-trailer was fatally injured when he was thrown from the cab as the vehicles collided head on.

He was a Navy veteran and a member of the Mt. Savage firemen, Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Survivors include his wife and one child; his mother, Mrs. John Graham, Mt. Savage, and two sisters, Mrs. Gerald Often and Irene, both of Mt. Savage.

The body will be brought to Mt. Savage tonight for services and burial. Veterans organizations of Mt. Savage will accord full military rites at the funeral.

Jaycees Favor City-Operated Parking Plan

Other Steps Taken At Monthly Affair

A resolution commending the action of Mayor Thomas S. Post and City Council in requesting authority from the Maryland Legislature to purchase and operate public off-street parking facilities was approved without dissent last night by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Earlier, the Jaycee board had endorsed this resolution, which supports the bill and commends the council for its action.

On a motion of Donald Coomber last night the Jaycees also voted to invite all charter and associate members to a monthly meeting in the near future.

The Jaycees also agreed to sponsor a boys team in the Hot Stove Baseball League in the coming season.

Another motion adopted last night, from Dr. Leland Ransom, instructed the public relations committee to study the problem of establishing a clearing house for social and other activities of the community. The committee will report back to the membership at the February 7 meeting.

Jack Price, chairman of the Jaycee Christmas lighting contest, reported on the success of the promotion. Robert Ebert informed the Jaycees that the next Barter Theater presentation in Cumberland will be Wednesday, February 14.

Club members also will discuss current developments, according to Jesse H. Simmons, club president. Simmons has arranged the program with the assistance of Jack Dohrman, secretary, and Paul Malcolm, treasurer.

B. & O. Revenue Freight Shows 1950 Increase

Monthly and weekly figures for the railroad also were higher than comparable periods of 1949, the railroad reported. # Aged Barber "Still Working"

Two old timers got together in a barber shop the other day as 76-year-old Jacob M. Myers prepared to cut the hair of Henry T. Helker, 220 Valley Street, in the Myers barber shop, 448 North Mechanic Street. Helker, retired grocer, has been active here for more than 50 years. Myers, who owns his own shop, has been cutting hair and shaving customers since he was 19 and has been in the present place for more than 38 years. He is very proud of his very steady hands and plans "to continue working until I'm forced to quit."

Eckhart Mine Mishap Termed Unavoidable

Workings Found In Excellent Order

The fall of rock which caused the critical injury of one Eckhart miner and the serious injury of another Tuesday was termed unavoidable yesterday following an inspection by state and federal mining officials.

The victims, Tillio "Ted" Spataro, 33, who suffered fractures of the spine and pelvis and a crushed spinal cord, and John Hess, 53, who suffered a fractured vertebrae, were reported improving last night in Memorial Hospital.

Bureau of Mines officials yesterday conducted a detailed inspection of the scene of the accident in a Consolidated Fuel Company mine in Eckhart.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, said the examination disclosed that the working where the rock fall occurred was in excellent order and that workmanship in the place was of the highest calibre.

He said it would have been impossible to have seen the slip because of its feather edge.

The veteran miners, both described as "good miners" were struck by the rock which was about seven inches thick and five to six feet in diameter.

They said there was a prop under the piece of rock that fell but that the support was swung out when the rock fell as the miners were cleaning up the face of the working after a machine cut.

Hess helped get the rock off his buddy and take him to the outside. He later returned to his home, collapsed and was taken to the hospital where X-rays disclosed he had suffered a fractured vertebrae.

Officials said Hess reported he was "shoved" by the rock that critically injured his buddy.

Powers said all of the officials present at the inspection were in agreement that the accident was unavoidable, due to the nature of the slip.

Also present were Clyde Rowe, mine inspector at large; Harry Buckley, district mine inspector; Harry Jones, federal inspector; James H. Close, superintendent of the mine, and Robert Glodtfelty, mine foreman.

The master of ceremonies today will be C. Oscar Hartsock, Kiwanis lieutenant-governor.

Steady Hands Help Barber, 76, To Continue His Work

Jacob Myers Began When Youth Of 19

By JOHN KNOWLTON
News-Staff Writer

"Look at these hands! Do they look like a barber's hands?"

That's how Jacob M. Myers proudly shows the hands that have made him a livelihood as a tonsorial parlor operator for more than 58 years and are "still going strong," as he puts it.

"Jake," as he is fondly called by those who know him best has been barbering since he was 19 and has operated his present shop at 448 North Mechanic Street for 38 years. Prior to that he owned and operated a shop on Valley Street for more than 12 years. At present he is aided in his small three-chair shop by his son, Herman J. Myers.

The little oldster—he's only a little over five feet tall and weighs less than 150 pounds — likes to reminisce a bit about times when he first began his trade compared to the present day and age.

He sometimes wonders how the old timers accomplished as much as they did when he thinks of the tools they used and the difficulties they worked under.

Better Tools Today

"Now they have electric clippers as well as scissors to cut hair," Jake commented, but the older barbers had to heat their water in buckets which they kept on old wood stoves and used only their scissors and razor to do the job. "We waste more water now than old time barbers ever used," the 76-year-old Negro mused.

With a sly grin, he added "And I never yet have found a barber who could make hair grow."

Today's barbers are driving their trade away, Myers thinks, because of their excessive demands on the public. The old fellow opens his shop as early as 6:30 in the morning and closes at 7 o'clock in the evening, taking only a half day off on Wednesdays' He remembers how he used to stay open until 2 in the morning sometimes.

"I get a little more tired now than I used to," Jake says, "because I put in a long day at my age, but I intend to keep at it until I have to quit. I'm still going strong and my hands are still holding out."

58 Years Of Barbering

And he again proudly shows his knarled, rought, big veined hands, with large broken joints on almost every finger—hands that look more like they have been catching baseballs for 58 years instead of barbering—and those hands are as steady as a surgeon's as he performs his daily chores of cutting hair and shaving customers.

When he first began barbering under the late John Robinson on Centre Street he broke in as an all around chore boy. "I worked at cleaning up the shop, cutting hair, shining shoes, and other details for 50 cents a week plus tips," he said, "and learned my trade for four years before going out on my own."

Modern barbering schools now teach the prospective barber the same trade in a year's time.

The white-haired oldster recalled that he began his barbering before he was 21.

Recalls First Vote

"I cast my first vote when I was 21 in the old Court House building. That was when Mr. Lowndes was the first Republican ever elected governor in the state." Lloyd Lowndes, Republican gubernatorial candidate from Allegany County, was elected governor of Maryland in 1895. "Had to wait until I voted, I guess," Myers laughingly remarked.

Thinking back to the days when he was a boy Myers remembered he was a pretty mischievous lad "about like everyone else in those days" but that he had to cut his frolicking short and work for a living.

"Then when a boy got caught doing something he shouldn't he got a whipping from the old man, but now he gets thrown in jail," the little fellow related as he

Icy Highways, Dense Fog Slow Area Traffic

A heavy, dense fog caused driving to be hazardous last night as Maryland State Police reported that traffic in some areas near here was virtually at a standstill as a result of ice and foggy road conditions.

They said ice forming on part of Route 40 and 220 as temperatures dropped was making traveling difficult.

The rain that slickened some city streets yesterday amounted to .15 inches, according to Robert R. Golden, official observer at Constitution Park.

Golden said the Potomac River measured 4.27 feet at 10 a.m. yesterday and it remained stationary during the afternoon and evening. A normal thawing caused by warmer weather would cause the river to rise slightly but not enough to pose a threat of flood, he said.

Golden said that Washington weather observers class any floods here as "flash floods" which occur when a lot of water enters normals channels at one time. Only a thaw and rain bordering on a cloudburst would make the local situation dangerous, he declared.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, said there had been no sleet in the district and except for the fog, traveling is good.

At Deal, Pa., the temperature at 10 o'clock last night was 48 degrees with cloudy skies.

The temperature at Thomas, W. Va., was 52 degrees and skies were cloudy.

Cloudy skies were also reported from Rockwood, Pa., where a temperature of 42 degrees was recorded at 10 p.m. yesterday.

Tri-State Plants Form Complex For Bidding On Defense Work

Walsh To Head Cumberland Industry Group

Conference Planned With Richardson Wood

Other officers are Joseph M. Naughton, first vice president; Earl D. Chaney, second vice president; Miles G. Thompson, treasurer, and Harold W. Smith.

Directors, to serve for three years, will be F. Patrick Allender, James W. Bishop, William H. Buchholtz, Adolf Blunk, Earl D. Chaney, David Kauffman, Frank A. Martin, John J. McMullen, Joseph M. Naughton and James L. Weber.

Chester T. Williams, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was named director to fill the unexpired term of R. A. J. Morrison, who was recently transferred.

John Conway, cashier of the Cumberland Savings Bank, will fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Howard M. Smith and Henry Swearingen, vice president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, to fill the term of the late Harry A. Pitzer.

Officers of the corporation also reviewed proposals submitted by Richardson Wood, industrial development consultant for the Cumberland-Allegany industrial development program.

They favored the continuation of the program under Wood's direction but referred action upon the proposals to the Executive committee.

In general, Wood's program for Cumberland area industrial development called for his continuing the work under (1) a three-year contract on a fee basis or (2) a fixed fee, plus bonus based on the payroll he might develop.

Officials generally favored a contract on a fixed fee basis plus a commission based on payroll development over a three-year period.

The Executive Committee was asked to meet with Wood and discuss his proposals, then work out a detailed plan which is to be presented to the Board of Directors.

Jaycees Discuss Plan To Sponsor Beauty Contest

Committee Must Give Its Approval

A decision was made last night at the Jaycees monthly meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to enter into a contract for "Miss Cumberland" sponsorship.

The only hitch in the sponsorship is that the entering into a contract is contingent upon approval of a committee appointed to investigate the promotion.

For the past three years the Jaycees here have sponsored a "Miss Cumberland" contest. The winner each year competes with other local winners in the state for "Miss Maryland" honors.

"Miss Cumberland" has become "Miss Maryland" on two occasions competed for "Miss America" honors at Atlantic City.

Firms Join Efforts On Federal Contracts

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce announced last night that as a result of a series of meetings of the 17 machine shops and small plants in the Tri-State area, an organized effort in joint bidding on United States Government defense contracts will be made in the coming months.

The Piedmont Tractor Division, Keyser, W. Va., has been designated as the coordinating and committing agency for the small plants in nearby Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The cooperative group has been designated Tri-State Industrial Complex.

John F. Somerville, Jr., this city, president of the Piedmont Tractor Division, stated a compilation of survey questionnaires submitted by the participating plants shows an impressive amount of specialized machinery and equipment available in this area for manufacturing purposes.

Assets and machinery in excess of $850,000 are available as well as over 500 machine tools. Over 165,000 square feet of manufacturing space is available to the Tri-State group.

Seek Defense Work

The Piedmont Tractor Division has commitments from all members of the Complex authorizing a pledge of their manufacturing facilities in bidding on United States defense contracts. Somerville, who acts as legal counsel for the group, said the immediate objective of the Complex is to secure at least $500,000 worth of government subcontracts for the Tri-State area within the next six months.

Plans for the complex were discussed at a meeting of the group in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, which has aided in setting up the program.

John Weber, Baltimore, of the Department of Commerce, discussed similar plans underway for cooperative bidding on defense work.

Weber said prime contractors have been getting the lion's share of the work so far but that there is still a lot of business left for sub-contractors.

Weber Praises Plan

He termed the present plan a good way to get started on federal work and presented a list of contractors with whom the cooperative might work.

He also offered suggestions on methods of solving the material problem, which is becoming acute in some phases of industry.

The Chamber pointed out that membership in the complex will not prevent any member from securing bids on its own efforts and so will not strangle individual efforts.

The catalogue of facilities available through the combine is being financed by the Chamber.

Firms participating in the complex are:

Kimble Named Minority Leader Of Senate As Assembly Opens

Allegany County Delegates Unsuccessful In Bids For Similar Position In House

Allegany County yesterday provided the minority leader in the Senate when Robert B. Kimble was named to that post but bids of members of the county delegation to a similar post in the House were unsuccessful.

Kimble won the post of minority leader in the Senate as the Maryland General Assembly convened yesterday in Annapolis.

His election was routine, even to the nomination of Kimble, the Republican leader, as his opponent. After a 17-10 vote, Kimble moved for unanimous election of Della.

John C. Luber, of the Fifth district, was elected speaker of the house, also on a strictly party-line vote.

ROBERT B. KIMBLE

A. R. LOFSTRAND

Retain Whip Hand

The Democrats retain the whip hand in the Assembly although a Republican, Theodore R. McKeldin, will become governor January 10.

In the Republican house caucus yesterday morning, Anders R. Lofstrand, of Montgomery County, thwarted Allegany County bids for the post of minority leader in the house.

At the caucus, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., withdrew as a candidate and was elected chairman of the meeting.

Lofstrand won the post when he received 26 votes to nine cast for Lester B. Reed, Allegany County delegate.

Leona Rush, Montgomery County, was named secretary of the House minority party.

See Heads Delegation

Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County delegation, said yesterday's sessions were strictly organizational in character and no business was transacted.

He said all members of the delegation were on hand for the opening of the session.

Each of the 123 members of the House, Delegate See reported, was given a parchment commission as a member of the legislature.

Committee appointments will be made next Monday or Tuesday, See said.

Other Steps Taken At Monthly Affair

A resolution commending the action of Mayor Thomas S. Post and City Council in requesting authority from the Maryland Legislature to purchase and operate public off-street parking facilities was approved without dissent last night by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Earlier, the Jaycee board had endorsed this resolution, which supports the bill and commends the council for its action.

On a motion of Donald Coomber last night the Jaycees also voted to invite all charter and associate members to a monthly meeting in the near future.

The Jaycees also agreed to sponsor a boys team in the Hot Stove Baseball League in the coming season.

Another motion adopted last night, from Dr. Leland Ransom, instructed the public relations committee to study the problem of establishing a clearing house for social and other activities of the community. The committee will report back to the membership at the February 7 meeting.

Jack Price, chairman of the Jaycee Christmas lighting contest, reported on the success of the promotion. Robert Ebert informed the Jaycees that the next Barter Theater presentation in Cumberland will be Wednesday, February 14.

Aged Barber "Still Working"

Two old timers got together in a barber shop the other day as 76-year-old Jacob M. Myers prepared to cut the hair of Henry T. Helker, 220 Valley Street, in the Myers barber shop, 448 North Mechanic Street. Helker, retired grocer, has been active here for more than 50 years. Myers, who owns his own shop, has been cutting hair and shaving customers since he was 19 and has been in the present place for more than 38 years. He is very proud of his very steady hands and plans "to continue working until I'm forced to quit."

Fraley Seated Conditionally As State Senator

Gonder's Petition Sent To Committee

Republican Neil C. Fraley of Garrett County was seated conditionally as a state senator yesterday.

Bernard I. Gonder, his Democratic opponent in the November 7 election formally petitioned the Senate shortly after it convened for its 90-day session to seat him instead of Fraley.

The petition was received without comment and Fraley was allowed to take his seat "without prejudice" to Gonder's petition.

It will be referred to the elections committee.

Fraley, seeking election to a second term, received 3,080 votes to 3,079 for Gonder—a difference of one vote on the face of the canvassed election returns.

Gonder's petition said that he does not "charge any fraud or intentional wrong on the part of any election officials," but "does charge error and inaccuracy in tallying and counting of ballots cast and other irregularities in conducting the election."

Eckhart Mine Mishap Termed Unavoidable

Workings Found In Excellent Order

The fall of rock which caused the critical injury of one Eckhart miner and the serious injury of another Tuesday was termed unavoidable yesterday following an inspection by state and federal mining officials.

The victims, Tillio "Ted" Spataro, 33, who suffered fractures of the spine and pelvis and a crushed spinal cord, and John Hess, 53, who suffered a fractured vertebrae, were reported improving last night in Memorial Hospital.

Bureau of Mines officials yesterday conducted a detailed inspection of the scene of the accident in a Consolidated Fuel Company mine in Eckhart.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, said the examination disclosed that the working where the rock fall occurred was in excellent order and that workmanship in the place was of the highest calibre.

He said it would have been impossible to have seen the slip because of its feather edge.

The veteran miners, both described as "good miners" were struck by the rock which was about seven inches thick and five to six feet in diameter.

They said there was a prop under the piece of rock that fell but that the support was swung out when the rock fell as the miners were cleaning up the face of the working after a machine cut.

Hess helped get the rock off his buddy and take him to the outside. He later returned to his home, collapsed and was taken to the hospital where X-rays disclosed he had suffered a fractured vertebrae.

Officials said Hess reported he was "shoved" by the rock that critically injured his buddy.

Powers said all of the officials present at the inspection were in agreement that the accident was unavoidable, due to the nature of the slip.

Steady Hands Help Barber, 76, To Continue His Work

Jacob Myers Began When Youth Of 19

By JOHN KNOWLTON
News-Staff Writer

That's how Jacob M. Myers proudly shows the hands that have made him a livelihood as a tonsorial parlor operator for more than 58 years and are "still going strong," as he puts it.

"Jake," as he is fondly called by those who know him best has been barbering since he was 19 and has operated his present shop at 448 North Mechanic Street for 38 years. Prior to that he owned and operated a shop on Valley Street for more than 12 years. At present he is aided in his small three-chair shop by his son, Herman J. Myers.

The little oldster—he's only a little over five feet tall and weighs less than 150 pounds — likes to reminisce a bit about times when he first began his trade compared to the present day and age.

He sometimes wonders how the old timers accomplished as much as they did when he thinks of the tools they used and the difficulties they worked under.

Better Tools Today

"Now they have electric clippers as well as scissors to cut hair," Jake commented, but the older barbers had to heat their water in buckets which they kept on old wood stoves and used only their scissors and razor to do the job. "We waste more water now than old time barbers ever used," the 76-year-old Negro mused.

With a sly grin, he added "And I never yet have found a barber who could make hair grow."

Today's barbers are driving their trade away, Myers thinks, because of their excessive demands on the public. The old fellow opens his shop as early as 6:30 in the morning and closes at 7 o'clock in the evening, taking only a half day off on Wednesdays' He remembers how he used to stay open until 2 in the morning sometimes.

"I get a little more tired now than I used to," Jake says, "because I put in a long day at my age, but I intend to keep at it until I have to quit. I'm still going strong and my hands are still holding out."

58 Years Of Barbering

And he again proudly shows his knarled, rought, big veined hands, with large broken joints on almost every finger—hands that look more like they have been catching baseballs for 58 years instead of barbering—and those hands are as steady as a surgeon's as he performs his daily chores of cutting hair and shaving customers.

When he first began barbering under the late John Robinson on Centre Street he broke in as an all around chore boy. "I worked at cleaning up the shop, cutting hair, shining shoes, and other details for 50 cents a week plus tips," he said, "and learned my trade for four years before going out on my own."

Modern barbering schools now teach the prospective barber the same trade in a year's time.

The white-haired oldster recalled that he began his barbering before he was 21.

Recalls First Vote

"I cast my first vote when I was 21 in the old Court House building. That was when Mr. Lowndes was the first Republican ever elected governor in the state." Lloyd Lowndes, Republican gubernatorial candidate from Allegany County, was elected governor of Maryland in 1895. "Had to wait until I voted, I guess," Myers laughingly remarked.

Thinking back to the days when he was a boy Myers remembered he was a pretty mischievous lad "about like everyone else in those days" but that he had to cut his frolicking short and work for a living.

"Then when a boy got caught doing something he shouldn't he got a whipping from the old man, but now he gets thrown in jail," the little fellow related as he

Icy Highways, Dense Fog Slow Area Traffic

A heavy, dense fog caused driving to be hazardous last night as Maryland State Police reported that traffic in some areas near here was virtually at a standstill as a result of ice and foggy road conditions.

They said ice forming on part of Route 40 and 220 as temperatures dropped was making traveling difficult.

The rain that slickened some city streets yesterday amounted to .15 inches, according to Robert R. Golden, official observer at Constitution Park.

Golden said the Potomac River measured 4.27 feet at 10 a.m. yesterday and it remained stationary during the afternoon and evening. A normal thawing caused by warmer weather would cause the river to rise slightly but not enough to pose a threat of flood, he said.

Golden said that Washington weather observers class any floods here as "flash floods" which occur when a lot of water enters normals channels at one time. Only a thaw and rain bordering on a cloudburst would make the local situation dangerous, he declared.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, said there had been no sleet in the district and except for the fog, traveling is good.

At Deal, Pa., the temperature at 10 o'clock last night was 48 degrees with cloudy skies.

The temperature at Thomas, W. Va., was 52 degrees and skies were cloudy.

Cloudy skies were also reported from Rockwood, Pa., where a temperature of 42 degrees was recorded at 10 p.m. yesterday.

Tri-State Plants Form Complex For Bidding On Defense Work

Walsh To Head Cumberland Industry Group

Conference Planned With Richardson Wood

Other officers are Joseph M. Naughton, first vice president; Earl D. Chaney, second vice president; Miles G. Thompson, treasurer, and Harold W. Smith.

Directors, to serve for three years, will be F. Patrick Allender, James W. Bishop, William H. Buchholtz, Adolf Blunk, Earl D. Chaney, David Kauffman, Frank A. Martin, John J. McMullen, Joseph M. Naughton and James L. Weber.

Chester T. Williams, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was named director to fill the unexpired term of R. A. J. Morrison, who was recently transferred.

John Conway, cashier of the Cumberland Savings Bank, will fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Howard M. Smith and Henry Swearingen, vice president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, to fill the term of the late Harry A. Pitzer.

Officers of the corporation also reviewed proposals submitted by Richardson Wood, industrial development consultant for the Cumberland-Allegany industrial development program.

They favored the continuation of the program under Wood's direction but referred action upon the proposals to the Executive committee.

In general, Wood's program for Cumberland area industrial development called for his continuing the work under (1) a three-year contract on a fee basis or (2) a fixed fee, plus bonus based on the payroll he might develop.

Officials generally favored a contract on a fixed fee basis plus a commission based on payroll development over a three-year period.

The Executive Committee was asked to meet with Wood and discuss his proposals, then work out a detailed plan which is to be presented to the Board of Directors.

Firms Join Efforts On Federal Contracts

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce announced last night that as a result of a series of meetings of the 17 machine shops and small plants in the Tri-State area an organized effort in joint bidding on United States Government defense contracts will be made in the coming months.

The Piedmont Tractor Division, Keyser, W. Va., has been designated as the coordinating and committing agency for the small plants in nearby Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The cooperative group has been designated Tri-State Industrial Complex.

John F. Somerville, Jr., this city, president of the Piedmont Tractor Division, stated a compilation of survey questionnaires submitted by the participating plants shows an impressive amount of specialized machinery and equipment available in this area for manufacturing purposes.

Assets and machinery in excess of $850,000 are available as well as over 500 machine tools. Over 165,000 square feet of manufacturing space is available to the Tri-State group.

Seek Defense Work

The Piedmont Tractor Division has commitments from all members of the Complex authorizing a pledge of their manufacturing facilities in bidding on United States defense contracts. Somerville, who acts as legal counsel for the group, said the immediate objective of the Complex is to secure at least $500,000 worth of government subcontracts for the Tri-State area within the next six months.

Plans for the complex were discussed at a meeting of the group in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, which has aided in setting up the program.

John Weber, Baltimore, of the Department of Commerce, discussed similar plans underway for cooperative bidding on defense work.

Weber said prime contractors have been getting the lion's share of the work so far but that there is still a lot of business left for sub-contractors.

Weber Praises Plan

He termed the present plan a good way to get started on federal work and presented a list of contractors with whom the cooperative might work.

He also offered suggestions on methods of solving the material problem, which is becoming acute in some phases of industry.

The Chamber pointed out that membership in the complex will not prevent any member from securing bids on its own efforts and so will not strangle individual efforts.

The catalogue of facilities available through the combine is being financed by the Chamber.

Firms participating in the complex are:

Jaycees Discuss Plan To Sponsor Beauty Contest

Committee Must Give Its Approval

A decision was made last night at the Jaycees monthly meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to enter into a contract for "Miss Cumberland" sponsorship.

The only hitch in the sponsorship is that the entering into a contract is contingent upon approval of a committee appointed to investigate the promotion.

For the past three years the Jaycees here have sponsored a "Miss Cumberland" contest. The winner each year competes with other local winners in the state for "Miss Maryland" honors.

"Miss Cumberland" has become "Miss Maryland" on two occasions competed for "Miss America" honors at Atlantic City.

U. S. Will Fight On, Austin Declares

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 3 (AP) — The U. N. cease-fire committee today acknowledged failure in its efforts to stop the fighting in Korea. U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin, promptly said American troops will fight on against aggressors in Korea and urged the free world to stand together in the hope of averting a world war.

These powers are sponsoring a U. N. resolution calling for Communist China to withdraw her troops from Korea. The U. S. was reported seeking support for a stronger resolution labelling Communist China as the aggressor, but a spokesman said no formal resolution has yet been drafted.

Rau Reports Failure

Sir Benegal N. Rau of India told the 60-nation Political Committee of the General Assembly that the three-man cease fire group was not able to find a satisfactory arrangement to stop the fighting. He said the group had no recommendations now, but insisted that "every honorable avenue should be explored to maintain peace."

"If by mischance there should be a third world war," Rau said, "then history would record that the United Nations had done everything humanly possible to avert it."

Austin called on the U. N. to show the Chinese Reds how bad their Korean adventure is bound to prove for them, saying in that way "we can hope to avert the tragic consequences of an extension or a continuation of the conflict."

No Appeasement, Austin Said

"In the view of my government, aggression must be resisted," Austin said. "There can be no appeasement. The United Nations is engaged in its peace-making functions in the use of such force as has been used and will continue to be used. The people of the free world, acting through the United Nations, must decide how the Charter can best be upheld."

Voicing American determination to continue fighting against aggression, Austin said:

"If hostilities continue, our troops will fight on in Korea. This is in keeping with our understanding of the resopnsobilities laid on all members by the resolutions of the Security Council and of the General Assembly."

President Signs Profits Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — President Truman signed the $3,300,000,000 excess profits tax into law today and served notice that "more and much heavier taxes" will be needed.

The new law, second tax hike since the outbreak of the Korean war, hits corporations alone. In signing it, however, Mr. Truman said that in the coming months "we shall have to canvass and recanvass every revenue possibility" to keep the nation's financial situation stable under the impact of the costly rearmament effort.

His language clearly opened the possibility of heavier taxes on individuals.

Revenue from the excess profits tax, combined with existing levies on individuals and corporations, is expected to funnel a record $45,000,000,000 a year into the Treasury. In wartime 1945, collections hit the previous high — $43,900,000,000.

Dynamite Blast Kills 20

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 3 (AP)—A dynamite blast killed 20 men and injured 28 others near the port city of Chimbote today. Failure to count accurately the number of dynamite explosions caused the victims to be buried under tons of debris and rocks.

Missing Illinois Family Of Five Believed Slain

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 3 (AP) — A blood-splattered, bullet-riddled automobile found on Tulsa's outskirts today led police to theorize tonight that a missing Illinois family of five had been murdered — possibly by a hitch-hiker.

The missing people were Carl, 35, and Thelma Mosser, 29, and their three children, a farm family of near Atwood, Ill. Their blood-stained clothing was found crumpled in the car.

Officers and volunteers were searching the area tonight for bodies.

Acheson Wants Soviet Yes Or No To Peace Talks

Declares Moscow Ignores Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson indicated today that the Western Powers may ask Russia for a plain yes or no answer to their proposal for world peace talks.

Moscow, he declared, ignored the proposal in its weekend note. That Russian message renewed the idea of a foreign ministers conference to discuss German questions alone. The U. S., Britain and France want to talk about all major issues causing present global tension.

"It is obvious," Acheson said, "that we must have further clarification of the Soviet position before we can assume that the U. S. S. R. is ready to accept our proposal to discuss the solution of outstanding problems, including Germany, in regard to which the Soviet attitude has created a sense of insecurity in minds of peace-loving nations."

The United States has started discussions with Britain and France on the next step. There have been reports from Paris that the western capitals were divided on the chances for a useful Big Four meeting on Russia's terms, but Acheson told his news conference that he found no differences.

He declined to predict in so many words that Moscow would be asked for the clarification of its stand. But it appeared obvious to his hearers that only the Kremlin itself could shed real light on Soviet intentions.

The Russian note, Acheson commented, was neither an acceptance nor a rejection of the proposal the U. S., Britain and France submitted on Dec. 22.

Refugee Women Ordered Searched

WITH U. N. FORCES NORTH OF SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 3 (AP)—Forward Allied battalions today ordered a strict search of all refugee women crossing battle lines when spot checks revealed this latest wrinkle in guerrilla supply:

Chinese Reds Using Copies Of U. S. Rocket

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The Army said today rockets used against U. S. troops in Korea are Chinese Communist copies of an American made 4.5 inch rocket.

A statement noted that press reports had indicated the rockets were of American manufacture. However, the Army said experts in the field had found them to be copies of the U. S. World War II rocket.

Ship Strikes Rock

SYDNEY, Australia, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—The 11,000-ton British freighter Palana hit a rock and was badly holed off Pine Peak Island last night. Advices received here said most of the crew of 69 had taken to lifeboats and a Dutch freighter was standing by to render aid.

Administration Suffers Jolt As New Congress Convenes

Representatives Are Sworn In

Dixie-GOP Bloc Restores Power To House Group

Can Prevent Bills From Reaching Floor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The new 82nd Congress convened today under the threat of World War III and with a warning from President Truman that he will soon ask "much heavier" taxes to pay for the nation's rearmament.

Watched by crowded galleries, the legislators met in an atmosphere of solemnity and tension stemming from the realization that the next two years may be the most fateful in American history.

In the Senate, Vice President Barkley banged his gavel promptly at noon to start the legislative machinery rolling. The chamber recessed 38 minutes later, until Friday, after the oath-taking ceremonies for new senators and those re-elected to new terms.

In the House, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) opened the session in the newly redecorated blue-and-gold chamber, and stood with his colleagues in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

Youngest House Member Is 27

Among the 430 new House members sworn in, 27-year-old Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif), a World War II veteran, became the youngest member of the 82nd Congress.

Taking the speaker's chair for his sixth term—longer than any man before him—Rayburn told the House in grave tones that "the United States of America cannot wrap two oceans around it and stay secure and free."

Administration forces suffered a jolting setback in the first hours of the new session when a coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans rolled up a 244-179 margin in a critical test of House strength.

Nominally, the Democrats control the House by 235 to 199, but there was no mistaking the power of the Dixie-GOP bloc to threaten that slim majority at any time.

The vote came on a motion to restore authority to the coalition-dominated House Rules Committee to pigeonhole legislation.

Rule Is Repealed

Mustering 92 Democrats and 152 Republicans, the coalition rammed through a repeal of a rule which had allowed other committees to bypass the rules group and get legislation to the House floor.

Truman Democrats put in the rule two years ago because Dixie Democrats and Republicans on the Rules Committee were bottling up many administration measures — notably President Truman's civil rights proposals.

Across the Capitol, the Republican high command also opened fire on the administration. Sen. Taft

Peiping Radio Gloats Over American Defeat

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP) — "They just ran and ran and ran."

That's how Peiping radio tonight described the American defeat by Chinese Communist "volunteers" in the Changchin reservoir area last month.

"The Americans have developed a technique whereby they have put running away on a streamline basis," the broadcast said. "Instead of going forward they get into reverse and go 'forward' that way — then if they hear a shot they can easily start to run."

Administration "Bungling" Hit By Gov. Dewey

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey charged today that President Truman's administration had bungled home defense, and urged the Legislature to gird New York state for its "own salvation" against possible atomic attack.

Dewey outlined a sweeping and costly preparedness program for the state, in the face of what he termed the "genuine possibility" of a "most savage" attack. But, he said, "I hope it will not be necessary" to increase taxes.

The two-time Republican presidential nominee told the opening session of the 1951 Legislature that drastic economies must be carried out in all non-vital state activities. He also recommended pay boosts for teachers and state employes.

Dewey charged that Russia was "in fact, waging a war in a number of forms against us now."

Dewey was inaugurated Monday for a third four-year term. He already has served as governor longer than any Republican and is the first of his party to be elected three times.

Republican Senators Reelect Top Leaders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Republican Senators late today unanimously reelected their top leaders for another two years in office.

Then they became tangled in talk over a proposed new system for giving freshman senators some major committee jobs.

The leadership slate, put through without opposition, includes:

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of policy committee; Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.), floor leader; Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the conference which includes all 47 senators; Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), assistant floor leader, and Sen. Young (R-N.D.), secretary of the conference.

Plans For Splitting Warner Movie Empire Announced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Plans for splitting the vast Warner brothers movie empire into two separate concerns were announced by Attorney General McGrath today.

The proposed action is part of the government's 12-year-old drive to break up movie combines on the ground of anti-trust law violation.

McGrath said Warner Bros. has agreed to the solution.

Similar "bills of divorcement" have already been put into effect for Paramount and RKO, and negotiations along the same general lines will be applied to Loew and Fox.

Under the plan, Warner Bros. will be split into two new companies operating independently of each other. One will limit itself to movie production and distribution. The other will operate local film theaters across the country.

The plan, which will involve the sale of some movie houses in Warner's 430-theater chain, will be presented by federal attorneys in U. S. District Court in New York tomorrow (4 p. m., E. S. T.)

Officials said the new Warner Theater Company will have less than 375 exhibition houses when the changeover is completed.

The Justice Department stipulated that when the split-up takes place, the three Warner brothers—Harry M., Albert and Jack L.—must decide within 27 months whether they will remain in the production-distribution end or in the exhibition end.

McGrath said the Warners, who own about 25 per cent of Warner Bros. stock, have agreed to this.

Super Carrier Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — Legislation for a 60,000-ton super aircraft carrier which presumably could put the Navy in the atom bomb business was introduced today as one of the first bills of the new congress. Hearings start Jan. 9.

In the background as Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee offered the measure were the same explosive issues which brought about the "admirals' revolt" and a sensational congressional investigation in 1949.

The basic disputes then were over the roles to be assigned to the Navy and the Air Force in carrying long-range war to an enemy, and the division of funds to prepare for those roles.

The Air Force, which has primary responsibility for strategic bombing under the service unification program, never liked Navy plans for a 65,000-ton atom bomb carrier. Air enthusiasts argued it would be a vulnerable target, not specially valuable for Navy operations on and close to the sea and inefficient as compared with big land-based bombers for long strikes.

Louis Johnson, then secretary of defense, cancelled construction of the proposed U.S.S. United States in April, 1949, after the keel for the huge ship had been laid at Newport News.

Dance Of Death

AUGSBURG, Germany, Jan. 3 (AP)—Two Portugese sister dancers died today from burns suffered when their dresses caught fire last week in an Augsgurg night club.

They were identified by hospital authorities as Lucilla Ferreira, 30, and Lucinda Ferreira, 21, both of Lisbon.

Less Tin, Aluminum To Go In Metal Tubes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) —The government is getting ready to squeeze some tin and aluminum out of the metal tubes in which shaving cream and a number of other products are sold.

Officials of the National Production Authority advised manufacturers of such tubes today that an order is being developed fixing the amount of tin that may be used in each of their products.

"This order," the NPA said, "is designed to help the industry maintain present production levels and at the same time considerable savings of tin and aluminum."

SHIPS READY TO REMOVE U. N. TROOPS

WITH U. N. NAVAL FORCES OFF WEST COAST OF KOREA, Jan. 3 (AP) — United Nations naval forces are ready "to redeploy our ground troops by sea," should Korean war developments make that necessary, Rear Adm. L. A. Thackrey said tonight.

"We are ready to provide naval gunfire and, if necessary, naval transports and merchant ships to redeploy our ground troops by sea," Thackrey declared.

He said ships of several U. N. nations, including the United States, Great Britain, Canada and Australia, are lying off shore, waiting to do whatever they can to aid Allied troops.

Truman Sets Up Agency To Speed Nation's Defense

William H. Harrison Named To Head DPA

On recommendation of Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, the President gave Harrison a new agency—the Defense Production Administration—to govern all stages of production from mine to factory.

Harrison can pull the trigger on rationing of consumer goods, if that becomes necessary. He becomes boss of the emergency agencies scattered in the Commerce and Interior Departments and Interstate Commerce Commission.

In the production realm, he will wield the same authority over production—including industrial priorities, power, fuel and transportation—that Alan Valentine now wields in the field of price and wage stabilization.

Further, the new DPA will have certain powers, not defined in detail, over military buying and contracting — which some civilian officials have criticized as being too slow.

The authority of W. Stuart Symington, one-time "defense coordinator" and still chairman of the National Security Resources Board, was further stripped down.

Harrison takes over Symington's power to certify companies for direct loans under the $600,000,000 defense expansion program and to approve plant construction projects for tax benefits to encourage expansion.

Mr. Truman's nomination of Harrison, who has been head of the National Production Authority in the Commerce Department, is subject to Senate confirmation. This, it was predicted, will be given readily.

Harrison, former president of International Telephone & Telegraph Company, is responsible for the steady stream of NPA orders under which civilian supplies of copper, lead, rubber, zinc, nickel and other materials have been curtailed to make way for arms production.

He, like Valentine, will be subject to the "direction, control and coordination" of Wilson, brought to Washington last month as the supreme mobilization chief under Mr. Truman.

Value Of Ford Estate Is Put At $80,319,445

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP)—A final accounting of the estate of the late Henry Ford was filed in probate court today by his three grandsons.

It put at $80,319,445 the value of the estate that had been variously estimated at from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 when the pioneer auto manufacturer died April 7, 1947.

The accounting was filed in behalf of the late Mrs. Clara J. Ford, who was acting as executrix of her husband's estate when she died last Sept. 29. It showed the Ford Foundation, established in 1936 for charitable and educational purposes, received $38,623,365, and the grandchildren—Henry II, Benson, William and Josephine—divided $12,868,335 in equal shares.

Red Flanking Threat Rises East Of Capital

Enemy May Enter City By Nightfall

Allied fliers reported they inflicted 100 casualties on the vanguards of seven Red armies rolling in on the heels of four retreating American divisions and a British brigade.

The Allies demolished and abandoned the big Kimpo airfield, 15 miles northwest of Seoul.

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 4 (AP)—Four American divisions and a British brigade retreated through flaming Seoul today ahead of seven Chinese Red armies. Enemy vanguards were expected to reach the abandoned South Koeran capital by nightfall.

A Communist entrapment threat developed to the east. Off Seoul's port of Inchon United Nations warships and transports stood ready to take off Allied troops if necessary. Inchon is 20 miles west of Seoul.

The U. S. heavy cruiser Rochester last night began bombarding Chinese northwest of Seoul with her nine eight-inch and 12 five-inch guns.

Other cruisers and destroyers of the U. S., Great Britain, Australia, Canada and the Netherlands were ready to add the weight of their fire.

Red cavalrymen were swinging down from Eastern Korea in an obvious attempt to cut roads down which U. N. forces could retreat southeastward from Seoul to the old Pusan beachhead.

Some U. N. trops still were north of the burning, deserted capital seeking to slow the onrush of hordes of Chinese foot soldiers.

Allied Planes Hit Reds

"It was almost certain that Chinese would be in the city before another sunset," reported AP Correspondent William J. Waugh from the war zone.

Swarms of Allied planes were in action, adding to a toll of 2,000 Red casualties inflicted by aircraft rockets, jellied gasoline bombs and machine-gun fire Wednesday. The planes swarmed back to the attack at sunup today.

Long columns of trucks and other vehicles, crammed with troops, moved south from Seoul.

A grave flanking threat arose simultaneously 50 miles east of Seoul. North Korean forces were striking swiftly southward toward Allied lines of retreat in Central Korea.

The question of the hour was: Would the powerful Chinese and North Korean offensive sweep the United Nations army entirely out of Korea?

The storm of battle was expected to break over the ancient Korean capital of Seoul at any hour. The city was paralyzed. It waited for the conqueror to come for the second time in six months.

U. N. Casualties Heavy

Associated Press Correspondent San Swinton said only a thin U. S. and Allied line stood between Seoul and elements of seven Chinese Communist armies at Seoul's outskirts.

The stricken city's fall depends upon how soon the Chinese can reassemble for a savage smash at this holding line. The enemy suffered bloody losses in a tornado of fire from Allied guns and warplanes. Allied casualties also were heavy.

The Korean police rounded up the few able-bodied citiezns still left in Seoul and set them to digging entrenchments on the south bank of the Han River. The Han flows through Seoul.

Normally a good defense line, it now is frozen. It is no more than a bridge for the swarming enemy.

Transit Strike Looms

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3 (AP)—A tieup of trolley and bus service within the next two weeks loomed sharply today after the Baltimore Transit Company and the union broke off contract talks.

Lane Says Adequate Taxes Needed To Continue Advances

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 3 (AP)—One sure thing in an uncertain world is that adequate taxes will be necessary to continue the advances of his four-year administration, Gov. Lane said today.

Otherwise, duties of Maryland's legislators will depend mostly "on policies and programs adopted on a national scale," the Democratic Governor said in his farewell message prepared for delivery at opening of the General Assembly.

Lane will give up the governor's position to Republican Theodore R. McKeldin Jan. 10.

"In matters of domestice concern," Lane told the Assembly, "you will find that the mounting requirements of the mobilization of our national strength will impinge, to a greater or lesser degree, on virtually every facet of the operation of the state government...

"Only the foolhardy would venture the expectation of business as usual in the weeks, and months, and years that loom ahead.

"Of the thing you may be sure—none of the advances which have been made in many fields in this state since the conclusion of World War II can be carried forward without adequate tax revenues to support them."

Among the advances Lane cited were "improving our hospitals for the mentally ill and the tuberculosis; for raising the standard of public education and staffing the schools with qualified personnel; for rehabilitating our system of roads.."

"It was a hard task" he declared.

"Existing revenues fell far short of providing the funds for the needed improvements—in fact, far short of supporting the state government at the level on which it was then functioning."

He recalled he had to take $15,000,000 from reserve funds "just to keep going as we then were" upon assuming four years ago.

His administration wasn't entirely one of tax increases, Lane maintained. He recalled the 1950 General Assembly broadened exemptions of the state income tax and reduced the real estate tax Last month, a special session raised the starting point of the sales tax from 14 to 50 cents and exempted certain items.

Lane said it is estimated now there will be a surplus of $6,312,742.78 June 30, end of the current fiscal year.

"One of the major concerns of this General Assembly" will be the needs of school construction, Lane predicted. "Unquestionably this problem will be complicated by restrictions in construction that will necessarily follow the increasing tempo of the marshaling of resources for the rearmament program."

The program will be created, the governor said, by an estimated 115,000 pupil increase in Maryland schools during the next seven years.

The legislature also will have to wrestle with the state's road rebuilding program, Lane forecast.

USSR Buys Granite Ordered By Hitler—And Never Used

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan 3 (AP) —The pile of red Swedish granite Hitler ordered for a victory monument to himself—and never used—is going to the Soviet Union for a monument to somebody.

Adolf Hitler paid 20,000,000 marks (about $8,000,000 at the time) for the same stone a decade ago but the 18,500 tons of the attractive well-cut blocks never left Swedish shores.

The Soviet purchase was confirmed today by E. K. Fernstroem, head of the A. K. Fernstroem Stone Industries Company, present owners of the Hitler granite. He said he did not know what kind of monument the Russians plan to build.

He would not comment on the price the Russians are paying.

Mother Must Decide If Her Child Loses Sight Or Life

ATLANTA, Jan. 3 (AP)—Four-year-old Carolyn Purcell faces a life without sight, or no life at all, and the decision must be made soon by her mother.

The little girl has cancer in both eyes.

Specialists said just before Christmas her eyes must be removed or the little girl would die.

Two more specialists, appealed to by Carolyn's tearful mother, were unable to change the earlier diagnosis after a long examination today. However, they recommended only that Carolyn's right eye be removed immediately. About the other eye? They wouldn't say anything.

Mrs. Frank Purcell hasn't made up her mind yet.

"Oh, I don't know, I don't know," she wept. "I can't answer a thing like that. I keep hoping for a miracle. Maybe the Lord will take a hand and save her from darkness."

More Local Men Called In Draft

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator of draft boards here, received orders this morning to send 25 registrants to Martinsburg, W. Va., for pre-induction physical examinations.

Fahey said the men, all of Board No. 28, will leave Queen City Station January 15 at 5:55 a. m. and return to Cumberland the same day.

Frostburg Board No. 30 will send 30 registrants to Martinsburg for examinations January 8.

Attendance Contest Staged By Churches

The contest will close Easter Sunday. Both the attendance at the Sunday school and worship services will be counted. Reports will be sent to the church each Monday. On the Sunday following the end of the contest, Mr. Messenger with his Bible school staff of teachers will come to Cumberland and exchange pulpits and classes with the Christian Church. Rev. Gearhart and his staff will go to Johnstown.

Trial Magistrate Carpenti Answers City's Charges

Trial Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday answered city police officials who Tuesday night questioned his handling of certain parking tickets by personally entering 78 violations on the police docket without having the violators appear in court or post bond.

Magistrate Carpenti, who said he was not asked to discuss the matter with police or attend Tuesday night's Council meeting when queries were made, wrote the following reply to Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long:

"This is in reply to your letter dated January 2, postmarked 7 p. m. on the same day and which I received at 9:45 a. m. on January 3, today. I wish to sincerely thank you for your kind courtesy in matter in publishing the letter prior to my reception of it. Of course, you could have called me on this matter as you did on another matter.

Some Did Appear

"In reference to the list that you have in your letter, I can truthfully say (not from hearsay, either) that some of the people mentioned did appear in Court either personally or by a representative which they have a right to do. Those who did not appear on the particular mornings in question had seen me personally in my offices, The Trial Magistrates Court on Union Street where I transact some city business, such as issuing warrants, listening to complaints, etc. This is done for the convenience of all concerned, including myself, the general public and the police department.

"For your information, no bond need be posted in parking violations for the ticket is only a summons to appear and in the cases of those people who did not appear in court, and the sentence for violation was suspended, the people involved pleaded guilty to the violation and offered a sufficient excuse for their inability to be present in Court. This was done in what seemed to me to be the public interest inasmuch usually the officer involved in the ticket is not in Court anyway. It has been felt by the magistrates that the ticket speaks for itself.

"Until your election to the position you now hold, no question was ever raised regarding the actions of the magistrate while he was performing his duty on the bench. All the tickets were placed on the docket in open Court in plain view of the desk sergeant and others who may have had business in Court on that particular day.

"I might also add that at various times during my periods of duty on the Police Court, suspended sentences or dismissals on parking tickets and other violations of the City ordinances have been granted at the request of some of your officers even though the officer involved on the ticket or the defendant were not present.

Will Change Policy

"In view of the attitude of the Police Department which is headed by you, I wish to assure you that all city business relating to violations of ordinances whether parking or other, will be handled in Police Court only and the public and the Police Department will have to be inconvenienced. I can also assure you that if you had mentioned this to me when you were talking to me over the phone, I would have done the same by assuring you personally that no city business will be handled except in Police Court."

Mayor Thomas S. Post, who presided at the Council session, asked City Solicitor W. Earle Cobey to take the parking ticket matter under consideration. The former appeared in Police Court yesterday morning as a spectator in a parking ticket case.

Police said an employe of Memorial Hospital received a ticket December 11 for illegal parking in a restricted zone adjoining the Elks' Home on South Centre Street. A hosiptal official called Mayor Post who referred the matter to Commissioner Long. Eventually the case was turned over to Chief R. Emmett Flynn who referred the case back to the commissioner.

Comment By Mayor

The defendant appeared in court today and admitted that he had parked illegally and noticed warning signs. Mayor Post showed up shortly before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew fined the violator $1. Said the Mayor:

"I thought he (the defendant) was to appear and be found not guilty. I'd better put Carpenti back on there."

Read To Council

Long brought up the ticket subject when he read into the Council record a copy of a letter which he sent to Magistrate Carpenti.

W. Dwight Stover Sworn In As State's Attorney

W. Dwight Stover, of Oakland, was sworn into office as state's attorney of Garrett County in a ceremony yesterday morning in the office of Asociate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Administering the oath to Stover was Judge Harris in the presence of Mrs. Stover, Associate Judge George Henderson, Paul Fisher, sheriff of Garrett County, and Parole Officer David M. Steele.

Stover was elected in November without opposition on the Republican ticket. He had been appointed State's Attorney in January, 1948, to fill the unexpired term of Walter W. Dawson, who resigned.

A native of Garrett County, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Stover, of Mountain Lake Park. He is married to the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Stine.

Upon being graduated from Oakland High School, he entered Eastern University in Baltimore where he received a bachelor of laws degree in 1942.

Stover was admitted to the Maryland bar on April 7, 1942, and three days later entered the Army. He served four years with the Military Police.

Jobs In Maryland More Easy To Find

It's getting easier to find a job in Maryland, the head of the State's Employment Security Board says, according to the Associated Press.

Board Chairman William H. Mahaney, reported employers are relaxing their specifications for new employes. This is because lists of the unemployed are shrinking and job openings are increasing.

"Employers are placing less stress on age provided a worker is qualified and physically capable," Mahaney declared.

"More and more women will be needed both in productions jobs in war plants and as replacements in non-defense industries for men entering the armed forces or taking jobs in war industries."

The nation's defense effort is given as the reason for the changing situation.

Maryland now has about 40,000 unemployed — mostly in unskilled and semi-skilled categories. Mahaney estimated about 70,000 workers are available for jobs.

The Will For Freedom

There is a rule in business which could be turned to good purpose in Washington's dealings with foreign powers. In any transaction of importance contracting parties declare they are ready, willing and able to live up to their obligations.

This is more than a declaration of good intent, which is vital, but also an affirmation by those who are parties to the transaction that they are not only ready and willing, but also able, to carry out its specifications.

Preliminary to an ambitious program to rearm Western Europe, it is widely demanded that the nations involved should first make a declaration of their intentions. There is considerable doubt that they can be fully relied upon to offer stiff resistance to the spread of communism.

Before the United States spends more billions in Europe, there should be a guarantee European nations are willing to help themselves to the fullest extent possible.

The U. S. can provide armament and troops, but unless there is complete cooperation by the spirits of determined peoples, all that would come of it would be another Korea. Europeans must have the will for freedom if they are to escape the menace of communism.

Ruined By Relief

Canadian Eskimos are reported to be enjoying one of the most prosperous winter seasons in recent years. From Ottawa comes word that the caribou are on the move, and the government relief checks arrive on schedule every month.

Nanook of the North is not the man he used to be before the Canadian government put him on relief and started giving him up to $8 a month for every child under 16 years of age. Those with large families are enjoying such prosperity there no longer is need to depend upon their own initiative and effort, as they did before relief came.

Sometimes in years past the caribou, the principal source of Eskimo diet, failed to appear and things were tough for Nanook. But the caribou are to be found in all sections of the country, relief checks are coming through, and it looks like a fat winter for the Eskimos.

In many respects the relief program has been harmful to these simple people. Many are no longer content with such simple food as caribou meat and whale blubber, but have shown a taste for the white man's diet. Crime is on the increase where formerly it was practically unknown. Drinking has become a serious problem for the authorities.

Fell Into Trap

Many Allied military leaders were fearful of trouble with Russia as long ago as World War II, when the Russians refused to permit American military observers to go to the Russian front and interned U. S. fliers who landed on Russian soil after bombing Japan. Washington at the time was making every effort to strengthen the Soviet government economically as well as militarily.

It is recalled that General Patton, soon after the fall of Berlin, in an address to his troops, told the men to banish the idea World War II had been a war to end war. He told the troops they would be fighting Russia within 10 years.

General Patton was taken to task by leftwingers in and out of Washington for his utterances, and General Eisenhower removed him from command of his Third Army. Real Americans sided with Patton, but they had little influence in Washington at the time.

In recent months, because of the turn of events in the Far East, there has been growing criticism of Eisenhower's action in permitting Russia to have the honor of entering Berlin first, and of Washington's long record of kotowing to the Stalin crowd, which started with recognition of the Moscow regime by Roosevelt in 1933.

The Old Army Game

Harassed taxpayers will applaud the Senate "watchdog" committee when it deplores the fact that the Army has bought butter in the open market at the same time that the government was paying storage on a butter hoard and losing money on spoilage. Actually, however, it is not the Defense Department or the Commodity Credit Corporation that is responsible for this wanton waste of the taxpayers' money.

The blame lies entirely with Congress which, at the behest of the administration, passed the laws which require the CCC to buy butter when that commodity falls below the so-called "support price." And the law also provides that the CCC cannot sell the butter to the Army or anybody else unless it receives five per cent more than the support price in addition to reasonable handling charges.

The cure for all this foolishness? The very least that should be done is to pass a law permitting one government agency to sell anything to another government agency at cost.

As it is, everybody's hands are tied except those of the taxpayer. He is privileged to put them in his pocket and dig up the required money. If ever there was an old army game this is it.

German Attitude

In Germany the average man approaches the subject of the remilitarization of his country with the question, "What have I got to fight for?" He says the Americans, British and French should do the fighting. A German magazine poll shows 82.6 per cent against compulsory military service.

There are indications that most Frenchmen and Britons feel Americans should do the fighting. Probably if they fall under the heel of Russia, they will not think this aloofness was such a good idea.

Germans frequently express the fallacious thought that it is doubtful whether Moscow can stir up the Russian people to attack the West if the West takes no aggressive action. It will not be necessary to stir up the Russian people. They are slaves, and as such will take orders.

Harelip Can Be Corrected

THE BIRTH of a malformed youngster is a hard cross to bear. The parents are upset emotionally and may feel so conscience stricken for months thereafter, that they refuse to mingle with society. Most of this reaction can be avoided by learning all that is known about the particular abnormality.

Medical science has made rapid strides in the correction of many defects that are present at birth. Cleft palate and harelip provide excellent examples of what can be done. The transformation created by surgical repair of this unsightly imperfection is little short of miraculous. Several operations are needed and the experience is almost as trying for the parents as for the child.

As soon as the father and mother are aware of the condition of their infant they are likely to ask the age old questions: "Is it inherited? Have we done something to cause it?" Hereidity plays a role in about 40 per cent of all cases. This possibility exists only when there is a family history of the disturbance. Otherwise, nature probably can be blamed; something happened prior to birth in the period in which the upper jaw was forming. The normal process was delayed so that the roof of the mouth and the upper lip failed to close. German measles and other virus infections cause related defects of the eyes, ears, and heart and it is possible that a somewhat similar infection is a factor in harelip and cleft palate. In these cases the ancestors are not to blame and the abnormality cannot be passed along to succeeding generations.

Occasionally we are asked point plank by one who has a defect of this nature whether or not his children will be affected in like manner. If he knows his family tree and there is no hereditary tendency, the chances are good that the flaw will not appear in later generations. On the other hand, if the family history is not clear, the answer of necessity, must be vague. In the old days many youngsters with this defect failed to survive and after they died the parents kept the secret.

• — • — •

"When are you going to operate?" is another question asked by parents. This is an individual problem but most surgeons recommend that the lip be repaired in the first few months of life, when the infant is gaining weight and is in good condition to undergo the procedure. The opening through the hard and soft palates is left alone for months or even years, to permit growth of these parts. Meanwhile, the child has difficulty in nursing because he cannot suck and his nourishment is expelled through the nose and does not reach the stomach. A device is available that can be placed over the roof to supply an artificial ceiling. This will permit food to go to its destination.

The results of surgery often are unbelievable. They are rarely appreciated unless we look at before-and-after pictures. But the improvement in appearance is only part of the job. Many of these children must be taught to speak; and re-alignment of the teeth often is necessary. The psychological aspects must be watched. It is apparent that the problem of the cleft palate is complicated and requires the services of many specialists. To encourage this teamwork, physicians are starting rehabilitation clinics where all of these services are available.

NO SUGAR

B. W. writes: I have not used sugar for the last three years since I have been trying to reduce. A friend tells me I may damage my liver by this practice. Is this possible?

REPLY

No. After all, sugar is only one form of carbohydrate which is an essential food element. In addition, any time you eat sweet food you are obtaining a certain amount of sugar.

• — • — •

NAUSEA FROM DRUG

Mrs. E. writes: I'm giving my youngster aureomycin under doctor's orders but it makes her sick to her stomach. Is there any way to prevent this?

REPLY

A glass of milk with each dose often prevents irritation of the stomach. Antacids and aluminum gels also help but there is some evidence that these products interfere with absorption of the drug.

DIPHTHERIA PROTECTION

M. B. writes: Should an adult who was exposed to diphtheria be immunized if the Schick test is positive.

REPLY

Yes, immediately. Members of the family, school teachers, hospital personnel, and employes in children's homes are susceptible to the disease if they never had it and never received the protective vaccine.

Truman Letter-Writing May Pay Unexpected Dividends; Congress To Consider Draft Law Changes; Price Czars Stymied By Under-Parity Prices

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the "man of letters" in the White House is going to make a lot of money for the recipients of those letters.

Out in Denver, Dr. Neal Bishop, who suggested to Mr. Truman that John L. Lewis be appointed ambassador to Russia, is going to auction off his Trumanesque reply for the benefit of the Denver Community Chest.

The reply, which stated that he, Truman, would not even appoint John L. as dogcatcher, should bring a large amount of money—though Bishop has generously given the letter to the Community Chest and they will make the profit.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Paul Hume, the Washington Post music critic, has turned down various offers for his letter regarding Margaret Truman's singing. One offer is reputed in five figures.

If Mr. Hume ever does decide to sell this coveted letter, it can make him much more dough than he realizes, for he will only have to pay a capital gains tax of 25 per cent on the sale. In other words, the Truman letter is not earned income, but a special personal gift from the President of the United States. A gift is not taxable until it is sold, and as long as Mr. Hume keeps the letter more than six months, his tax will be only 25 per cent.

If Treasury agents argue about this, Mr. Hume can tell them quite truthfully that his letter is something which happens only once in a lifetime, that it was an unsolicited gift from the President, and that if any gift tax is paid it should come out of Harry Truman's pocket, not his.

Other people who got indignant letters from the President can also cash in on this nice low-bracket tax. In brief, the President has been awfully kind to Mr. Hume, to Bernie Baruch, to Dr. Bishop, to Jimmie Byrnes and others. The only one he has slighted is me. Because when he hurled the "servant of brotherhood" charge in my direction, he did it orally. He did not write a letter.

Someday, if I can get up nerve enough, I am going to ask Mr. Truman to put it in writing, so I can have something either to hand down to my children or else sell under a capital gains tax. Having been the first to arouse public Presidential ire, I think the President owes it to me to put it in writing.

NOTE—Anyone who wants to bid on the Truman letter blackballing John L. Lewis as dogcatcher can wire the Denver Press Club.

New Order of Draft

Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey is recommending the following changes in the draft law to the new session of Congress:

1. That the draft age be lowered from 19 to 18 years, with the maximum age limit kept at 25.

2. That deferment of enlistees in the Organized Reserves and the National Guard be stopped.

3. That draft eligibles between 18 and 25 be taken in the following order: first, all unmarried college students except the top third in their classes; second married nonvets without children; third, unmarried veterans; last, nonvets with children.

Increased Living Cost

One thing that has stumped price czars Alan Valentine and Mike DiSalle is that they cannot impose over-all price controls on certain farm products until the cost of living goes up even more.

This is because the farm bloc in Congress inserted a provision in the price control bill whereby certain farm prices cannot be controlled at a point under parity or under the price of last May and June.

Because of this, the Agriculture Department has advised the big bakers and millers that they face no early price control. Bread will have to increase one or two cents a loaf to permit price controls, Ralph Twigg, the department's production and marketing boss, privately informed bakers and millers last week.

The Agriculture Department has also informed Economic Stabilizer Valentine that over-all controls on farm products would raise the nation's food bill from five to ten per cent because of the number of commodities now below parity prices.

Meat Price Ceilings

Of the foods that will be controlled, beef, lamb and veal top the list. All are above parity. Price Administrator DiSalle will have a meeting with Chicago meat-packers and Western cattlemen this month and expects to put a price ceiling on meat in February. It will take at least that time for him to get organized.

Next to meat, products most likely to be controlled include cotton, raisins, rice, flue-cured tobacco, and possibly cottonseed oil, all of which are above parity. Valentine and DiSalle are hesitant about controlling wool, also above parity, for fear of discouraging domestic production of this critically short war essential.

Publicly, the Agriculture Department has taken an aloof position on farm price ceilings, but privately it has submitted the following list of farm products for possible control:

Wool, about 29 per cent above parity; cotton, 27 per cent above; sheep, 10 per cent above; beef cattle, 5 per cent above; rice 2 per cent above; tobacco, 2 per cent above; and lamb, 1 per cent above.

The list also shows these items to be below parity: Hogs, 10 per cent; peanuts, 12 per cent; milk for processing, 12 per cent; soy beans, 12 per cent; butter fat, 13 per cent; eggs, 14 per cent; wheat, 15 per cent; edible dry beans, 16 per cent; corn, 18 per cent; chickens, 25 per cent; oats, 18 per cent; potatoes, 51 per cent; and oranges, 60 per cent.

Silver Bullets

A plan to use "silver bullets," the ancient and still most effective weapon in China, is being carefully studied by U. S. strategists.

One specific proposal offers hard cash and a guarantee of food to Chinese who surrender to United Nations forces in Korea. A soldier with rifle or pistol would get $10 plus six months food rations. A soldier surrendering a mortar would get one ounce of gold, and so on up to five gold bars (10 ounces) to be given for the surrendering of a plane or a unit commander surrendering with his troops.

Intelligence reports from the front reveal that only a fraction of the Chinese troops fighting in Korea are hard-bitten Communists not susceptible to silver bullets.

Washington Pipeline

Friends of Herbert Hoover are telling how he cleared his recent keep-out-of-Europe speech with four 4-star generals in the Pentagon . . . George Sokolsky is given credit for ghosting most of the Hoover sermon . . . Keep an eye on Ernest Kai, alert Honolulu attorney as the probable next governor of Hawaii. Part Chinese, Kai is being boosted as an answer to the Moscow propaganda that we discriminate against Orientals.

The Wave

WASHINGTON

THIS squalid city currently resembles nothing so much as a drunken beach picnic, continuing in full course, its members reveling, quarreling, gormandizing and making fools of themselves, long after the hurricane warning has been given.

By all the signs, the all-out Chinese offensive in Korea is only the first instalment of what is in store for us. The latest intelligence confirms the impression that the Kremlin means to round out its triumph in Asia by a Chinese attack on Indo-China, timed to follow immediately upon the effort in Korea and thus to intensify almost incalculably the political impact of Korean defeat.

During the past two weeks, the French have been forced to close their consulates at Kunming and Canton. These are the only points in South China where the French might have observed Chinese Communist preparations for an attack across the Indo-Chinese border.

Simultaneously, a Soviet air mission has turned up on the island of Hainan, off the South China coast. Russian jet aircraft, presumably transferred to the Chinese Air Force, have also appeared on the Hainan Island airfields. These airfields command northern Indo-China. The Russian jets should be more than a match for the few score B-26 bombers and the hundred odd propeller-driven fighters which this country has given the French for Indo-China's defense.

Propaganda Changed

Finally and most significantly, there has been a recent marked change in the propaganda line of the Viet Minh movement of Ho Chiminh, the Kremlin's native instrument in Indo-China. Until recently, Ho Chi-minh's following was in majority more nationalist and anti-French than party-line Communist. The Indo-Chinese hate their Chinese neighbors quite as much as they do the French colonialists. Hence Ho Chi-minh's propaganda for a long time was pointedly silent about Chinese "liberation" of his country.

Now three things have happened. The Ho Chi-minh propaganda has suddenly begun to stress the glorious advantages to Indo-China of being "liberated" by the Chinese. A number of the more nationally-minded Ho Chi-minh followers have defected. And other non-Communist nationalists with influence in the movement are being purged, according to recent reports.

All this of course implies that Ho Chi-minh has either agreed or submitted to a plan of Chinese invasion. The date when the Chinese will move is generally set within this month, and by many people before Jan. 15.

On the French side, the new commander, Gen De Lattre de Tassigny has at last arrived in Indo-China. He disposes of perhaps 150,000 French, African and Foreign Legion troops, plus perhaps some thousands of loyal native Indo-Chinese. But these French forces face the Chinese "liberation army" of 250,000, now at Nanning just above the border; plus Ho Chi-minh's own organized force of about 70,000; plus the guerrillas whom Ho Chi-minh is able to raise up in many areas.

Will Affect All Asia

Confirmation has been received that the Chinese army at Nanning, which also has some face-saving Indo-Chinese elements, is under the direction of a Sino-Soviet staff. News has reached Washington of tanks and other heavy equipment being gathered for the attack. The roads and railroads leading into Indo-China are also reported ready.

In short, the task of Gen. De Lattre de Tassigny would appear well-nigh hopeless. Meanwhile, the probablitiy is greater than ever that a successful Chinese invasion of Indo-China will affect the rest of Asia like a ten-strike in bowling. In neighboring Siam, the pro-American administration of Premier Phibun Songgram has just dug itself in to withstan normal storms. But with the Chinese Communists across the border, an early

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 — The United States is determined to keep the war in Korea from spreading beyond the borders of that unfortunate country. That's the present policy and yet it imposes on our forces a handicap the far-reaching nature of which the American people scarcely realize.

Munitions of war are going from Great Britain and other members of the United Nations to Red China. There is no economic boycott of war materials flowing to the aggressor.

Airplanes built and equipped by Russia are being sent into Korea to fight against the UN forces.

Despite the knowledge that Russia is aiding in the military fight against the United Nations, there is no denunciation by the UN of Soviet Russia's part in killing the young men who are fighting under the UN flag.

Despite the fact that Red China is engaged in an organized war against UN forces, Great Britain still maintains diplomatic relations with Red China and objects to restrictions on her trade with Communists in the Far East.

Encouraging Aggressors

Despite the fact that resistance to aggression was ordered by the UN in the resolution of June 26 last, no resolution has been adopted by the UN condemning all the nations which have been aiding the aggressors.

What is even more depressing is that member governments of the UN are encouraging the aggressor countries by giving an impression of divided counsels in the UN. Instead of presenting a united front against the aggressors, there are various countries which behind the scenes are violating the spirit of the UN's own resolution by trying to obtain admission of Red China to the Security Council of the UN.

The UN forces in Korea are engaged in a life-and-death struggle. Most of the troops are American but the faithlessness being shown inside the UN is a blow to all the UN forces. Every day that this situation continues, public opinion in the United States will keep on wondering whether the recent speech of John Foster Dulles, urging Americans not to forsake their allies in Europe, might not better have urged certain governments allied with us in the UN not to forsake us.

The military situation in Korea will remain desperate but not hopeless. For many weeks, perhaps months, the struggle will go on as brave men withstand superior numbers. There will be retreats and setbacks but ground will be given only after severe punishment has been inflicted on the enemy.

The battle would be won without question if the UN forces could bombard the supply depots and air bases of the North Koreans in Red China. For every bit of outside aid is coming from across the border in Manchuria, which, according to UN instructions, the American Air Forces are forbidden to attack even in retaliation.

History records no such handicap in fighting a major war of the past, and the responsibility for the handicap must be placed squarely on the UN member governments which voted to resist aggression and then refused to allow the aggressors to be attacked at their bases of supply.

Bluffed Into Inaction

The usual argument against authorizing UN airmen to bomb bases in Manchuria is that this might start World War III. This means, in effect, that the UN is being bluffed into inaction by fear. It means that the UN, for all practical purposes, is acknowledging its inability to enforce the peace of the world against aggression.

But is military force the only means? Surely the hesitation to extend the war by bombardment of Manchurian bases should not tie the tongues of the spokesmen of the free world in the UN. There have been times in world history when courageous statesmen have not feared to use moral force. Plainly the continued presence of Russia in the UN affords no advantage to the family of nations. Likewise, the continuance of diplomatic relations with Moscow itself does not reflect credit on free governments.

Thus, the American ambassador to Russia reported recently that he is a virtual prisoner and cannot move about freely in Moscow. If that's all the value that our communication through diplomatic channels affords today, the same opportunity of communication is available through wireless and the mails. It would seem that to maintain diplomatic relations with barbaric governments is to condone their evil and to make a mockery of an organization which uses the name "united" in its formal title.

These Days

The Blame Is Fixed

ON JULY 8, an estimated 116,000 regular Chinese Communist troops were stationed in Manchuria. By August 8, this number had been increased to 217,000; by August 30, to 246,000. After September 21, Lin Piao's Army, arriving from South China, and with other contingents, brought the Chinese Communist troops in Manchuria up to 850,000.

These dates are important because, if you will recall, throughout this period the American people were led to believe that somehow we were going to have a deal with Mao Tze-Tung, that British diplomacy would help win Mao away from Russia, and all that was needed was to give Soviet China a seat in the United Nations. Meanwhile they were building up this huge force to fight us.

What made it easy for the Chinese Communists was the immobilization of the Nationalists, their acceding to President Truman's instruction for Chiang Kai-Shek to refrain from any military action against Soviet China. This assurance made it possible for Lin Piao's army to return to Manchuria. Lin Piao's army was reinforced by other Chinese Communist troops not usually associated with him.

When the build-up reached 10 corps of three divisions each, namely the 55th, 57th, 41st, 46th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 42nd 56th and 45th along the Yalu with other unidentified divisions along the Tumen, the situation became serious. The potential for a large invasion was present.

The United Nations forces were facing a new force with which only the highest government levels could have contact. When these 30 divisions and the waves of divisions behind them began to move like a horde across the Yalu into Korea, MacArthur, as a military commander, was forced, by his instructions, to stand still until they were out of Manchuria. He could use no weapons at his disposal to keep them on the other side of the Yalu. He could only fight them after they had crossed from Manchuria into Korea. Never had a commander faced a more harassing situation.

From all this the conclusion is inevitable that the Chinese Communists had not had enough troops in Manchuria in June and July to intervene in the Korean situation; that they were able to build up their forces because they were assured by the United States, directly, indirectly or by inference, that Nationalist China would remain immobilized by the U. S. 7th Fleet and by an agreement between Chiang Kai-Shek and President Truman.

Once Soviet China was convinced that this would hold, it moved Lin Piao's army from South China to Manchuria, added other units to it, thus producing an overwheming force against General MacArthur.

Throughout this period, Chiang Kai-Shek offered his services either for participation in Korea or for guerrilla warfare. This, Washington rejected on the ground that it would bring Soviet China into the war. After Soviet China took over the war, the United States continued to reject Chiang's services, although his participation would have forced Soviet China to withdraw troops from Manchuria for service in South China.

It is almost impossible to explain this policy by political or historical logic. It makes no sense. Yet that is precisely what our policy is and has been up to this moment.

And that is what General MacArthur has been up against. As a commander in the field, he has not been permitted to avail himself of intelligence, of reconnaissance by air, of the use of a willing ally whose nearly a million troops are ready for action, having been fighting Chinese Communists since 1927.

In fact, this story adds up to our weakening our own forces while strengthening the enemy and doing it all in diplomatic maneuvers at the highest levels, in direct opposition to General Douglas MacArthur's judgment on the spot. It would not be unwise for a committee of the Senate to investigate this Korean war that the people may know the facts.

The time has come for Americans to know the facts. As the "Hongkong Standard" said:

"His critics who have for years indulged in the fond dream of achieving peace at the expense of others have no right to complain. If any one has the right to complain, it is General MacArthur. He did not bring on the war; only he has to fight it — often with his hands tied."

Legion Plans Meeting Sunday On Child Welfare

Paupe said the session will be for district executive committeemen, post commanders, auxiliary unit presidents and the heads of the 40 & 8 and 8 & 40, in addition to child welfare chairmen, junior baseball chairmen and membership chairmen.

Attending will be the Maryland Department child welfare commission comprised of Martin Iverson, Bethesda, chairman; Dr. Jerome S. Cullen, Baltimore, and Samuel A. Graham, Cumberland.

The officers of the new Mountain District Child Welfare Coordinated Committee will be chosen, Paupe reported.

This group is being set up to dispense the child welfare program on a district-wide basis, according to Paul C. Weisenmiller, this city, district Legion child welfare chairman.

Instead of pursuing this program from the individual organization standpoint, the department believes more can be accomplished on a district level.

Participating in the district child welfare coordinated groups are two members from each of the 14 Legion Posts, 13 Legion auxiliary units, and 40 & 8 and 8 & 40 units.

In preparation for the district's junior American Legion baseball season this spring, Paupe said a district baseball chairman will be named.

He urged that each post participating in the league should have as representatives the post commanders, baseball managers and chairmen.

Also to attend will be Benjamin Wolfson, of Baltimore, department membership chairman. He will outline the 1951 program in the state for recruiting additional members.

Discarded Yule Trees To Be Collected

Discarded Christmas trees will be collected here Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights, January 10, 11, and 12.

Emmett A. Dougherty, city garbage contractor, set collections for next week and urged that residents place garbage and trees on curbs separately.

Two different collections will be made each night, one for trees and one for garbage.

"Residents should not place trees on top of garbage cans," Dougherty said.

There are some 700,000 beds in mental hospitals in the United States—not nearly enough.

By BOB CONSIDINE

SIDEGLANCES at Celebrities: Vagrant memory of Lt. Gen. Matt Ridgway . . . On a short trip to Korea last August the iron-faced, straight-backed General paced up and down the aisle of Gen. MacArthur's plane in his paratrooper's boots. He couldn't wait to get there.

Other generals, some of them of equal rank, lounged easily in the seats of the plane and chatted about things ranging from their kids to their golf scores. Ridgway either sat alone, going over maps, or strode restlessly, or moved up to the cockpit to talk to Lt. Col. Tony Story, MacArthur's pilot.

There was some hesitation on the part of the group to pick up and strap on the .45's provided for them before the landing. But that didn't go for Ridgway. He was the first to arm himself, and one Air Force general, who had said he didn't care for a gun, reconsidered at the sight of the stern Ridgway, shrugged, and said, "Well, I guess I'd look pretty silly without it, if I needed it."

Ridgway was first down the ladder at Taegu, to pump the hand of the man he was destined to succeed, Gen. Walton Walker. During the briefings that followed later at Walker's headquarters and Maj. Gen. Gay's First Cavalry Hq., at an abandoned racetrack, Ridgway asked most of the questions. And in a voice that was made for giving orders. It was at his insistence that the group bounced up to a battalion command post in a shed about a mile from the North Korean lines.

When Gen. Wu and his party left New York to return to Red China by way of Moscow, by an unfunny coincidence, airline attendants discovered that they had bought so many clothes and luxuries here that their overweight charges amounted to nearly $2,000.

Wu tossed two $1,000 bills on the counter, to take care of the bill, while airline attendants with brothers, relatives and friends fighting in Korea winced.

To date, no one has satisfactorily answered this question, "Who paid for Wu's abusive trip to New York?" The first report was that they came with dollars they had picked up in Hong Kong. But a spokesman at the Waldorf where the group ran up a bill slightly resembling the national deficit, said he "presumed" the U. N.—which means us, financially—would grab the tab.

If it is true that Marshal Georgi Zhukov is directing the Chinese Red armies in Korea, as reported, this may represent a "comeback" for the one-time Red army leader. Or another chance to regain his lost lustre.

Zhukov was broken to a comparatively minor command at the beginning of the cold war. The charge against him seems to have been that he got along fine with Gen. Ike Eisenhower, during that period that began at the Elbe. The honeymoon ended late in '45 when Zhukov, invited to fly to the U. S. for a visit, (he was offered Ike's C-54 and, as travelling companions, Maj. Gen. Lucius Clay and Lt. John Eisenhower) was ordered to leave Berlin and return to Moscow.

It was thought for some time that he had been liquidated.

Learn to dress as the models do, and you'll be sure to look smart and chic in all your clothes!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

EVERY day, I see proof walking a fashion-show runway that it's not so much what you wear, but the way that you wear it that counts. A good model, with her knowledge of how to wear clothes, can take even a poorly-designed dress and cut right through its dowdiness and give it an aura of smartness. In the midst of glamorous lames and minks, she can model a simple sports dress or a plain skirt and sweater and look so attractive as she glides down the runway that every woman in the audience resolves to own the outfit. That's really wearing clothes with a personal flare—and it's what every Powers Girl does!

Backstage

How? If you'd like to learn the secret, let Model Susan Hold lead you backstage for a lesson in model dressing.

"The lightning speed with which the models must dress is never allowed to interfere with the care given to each detail. Knowing how important the foundation garment is to the finished effect, a model may change hers with each costume if a different type of underscoring is required.

"The same is true of her stockings. She changes them for the purpose of ensembling costume colors, which in turn makes her legs look trim and inconspicuous.

"She also gives her slip much thought. It's adjusted so carefully that there can be no underlying ripple to disturb the smooth line of her dress. And you'll never catch her with a light slip under a dark dress — on the other way round. What can't be seen is as important to the poise of a well-dressed woman as what is apparent to all eyes.

"From underpinnings to the last earbob, everything is donned with a deftness and skill that must add up to perfection. The model makes certain that closings are safely secured, and seams, shoulders and neckline 'set' in the right place.

Model Ways

"Because her hair is groomed to mind her at all times, it takes only a half second to put on her hat, and gather up her accessories. Smoothing on her gloves on her way to the wings, automatically placing her bag at a slenderizing angle to her body (practice makes this second nature), she takes a last glance in the long mirror off stage and enters on cue.

"Whenever you see a woman who wears her clothes smartly," concludes Miss Hold, "you can be sure that she has dressed with the same kind of practiced care."

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

THE State of the Union message I have no advance information on . . . However, I am just breathless from an exclusive interview with Mr. Truman, who did tell me that what this country needs is "stronger leadership" . . . But my Mr. Truman's report to the nation is probably entirely different from what your Mr. Truman will say . . . My Mr. Truman is William Edward Truman Jr., a 30-year-old telephone employe, whose life is plagued by such bum gags as this:

AUSTINE

Children and grown-up children alike cannot resist calling and asking to talk to this other Mr. Truman of the Capital . . . Lately they've even been asking him to write them letters.

Claiming no relation to the family in the White House, he doesn't play the piano, have a singing daughter, or any children for that matter . . . Just lives in the suburbs at Temple Hills, Maryland, and thinks "we're on the brink of another world conflict."

Everybody was wild-guessing over the week end what the Truman would say . . . Galleries in both the Senate and House expected to be brimming to the rails for the opening of the new Congress yesterday . . . And the Senate still convened with only one lady in its midst —Margaret Chase Smith . . . Maybe last week was an off week—between two Congresses—between two holidays—and between two years . . . But the city began gaining momentum Saturday morning before New Year's . . . Trunks, suitcases, furniture and families of new senators arriving . . . And the new fellows themselves snooping around to look things over.

The 14 new members of the Senate hailing from everywhere Salt Lake City and Pekin, Ill., to Custis, S. D., and Fayette, Idaho . . . Among them, four governors fresh from executive mansions, six former representatives already familiar with the workings of Congress (like George H. "Handsome" Smathers of Florida, and California's piano-playing Richard Nixon. Incidentally, Nixon celebrates a birthday Jan. 9 . . . The new Senate now has two Butlers (Hugh of Nebraska and John of Maryland) . . .

Three Smiths . . . And Texas and Colorado each send a Johnson (Colorado's Senator Edwin, got his Happy Birthday cards on New Year's Day) . . . All the Thomases have gone . . . Oklahoma's Thomas opens a law office here . . . While Utah's Thomas expects to be a governor of the Mandate Islands in the South Pacific.

• — • — •

Some of the old senators down in Florida . . . Those kicked out are pecking up . . . Some spent their last hours as senators and congressmen consoling themselves at the many and festive New Year's cocktail parties, dinners and balls . . . Mrs. Harry Grant Meem, widow of the beloved bank president and an Old Guard social pillar, ladling her traditional egg nog and fruit cake Saturday afternoon . . . Guests burying noses in the delicious, fluffy drink . . . Coming up with whipped-creamy-Santa mustaches . . . After happy rounds the guests bundled into their mink coats, hopped into their limousines, snuggled under their lap robes and unpiled over at the Sulgrave club (awhile back the scene of the Pearson-McCarthy Battle Royal . . . But the club, like a dowager who has been tickled in an impertinent place, has gathered her skirts and with great dignity carries on as if nothing had happened) where attractive Mrs. William Thomas Mann was presenting her debutante daughter to society . . . The pretty pair more like sisters than mother and daughter.

• — • — •

Morton Downey and his bride, the former Princess Hohenloe, flying in for week end with Col. and Mrs. Tony Biddle . . Small Sunday luncheon in their honor.

• — • — •

Happiest man in town as the New Year chimed in: Jose Felix Lequerica (Felix means "Happy" in Latin and it certainly fits him now!" . . .Because he could drop the title of "Ambassador-at-Large" to become, as he put it, "Ambassador-at Last!"...After he was officially notified that relations would be cozy-wozy from now on between the U. S. and Spain, when asked for his visiting card at a cocktail party, he proudly struck out "At Large" and replaced it with "Designate."

At the Spanish Embassy business will go along exactly as before . . . And the big change in diplomatic relations represents no big change in the embassy offices or staff... The new Ambassador, has, however, big plans, for changes in his already palatial embassy...To have additional embassy...To have additional drawing room space he'll move the Embassy portico closed to 16th Street.

The huge ballroom at the Embassy will be decorated with tapestries from Madrid son to arrive... and changed into a great salon, competing only with the British in size.

The sleepy-looking, but quick thinging, bon vivant Spaniard who's weathered a difficult storm in the Capital can now start to relax and enpoy himself—invitations are inevitable!

From now on he needn't concentrate on entertaining, he can concentrate on being entertained ... And believe me, that can be a lot of fun in Washington!

By BENNETT CERF

Kenneth Rockwell, the critic, relays the story of the man who swallowed his glass eye and rushed to a stomach specialist. The latter peered down the unfortunate fellow's throat and exclaimed, "I've looked into a lot of stomachs in my day, but I must say this is the first one that ever looked back at me."

William Faulkner reports that one of the unreconstructed rebels in Oxford, Mississippi, wrote off the entire Northern victory in one sentence after a little possum hunt recently. "Shucks," deprecated this perspicacious gentleman, "if the South had had the atom bomb, we would have licked the damn Yanks in a matter of weeks."

A discussion of the merits of a new magazine reminded Editor Gordon Carroll of his secretary's estimate of a pretty new telephone operator: "At least she has an open mind. She's got a hole in her head."

Professor Says Remington Was "Vigorous" Red

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—William W. Remington, former Commerce Department economist, was described by a college professor today as taking an "active and vigorous" part in Communist meetings in Knoxville, Tenn., in the late 1930's.

The witness was Howard A. Bridgman, assistant professor economics at Tufts College, Medford, Mass. He testified in the federal court trial of Remington, who is charged with perjury in denying he ever was a Communist Party member.

Bridgman said he himself joined the party in Knoxville in December, 1936, and withdrew in 1939. He said he was known in the party as Howard North.

The professor said the meetings were held in the Knoxville home of Betty Malcolm, also identified as the wife of Kenneth E. McConnell.

Bridgman pointed out Remington in the courtroom and said:

"He took an active and vigorous part in the meetings. I can picture him leaning forward with his hands out in front of him, gesturing as he spoke. I have a clear picture of that."

Bridgman said no Communist Party card was issued to him when he joined the party in 1936 but that one was sent to him in New York two years later by Ted Wellman, whom he described as the party's organizer in Tennessee.

The professor said the card, forwarded to him by way of Pittsfield, Mass., was accompanied by a letter saying the writer was enclosing Bridgman's "book."

The book, or card, as it was interchangeably called, was made out in the name of Howard North. The letter was read to the federal jury.

Remington's defense has emphasized that no government witness so far has testified of ever seeing a Communist Party card in Remington's name or possession.

Rote, Gain To Head Senior Bowl Game

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 3 (AP) — Two of the nation's top grid stars, Kentucky's All-America Bob Gain and Southern Methodist's Kyle Rote, were selected as captains for the Senior Bowl game here Saturday.

Gain, 230 pound tackle, will head the South team.

Missing Lieutenant Will Get Congressional Medal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) —The Congressional Medal of Honor awarded to First Lt. Frederick F. Henry, who is missing in action in Korea, will be presented to his wife by President Truman next Tuesday.

Henry, a native of Clinton, Okla., was last seen holding off Communist troops while his platoon withdrew near Amdong on Sept. 1. The medal will be given to Mrs. Lavon Henry of Salt Lake City in a White House ceremony.

The Army in announcing the plans today released a description of the action which won the medal—the country's highest award — for Henry. The description was by Sgt. Richard A. Siman of Philadelphia who was a member of the platoon.

"A bunch of North Koreans attacked our positions," Siman said. "Lt. Henry jumped out of the foxhole and started running down the line telling his men to stay in place and keep firing.

"He came back a few minutes later and I saw he was wounded in the shoulder. He seemed to be in great pain.

"We fought the enemy for a long time, and it seemed as if we were stopping them. Lt. Henry tried to call the battalion on the phone, but the line was out. He said he wasn't sure if the rest of the outfit was completely ready so we had to stay put.

"There were bullets and shells falling all around. Our ammunition was running low.

"Lt. Henry sent me out after the guns and ammunition of the wounded. When I came back he put them in the hole with him and told the men to start withdrawing and he would cover us.

"We started back and Lt. Henry stayed by himself. He seemed to be firing everything at once.

"I didn't see Lt. Henry after that."

Collins Backs Strader As New York Coach

He gave the answer after being questioned regarding a published story that Strader would be let out and would be replaced by Clark Shaughnessy, one-time coach of the Los Angeles Rams, Pittsburgh Panthers and Stanford.

Collins, terming the story an outrage, said "right now Strader is on a scouting trip hunting talent for next season."

Stabilization Powers Turned Over To DiSalle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle today became the price stabilization director in fact as well as in name.

Until now the former Toledo mayor has been operating without legal powers—except to perform whatever functions might be prescribed by his superior, Alan Valentine, administrator of the Economic Stabilization Agency.

Today Valentine issued an order turning over all his price control functions — including "powers, duties, authority, responsibilities and disoretion"—to DiSalle.

Dixie-GOP Bloc

(R-Ohio) bluntly accused Mr. Truman of forcing Congress to mark time "for perhaps two weeks" in a time of urgency by delaying his annual "state of the union," economic and budget messages to Congress.

Taft, wearing a cutaway coat, protested when the new Senate Democratic leader, McFarland of Arizona, requested the chamber to follow its usual custom of conducting no business until the President has delivered his "state of the union" address.

Mr. Truman is scheduled to deliver the message in person to a joint session of Congress next Monday. His economic message will follow several days later, and his budget message is due on Jan. 15.

Butler Sworn In As U. S. Senator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — John Marshall Butler, Baltimore Republican was sworn in "without prejudice" today as senator from Maryland.

As Butler stood up to take the oath to the first elective office he has ever held, Senate Democratic Leader McFarland asked that it be administered without prejudice either to Butler's rights or those by the Senate.

McFarland's move was taken as an indication that the Democrats later might make a formal move to deny Butler a seat.

In a whirlwind campaign, he defeated veteran Democratic Sen. Millard Tydings. A Senate Campaign Investigating Committee has been studying charges that scurrilous and fraudulent campaign literature was used in his behalf.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee decided in advance not to protest the Democrats' move to swear in the new senator "without prejudice." Policy Chairman Taft (Ohio) said the Republicans are convinced that with Butler seated, it would take a two-thirds Senate majority to oust him.

Dozens Will Join In Helping Polio Victim On Unique Trip

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 3 (AP)—A frail 17-year-old boy who owes his life to a machine is going to put his life now in the hands of people, people who have guaranteed to protect him on a unique journey.

The boy is 17-year-old Donald Fassnacht, so stricken by infantile paralysis that he can live only in an iron lung.

Donald has been in an iron lung at Lancaster General Hospital since October. But his physician, Dr. Page M. Schildnecht, says Donald must be moved to a different hospital where he can receive long range treatment.

It is no easy matter for Donald to move. He is so severely afflicted that the doctors don't believe he can live more than a few minutes in a portable lung, the ordinary device used to transport polio sufferers.

In desperation, Dr. Schildnecht called on the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company for assistance. The PP&L people promptly took over and arranged to have Donald sent to Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital, 35 miles away, in a moving van and using a big iron lung powered by portable power plants.

Two portable power machines were located and the miniature power plants were installed on a trailer to follow the moving van.

But somebody suggested the little power plants might fail.

The PP&L people investigated the route and found a number of poles along the way up which linemen could climb to tap main lines for power.

Viennese Pay Tribute To Late President

Thousands of people waited outside the building throughout the day to join the slow-moving procession past the casket in which the President's body was visible through a glass cover.

Maryland's Old Treasury Building To Reopen As Colonial Showplace

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—(AP)—Maryland's old treasury building, restored to provincial elegance, will reopen today as a colonial showplace.

Gov. Lane will unlock the heavy oaken doors with a huge brass key at a ceremony for members of the Legislature and connoisseurs of things colonial.

Circa 1735, the brick cruciform building stands primly on the eastern slope of State House Circle in the heart of Annapolis. Circa, because no one is certain exactly how long she's stood there.

Dr. Morris L. Radoff, state archivist, concedes it was erected sometime between 1735 and 1737. Patrick Creagh was the contractor. In infancy it served as an office for the "commissioners for emitting bills of credit," provincial counterpart of a public loan office.

"Iron chest accounts," so called because the commissioners kept their records in iron chests, are preserved in the Maryland Hall of Records.

The tiny one-story building acquired its name for posterity in the last quarter of the 18th century. First it became treasury for the Western Shore of Maryland, later for the entire state.

Aging and tolerating modern improvements, it obliged subsequent generations as headquarters for the State Department of Education, the Anne Arundel County superintendent of schools, Annapolis and Anne Arundel Chamber of Commerce and, two years ago, the State Department of Information.

But its history still is obscure, Radoff says. For years historians took for granted that the building rose in 1694. On Maryland Day 20 years ago the Daughters of the American Revolution put up a bronze plaque proclaiming 1694 as the birth date.

Then a scholarly naval officer named Harry W. Hill lifted eyebrows in a book entitled "Maryland's Colonial Charm Portrayed In Silver." From his research, Hill contended the building was of 18th century vintage. Radoff and others came to agree with him.

Then a commander, Hill is now a vice admiral and superintendent of the Naval Academy, three blocks away.

Exterior walls have shed their glossy paint of more recent derivation. Inside walls have been stripped of ornate green plaster and resurfaced in keeping with the original. One patch of the wall colonial travelers admired has been glassed in for contemporary scrutiny.

Two fireplaces, bare of mantles, have been restored to their 18th century simplicity. Tables and chairs are in period. Visitors will tread on brick floors similar to those paced by the provincial commissioners.

Former U. S. Sen. George L. Radcliffe will preside over a reopening ceremony in the State House at 4 p. m. He is president of the Maryland Historical Society.

Governor and Mrs. Lane will entertain senators, delegates and other guests at a reception in Government House after an inspection of the building.

British Commonwealth Ministers Meet To Spur Arms Programs

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Ministers of British commonwealth nations meet here today to spur their rearmament programs.

Informed officials said one of the aims of the parley is to merge individual and joint commonwealth defense plans into those of the Atlantic pact allies.

The strength of the commonwealth could well be decisive in any modern war. It has 540,000,000 people spread over more than one-quarter of the earth's surface. These nations produce much of the non-Communist world's strategic raw materials. They possess some of the world's best air, land and sea bases which control many main strategic air, land and sea routes.

Present will be Canada's Louis St. Laurent, Australia's R. G. Menzies, New Zealand's Sidney Holland, India's Jawaharlal Nehru, Pakistan's Liaquat Ali Khan, Ceylon's D. S. Senanayake, Southern Rhodesia's Sir Godfrey Huggins. Ailing Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan of South Africa is sending his minister of the interior, Dr. T. E. Donges, as his personal representative.

Although an agenda has still formally to be set, Britain at least wants to talk about:

The campaign in Korea.

Events in Southeast Asia, with special stress on Western efforts to stop the spread of Communism through the whole seething region.

A review of commonwealth efforts to achieve military preparedness with a parallel study of the effects of rearmament on the economies of each country.

The economic and financial situation.

Attlee is expected to give his fellow prime ministers a complete fill-in on his talks with President Truman. Those talks ranged over the whole field of foreign affairs, the Far Eastern situation, political differences between the United States and Britain, and the two countries' economic problems.

Australia, for instance, is still anxious to organize a Pacific defense pact linked to the Atlantic pact.

Menzies will also press Britain to work for a proper balance of military and economic priorities between the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. Australia and New Zealand fear that if the Atlantic pact nations put too much effort into building up the barricades in Europe, the Pacific and Indian Ocean territories will be exposed to sudden Red thrusts.

Fairchild Will Help Kaiser Build Planes

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan.3 & — Fairchild Aircraft has announced it is cooperating with Henry J. Kaiser "at the request of the Air Force" to help the automobile builder get started building troop-carrying transport planes.

The Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. designed and has been the sole builder of the C119, an improved version of the C82 Packet.

The Kaiser-Frazer Company has been talking with the Air Force about building the mammoth carriers at its Willow Run plant, although no order has been announced. The Air Force, however, appears to be sympathetic to granting Kaiser contracts to build them.

Eritrea Moslems Fear Selassie's Rule Under Ethiopia Federation

By OSCAR RAMPONE

ASMARA, Eritrea—(AP)—The half million Moslems of Eritrea look with some suspicion to future rule by Haile Selassie, a Coptic Christian emperor.

The United Nations General Assembly voted last month to federate this former Italian colony along the steamy Red Sea coast of East Africa with Selassie's kingdom of Ethiopia.

The federation plan—a compromise to demands for independence and demands for outright union with Ethipia—calls for a transition period not beyond September 15, 1953.

The Assembly thus disposed of the last of Mussolini's prewar African colonies. Libia, on the Mediterranean, is to become fully independent by January 1, 1952. Italian Somaliland, down the east coast of Africa from Eritrea, is under a 10-year Italian trusteeship pending its independence.

An Assembly-appointed commissioner will help the 1,000,000 Eritrea blacks get ready to run their own administration under a federation with Ethiopia.

The British have been governing Eritrea since British Tommies captured it in 1941. The British administration will continue until the turnover date.

Moslem, forming half of the Eritrean population have accepted but are not satisfied with the United Nations decision—made after a U. N. international commission made a country-wide tour to determine the people's wishes. The people disagreed—split down the line—with about half for independence and half for union with Ethiopia. The commission split, too. That's why the compromise.

The Moslems were the backbone of the independence group. Some wanted to unite part of Eritrea with the Anglo-Egyptian Suday, also a Moslem country.

The unionist group was composed chiefly of Coptic Christians. They were sympathetic to Ethiopian claims for unity.

The Moslem independence bloc argued that Eritrea, which is about the size of the State of Ohio, is far more civilized than Ethiopia because of 70 years of Italian rule.

Moslems fear that they will not enjoy the same rights as the Copts in an Eritrea dominated by Ethiopia. The Coptic religion is one of the oldest Christian sects. Its members are centered chiefly in Ethiopia and Egypt.

This difficult religious problem will face the U. N. high commissioner assigned to work out the Assembly's plan.

Moslems, fo rexample, already are claiming that the new state's flag should bear the crescent moon of Islam.

Eritrea is a poor country with not much of a future. Besides some agriculture there are limited mining activities. Both are now badly disturbed by bandit terrorism.

This is a land of great contrasts. Dankalia, in the lowlands, is one of the hottest places in the world. Asmara, the capital, is 8,000 feet high—a city above the clouds. There are deserts where rain never falls and hilly regions with a rainfall of 47 inches annually. There are flat plains and torturous mountains.

The people, too, vary widely. There are 12 racial groups, each with its own language. They have widely varying customs.

There are still 20,000 Italians remaining in Eritrea, but there number may decrease as much as 50 per cent as Eritreans gradually replace Italians in government positions.

Fred Wilt Wins Annual Sullivan Sports Award

Miler Named Best Athlete For 1950

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — Fred Wilt, 29-year-old Indiana University graduate who runs in the colors of the New York Athletic Club, today was named as winner of the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy for 1950.

The award has been presented annually since 1930 to the amateur athlete "who, by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

Wilt won by a substantial margin in the ballots cast by 479 members of a tribunal of experts. He received 166 first place votes and, on a 5-3-1 scoring basis, a total of 1197 points.

Runner-up for the second straight year was Joseph Verdeur of Philadelphia, 1948 Olympic breast stroke swimming champion, with 114 firsts and 1013 points. Dick Attlesey, world-record breaking hurdler from Southern California, was third with 104 firsts and 838 points.

Wilt, whose training is restricted to early morning and late evening hours because of his duties with the F. B. I., earned a place as the outstanding American runner at distances from one mile to 10,000 meters during 1950. He won the national outdoor 5,000 meters championship, ran the mile consistently at 4:12 or better and the two miles at nine minutes or better.

The galloping G-man also figured in the outstanding track and field "rhubarb" of 1950 when he and Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann finished in a virtual dead heat in the Wanamaker Mile last February. This precipitated a dispute among officials which was not finally settled until the A. A. U. convention in December. Gehrmann was declared the winner.

Pennington Presses For Scoring Honors

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Jan. 3 (AP)—Charlie Pennington, the big Georgetown forward with plenty of basketball know-how, is pressing the country's scoring leaders with a fabulous 24.1 points a game average this season.

Now at the peak of his collegiate point production, the six-foor-three cager has stuffed in 55 field goals and 35 free throws for 145 points in six games. He has 12 games remaining, exclusive of tournament play.

Pennington shattered the collegiate scoring mark in Kentucky with 44 points against Chase College of Cincinnati last month. He did it on 20 fielders and four free tosses and for most of the tilt stayed ahead of the Chase quintet in scoring.

Dorish Inks Contract

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 (AP) — Pitcher Harry Dorish, drafted from Toronto of the International League, today signed his 1951 contract with the Chicago White Sox. He was the 15th player to sign for the Pale Hose next season.

Irish Are Voted Year's Biggest Disappointment

Notre Dame Gridders Lost Four 1950 Tilts

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Notre Dame's football team was voted the "disappointment of the year" in an Associated Press poll today as the result of its four losses during the past season, an event as rare as a snowfall in July.

The Irish had been named the "team of the year" in 1949. They were picked as the probable 1950 champions in a pre-season poll and they had run up 39 games without defeat when disaster struck in the form of an inspired Purdue eleven on Oct. 7.

Purdue kon, 28-14, and before the curtain fell, Indiana, Michigan State, and Southern California made up for years of frustration by whipping famed Notre Dame, a synonym for success in football.

A total of 133 sports writers and sportcasters, out of a panel of 212, voted the Fighting Irish as the "flop" of 1950. On a basis of three points for a No. 1 pick, two for second and one for third, Notre Dame had 486 points for the dubious distinction.

The runnerup position went to Joe Louis, the former heavyweight champion, whose amazing string of triumphs and records fatten the record books. The old Brown Bomber's comeback was ruined by the flashing fists of Ezzard Charles in a 15-round bout in Yankee Stadium.

Sixteen voters tabbed the results of Louis' return to the ring as the disappointment of the year. Louis had 156 points.

Right behind the former heavyweight boss came the Boston Red Sox, a perennial contender in the "flop" league. Once again the Red Sox were picked as the team to succeeed in the American League and once again they didn't make it, finishing third.

The St. Louis Cardinals, finishing out of the first division for the first time since 1938, were fourth, followed by the Brooklyn Dodgers, the pre-season choice to win the National League pennant.

The list of those with five or more points (based on 3 for first, 2 for second and 1 for third), giving No. 1 votes and points:

Hunting License Fees Set Mark

$37,641,049 spent By Nation's Hunters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — The nation's sportsmen paid $37,641,049 — an all-time high — for hunting licenses during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, the fish and wildlife service said today.

They also paid a record breaking $3,909,468 for federal migratory bird hunting stamps required of every adult waterfowl hunter.

The number of hunting licenses sold dropped 132,159 below the 1948-49 total of 12,758,698 licenses. Because of increased hunting fees in many states, however, the revenue from licenses was $2,674,362 greater than in the previous year.

Similarly, the sale of duck stamps declined to 1,954,734 from the previous year's all time record of 2,127,598. However, the 1949-50 duck stamps cost $2 each — double the amount charged in previous years.

The four leading states in hunting license sales were Michigan 1,031,035; Pennsylvania 834,091; New York 751,036; Ohio 740,509.

Pacific Coast League May Discontinue Rose Bowl Play

Heads Disturbed By "Intensity" Of Game

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—Possibility that participation of the Pacific Coast Conference in annual Rose Bowl football games might be discontinued rocked the organization at its meeting here today.

It followed a closed meeting between the faculty representatives, presidents of the nine member schools and athletic directors.

Everest said that the conference facuity representatives and the athletic directors would hold a special meeting following the NCAA convention in Dallas, Tex., next week, to reach "a definitive conclusion" on the fate of the "oldest bowl game in the country," as it has been operated.

Everest said that the conference fathers were disturbed by the "growing intensity of post-season football games."

Everest's announcement was made in the presence of Victor O. Schmidt, the conference commissioner.

Pacific Coast Conference teams, barring two years during World War I, have always been the host elevens in the Rose Bowl game each New Year's day.

For the last five years the guest team was from the Big Ten Conference. Renewal of the pact with the Big Ten is favored by both conferences, according to a formal announcement by both groups yesterday.

Everest said that there was no disagreement in any way with the Big Ten; or the Tournament of Roses Association in Pasadena, which stages the game.

The whole problem, he said, is strictly within the coast conference itself.

The turn of affairs has no relation to any national emergency, Everest continued.

Asked if an all-star game between coast and Big Ten schools had been discussed, he said such a procedure might follow. He pointed out that the word "modify" in his statement would cover such a proposal.

First Period Rally Gives Blues 98-76 Win Over Spas

Team Arrives Late, Visitors Start Subs

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 3 — A first period rally which netted 32 points enabled the Wheeling Blues to hand the Cumberland Spas their third straight road defeat here tonight by the score of 98 to 76 in an All-American Professional Basketball game.

The Cumberland team was late arriving and the visitors had to start a substitute lineup. The Blues took advantage of the break to hop to a 25-3 lead in the first eight minutes of the game. The Cumberland first string then arrived and took the floor and held its own with the home squad but never was able to overcome the huge disadvantage.

Wheeling pounded the nets for 40 goals and 18 of 26 fouls while Cumberland collected 32 goals and 12 of 17 free tosses. Eddie Sterling, the former West Virginia University great, collected 29 tallies for the winners on 11 goals and 7 of 9 foul tries. Bob Pence paced the losers with 19 tallies. Clevenger had 13 and Mathewson 15 for the Spas.

Wheeling led 32-9 at the quarter, 53-32 at halftime and 76-50 at the close of the third stanza.

Boxers To Wear Harness For Bout

Benefit Show Slated For Fighter's Family

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) — Boxers in tomorrow's benefit show for the late Al (Sonny Boy) West will be under orders to wear a head harness.

The benefit performance will feature hard-hitting Percy Bassett, Philadelphia, in a ten-rounder and Ted (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn., in the main event.

The use of the harness is a result of the death of West, a popular Washington battler, in a bout with Bassett in New York on Dec. 20.

It will be Bassett's first fight since then. West died 22 hours after he was dropped by Bassett.

A few days after West died, the district boxing commission ruled that the six-ounce head protector must be worn in all pro bouts here.

Tomorrow night's show also features ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis and welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson in the role of referees.

The use of a head harness for tomorrow's show has stirred a controversy in boxing circles. With a rubber pad on the back of the head, the harness is designed to cushion falls on knockdowns.

Advocates of the harness contend it will compel fighters to shoot for the chin, and eliminate technical knockouts due to cut eyes.

Others, however, contend the harness will slow down action. They say the harness will absorb most of the wallop.

Reese Signs 1951 Brooklyn Contract

BROOKLYN, Jan. 3 (AP)—Harold (Peewee) Reese, veteran Brooklyn Dodger shortstop, today returned his signed contact for a reported $30,000 salary.

The 31-year-old club captain told vice president Buzzie Bavasi in a phone conversation he regarded 1950 as an "off year" and looked for a comeback next season.

West Siders Drop 4th Tilt To Somerset

Rosbaugh, Rice Lead Pennsylvania Team To Victory

SOMERSET, Pa., Jan. 3 — Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers of Cumberland made it four out of five tonight—on the losing side of the ledger—by dropping their return game with Somerset High here, 45-31.

The West Siders, in losing their third straight, trailed all the way although pulling within four points of the victors in the third stanza, before Somerset hiked its margin for good.

Rice kept the home team in the fore in the initial half by potting nine of his 14 points during the first two quarters of play. Don Rosbaugh and Jim Karras took up the slack in the latter two periods to keep Allegany on the defensive all the way.

It was the second straight for Somerset over Allegany as the Pennsylvanians copped the opener of their home-and-home series on the Campobello court, 46-31

The winners outscored Allegany 17 field goals to 12 and converted 11 of 13 fouls to seven of 17 for the losers. Ronnie Chapman, AHS forward, left the game via personal fouls in the third quarter. The lineups:

Duquesne Cage Team Wins Close Games

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3 (AP) — Duquesne University's unbeaten basketball win streak of 10 games is tops in the east but Coach Dudey Moore isn't impressed.

"We've been lucky," Moore, said today, "but I'm afraid our luck is going to run out."

The biggest thorn in Moore's side is the manner in which the Dukes eke out most of their games.

They've edged Westminster 53-52, South Carolina 67-64 in an overtime, Arizona 63-62, Wake Forest 63-59 and Detroit 60-52.

Moore, member of the famed 1934 Duquesne team which amassed a victory string of 25 straight wins, thinks an upcoming road trip will tell another story.

"Teams like Long Island, Akron, Cincinnati, Baldwin-Wallace and Villanova aren't any pushovers," he declared.

Former Champ Shows His Old-Time Power

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP) — Savage-punching Joe Louis looked the Brown Bomber of old tonight as he knocked out a dead game Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa., in the fourth round of a bloody battle.

Officially the knockout was listed at 2:48 of the fourth round when Referee Johnny Webber stepped in to save the bloody and beaten Beshore from additional punishment.

The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds.

The plucky Beshore was nearly cut to pieces by Louis' deadly wallops, as the ex-champ had little trouble in hitting him with either hand.

Beshore's nose was bloodied in the first round, his nose was broken in the third and his left eye was cut in the third by a sizzling punch that jarred him to his heels.

Louis, who came in at 210¼—his lowest fighting weight since the second Billy Conn fight in 1946—had about a nine-pound advantage and he used it to advantage in the short-lived scrap.

Pence, Orndorff Officials For Fort Hill Game

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh announced last night that Bob Pence and William "Bee" Orndorff will officiate the Fort Hill and Martinsburg basketball game on the Sentinels' court tomorrow night at 8 p. m. The Scarlet and White quintet will be seeking its fifth straight victory against the invading Bulldogs.

A preliminary contest between the school's reserve teams will get underway at 6:50.

On the other side of town, Allegany and LaSalle will pry the lid off the 1951 city series when the Explorers and Campers clash at Campobello at 8 o'clock.

Sedgeview Cops Tropical Park's Featured Race

Culmone Rides Two Winners On Card

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP)—Mrs. J. Kelley's Sedgeview, under a smart ride by Billie Fisk, won the featured seventh race at Tropical Park today getting up along the inside to beat O. J. Ciresa Jr's Mr. Ace by a head.

Mr. Ace, which had won his two previous starts over the track, is a chronic run-out horse. Rounding the stretch turn, he bore out somewhat under Joe Culmone, and Fisk, who evidently anticipated such a move, shot Sedgeview along the inner part of the track to make the accounting.

George D. Widener's Reveille, making his first start of the winter, was a creditable third, only a length farther away. Hash Night the second choice to Mr. Ace, was fourth. He too, was launching his winter campaign. Nine started in this six-furlong event, covered in 1.10 3/5. It was witnessed by a crowd of 8,289.

Sedgeview, which had raced over a distance in his last two starts, paid $10.60 straight.

Though Culmone failed to keep Mr. Ace straight in the feature, which cost the gelding the race, the Sicilian launched his return to silks on a successful note. He rode two winners out of five mounts, including a second and a third.

Culmone chalked up his first winner of 1951 aboard Elkcam Stable's Lands End, ($9.90) in the second race. The Sicilian brought the horse up fast to beat Bright Player by a length, while Kendor was third.

Culmone accepted his initial mount of the year on Colonel Zedar in the first, but the colt, backed into favoritism was soundly beaten by Elixir, $10.40, ridden by Albert Florio.

Sport Spotlights

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

FIRST resolution on any New Year's Day should be to resolve not to make any more resolutions.

So, we'll just make a few predictions on sports for 1951 and let the alibis come later.

In 1950 we had our usual "good" year at prognosticating.

We picked Oil Capitol to win the Derby. We were sure the Dodgers would win the National league pennant. We started off the football season in great style by picking Notre Dame to murder Purdue. We strung along with Joe Louis to beat Ezzard Charles. And some others, too.

Say, how wrong can a guy be?

The cuts in our wounds were deep, as you can see, but we medicated them somewhat by selecting the Yankees to win the A. L. flag and the series, Michigan to win the Big Ten crown and the Cleveland Browns to grab the National Professional Football championship.

If that is enough to take the deep red blushes from our cheeks, we'll try a few more for 1951.

• • • •

IN BASEBALL we still like the Yankees, despite that help the Red Sox got since the season ended. And we'll go again with the Dodgers, despite the youth and zing of the Whiz Kids from Philly.

In college football, we'll take Army to rule the roost and we'll string along with the Cleveland Browns in the pro field despite the aging of its personnel. We'd like to mention the Detroit Lions here, for our guess is that the Lions will be rough.

We'd say that Sugar Ray Robinson will emerge the No. 1 figure in boxing again and that Ezzard Charles will defend and keep his heavyweight crown.

Might as well stick with the champion in tennis and nominate Art Larsen to repeat his U. S. championship.

In basketball we'll take those Kentucky Wildcats, with Bill Spivey and Baron Rupp.

In horse racing, we'll take the George D. Widener colt, Battlefield, to romp to victory in the Derby and Hill Prince to rule the handicap division.

Toronto and Detroit will fight it out for the Stanley Cup in hockey and the Cleveland Barons will roll again in the American ice loop.

We'll give the nod to Johnny Parsons again in auto racing and we'll ease out of the track and field situation by saying that a new personality will take over in track to grab the headlines.

Castleman Pleads Guilty In Theft

Roy L. Castleman, 317 Arch Street, entered a guilty plea yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court to charges of breaking and entering Conway's Liquor Store, 402 Virginia Avenue, and stealing whiskey and other merchandise valued at $256.55, but Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris deferred sentencing the man until Saturday.

The defendant was tried yesterday after waiving his right to indictment and requesting an immediate trial. The court appointed William R. Carscaden as Castleman's attorney.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher Tuesday filed a criminal information against Castleman in which he contended the defendant had burglarized the shop of Isabel D. Conway from which 45 fifths of whiskey, cigars, candy, peanuts and wine, valued at a total of $256.55 were stolen December 3. The information also charged Castleman with larceny and receiving stolen goods in the same act.

Detective Thomas J. See, who questioned Castleman after his arrest December 4, said the man admitted drinking half of one of the fifths of whiskey before leaving the store. The detective added that Castleman sold or gave away most of the whiskey. Several bottles and some of the merchandise was recovered at the time of his arrest.

In another case yesterday, Charles McDonough, 114 Lennox Place, was sentenced by Judge Harris to six months in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of violating his parole. McDonough had been paroled October 17 upon condition that he be of good behavior and abstain from use of alcoholic beverage.

His wife had charged him with being a habitual drunkard. In petitioning for violation of parole in this case, State's Attorney Fletcher cited that McDonough had been arrested December 9, December 22 and December 28 on drunkenness charges by Cumberland police.

The charge will be given to the people by Dr. Henry S. Brown, vice president Emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary. The welcome to the new minister on behalf of the congregation will be given by T. Lohr Richards, an elder of the First Presbyterian Church.

Members of the Board of the Session, trustees and deacons and their wives will have dinner with the participating ministers at Central YMCA at 5:45 p. m. and will go to the church in time for the Installation service at 7:30 o'clock.

Record 54 Volunteer For Service

Pictured here are part of the record number of 54 volunteer enlistees processed recently at the U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Main Station at Martinsburg, W. Va. Twenty-one of the men are from Maryland and seven enlisted through the local Army Recruiting Office. Those pictured who enlisted locally are William L. Ewing, 569 Arnett Terrace, Cumberland; John W. Stafford, Jr., Williams Road, this city; Lloyd T. Santmyire, Oldtown; Robert A. Brunn, 1314 Frederick Street, this city; Earl W. Judy, 119 West Oldtown Road, this city; Melvin Judy, Romney, W. Va.; and Feato L. Bazzel, Springfield, W. Va. The men are shown being given their final physical examinations before leaving for training centers. In the left foreground is Frank "Lefty" Wilders, 21-year-old professional baseball player from Thurmont. Wilders has been the baseball property of the New York Yankees. He enlisted in the Air Force.

revived some old memories.

"I can remember when people used to skate on the river here in the wintertime," he recalls. "There used to be as many on skates then as now see a parade on Baltimore street, with as many more watching from the banks."

When asked if the town had changed much since he began barbering he smiled and said "quite a bit."

Mechanic street wasn't paved then, he remembered, and most of the travel was still done in horse and buggy. There were several spring pumps used by residents for drinking water in the area and the river was used for washing.

"There were quite a few grocery stores around here then," he related, "but only about one or two remain now. I guess I've been here on Mechanic street longer than most anyone else."

Myers had a shop on Valley street for 12 years before entering his present shop which was converted from a driveway next to the old Fred Blough building on the corner of Mechanic and Valley streets.

"In those days Christmas used to come only once a year, but now the stores are all trimmed up every day of the year," he remarked wryly.

Too Much Double Talk

Jake gets a little troubled about present national and world conditions, too. "Trouble is too many people don't believe in law enforcement or read the Bible. Too many liars in the world, also. In my time if a man said something he meant it and was ready to back it up with force if necessary." He thinks the President of the United States may never live down the crack he made about the Marine Corps.

Despite his small stature Myers used to play football and baseball quite a lot in his younger days. "Never weighed more than 120 pounds, then," he remarked.

"Football was rougher than it is now. We used to play 35 minute halfs with 10 minute rest periods between. We never had substitutes either. A man didn't leave the game unless he had to. Sometimes we just had a few clothes left on our backs after a game," he said. "The game isn't what it used to be."

Myers lives at 226 Carroll Street "where I've lived ever since I got married 53 years ago."

He and his wife, the former Lillie Davis, will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary January 18, 1951. A native of Cumberland the old timer was born on Wallace Street and has spent his entire life here. His son has been with him at the barber shop since 1936.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3 (INS)—Over the holidays Glenn Ford put his name on a contract for "Striking A Match," which Mark Robson is directing and Harriet Parsons is producing for R-K-O.

Susan Hayward

Considering 2,000 intoxicated men and women were arrested during the holidays, "Strike A Match," which Robert Smith is adpating from his own story, is extremely timely. It's the story of a woman in Los Angeles at Christmas who cannot let liquor alone. Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna considered this very timely when they bought the story.

Susan Hayward won an Academy nomination for her performance as a drunk in "Smash Up," and may be borrowed from 20th, although this is still not settled and another top actress is being mentioned.

• — • — •

Corinne Calvert, the French cutiepie who, at one time, was so uncooperative that Paramount dropped her contract, starts 1951 with a new deal at 20th. In addition to the contract Hal Wallis already holds on Madamoiselle Calvert's services, she'll make five pictures in the next two years for 20th.

She has just finished "On The Riviera" with Danny Kaye and Gene Tierney at 20th, and her first on the new setup is a mellerdrama "Sense Of Guilt."

It's wonderful the way Corinne has snapped out of her temperamental antics and settled down to one of the hardest working gals in town.

• — • — •

It's all very secret, but I'm reliably informed that Mike Todd and Radio Commentator Lowell Thomas have purchased a new sound recording system from the government.

Right now there is talk of using this system to produce a feature length picture in which Todd would star his ex-wife, Joan Blondell. Also the talk persists that Joan and Mike will remarry.

They are seen everywhere together and whenever she makes any TV appearances Mike is always in the control booth making sure Joan is vocally and photographically A-1. In show business, that's love, brother!

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The John Sturgis baby is due almost any edition. He's an M-G-M director.

Elaine and John Steinbeck will stop in Hollywood en route to Mexico for their honeymoon.

Beatrice Campbell, who is in "Mudlark," is marrying Actor Nigel Patrick in a few months. He's in "Trio."

Many guests in white tie and tails came on to Mike Romanoff's delightful and not too big party from the formal Tex Feldman dinner.

So nice to see Constance Bennett. She was with Virginia and Darryl Zanuck and that cute Susan Zanuck who danced every dance. Sitting with them were Clifton Webb and his mother.

Jane Wyman and Michael Wilding had a dance together for Auld Lang Syne. He was in "Stage Fright" with her. He brought Sharman Douglas who was having fun.

Jennifer Jones, out for the first time since her recent illness, looked very well, but thin. She and David Selznick sat with Bubbles and Arthur Hornblow.

It was late when I arrived at the Romanoffs, and as is usual on New Year's Eve, people kept coming and going—but it's a tribute to the Romanoffs hospitality that many of the guests were at Mike's for hamburgers and hot dogs in the early morn.

Others who were having fun were Joan Crawford, looking very regal in black velvet, dancing with Cesar Romero as only they can dance together; Pat Medina and Richard Greene, looking so happy that I am hopeful 1951 will see a real reconciliation between them; Dusty and Jean Negulesco; Joan Bennett and Walter Wanger and many, many more were among those to whom I wished "Happy New Year!"

Judy Garland and Sid Luft, who continue to act as though they mean it, Joan Fontaine and Collier Young, Benny Thau with the Dowling sisters, Alan Curtis and his bride, Betty Dodero, were among the hundreds who were in the crush at the Spiegels—or at least, so I hear. I didn't make it this year.

That's all today. So you tomorrow!

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Should sex education come from parents?

Answer: It starts with them, whether they intend it to or not. A child's basic feelings about the relations of the sexes grow out of his impression of his parents' attitude toward sex and toward each other, and if they try to ignore the subject all they do is make him feel it is too shameful to speak of. Factual information is highly desirable, and may well be given by others if the parents feel themselves unfitted to impart it. But wherever sexual knowledge comes from, the atmosphere that surrounds it is what really matters.

Do some people like "routine" jobs best?

Answer: Yes. There is a type of person known as a "compulsive character" who feels safe only if he always does the same things in the same way. Changes disturb him, and having to make decisions in a hurry terrifies him. He is afraid of responsibility, but even more of letting himself act spontaneously. He grew up with an exaggerated fear of his own natural impulses and feels that to follow a fixed pattern of behavior is the only way to keep them under control. Too early and too strict toilet training may be where the trouble started.

Does music help industrial production?

Answer: That is the conclusion reached by a research conducted by the British Broadcasting Corporation and reported in Biology and Human Affairs, London. If the music "piped into" an industrial plant is well selected, it apparently helps workers to forget fatigue, relieves boredom, cuts down nervous strain, lessens the amount of distracting conversation, and reduces absenteeism. No one can do without pleasure very long, and if work offers little or none, any supplementary pleasure is of value.

NAMED — Dr. Kathryn McHale of Logansport, Ind., was named by President Truman as member of board of five which will help administer the new subversives' control law.

FAITHFUL TO HER PUPS — This little girl evidently wants to stay with her two bulldog pups, booked for therapeutic treatment in this newly-developed low pressure chamber at Frankfurt, Germany. Chamber, containing infra red and ultra violet ray lamps, has been used successfully in cases of animal distemper, bronchitis, rheumatism and skin diseases.

SALT MINE UNDER A CITY — Far beneath Detroit, Mich., streets, a group of visitors watches modern machinery mine rock salt. The mine produces some 4,000 tons daily and has 60 miles of smooth streets and alleys with traffic lights, stop signs and car trucks.

A Column for Men

STAG LINES

By BERT BACHARACH

Gray-Figured Ties

FASHION: Film actor Lloyd Bridges (at left) wears one of the gray-ground ties that are proving a leading fashion feature for this season. In a wide variety of spaced-figures which pick up the clothing color, they're gay and smart for dress-up wear.

Good Ideas: To keep soap out of the youngsters' eyes when washing their hair—just rub some Vaseline or cold cream on the forehead. (Theirs—not yours!) . . . Bill Bertolotti told me—and you can tell your wife—that a couple of copper pennies, dropped into the water of a vase, will revive wilting flowers. (What else can one do with pennies these days?)

Handyman: To remove odor from bottles—fill with hot water, add teaspoon of mustard, let stand for hour, rinse and dry. . . . Have you a narrow garage? Here is a method for saving wear and tear on the fenders of your car. Merely suspend a ball from the center of the garage ceiling and line the radiator ornament up with it when entering.

Shaving Hints (from my favorite barber). Wash face first, with warm water. Leave it wet if using lather—dry for brushless cream. Let the latter soak in for five minutes, if possible, before shaving. Cut across the beard with diagonal strokes for close shave.

Wrong

Right

For Sportsmen: Be sure your golf clubs aren't stored in a too-dry place. The wooden heads and grips can dry out. . . . Winter sports enthusiasts should beware the glare. On a percentage basis, more sun-tan lotion is used by skiers than by swimmers.

Dress Tips: If shirt collars are just a bit too snug, you can stretch them slightly—by pulling on both ends of neckband. . . . If you must carry ordinary lead pencils in your shirt pockets, have the points down instead of up. Surprisingly, there's less tearage that way—and the shirt stays cleaner.

Care of Clothes: If seldom-worn clothes are stored in closet, shift the hangers around occasionally. Gives the clothes air and keeps lapels from getting out of shape. . . . Even if your hat doesn't seem to need it, give the bow on the band a brushing once in awhile. It's hard to get dirt out of creases if allowed to accumulate. Periodic brushing is easier and extends the life of the hat.

Odd Items: There's a "Drive-In Wedding Chapel & Auto Laundry" in Yuma, Arizona! . . . In the recent census, Scranton, Pa., had the greatest decrease in population in the first 100 cities—going from 63d to 80th place. . . . After selecting your cut of steak at the Sirloin Room, in Chicago's stockyards—you brand it, for identification, with a hot iron.

Rosemary Clooney

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

K F M D S R K J H B K V, M F Q H U H C V C H R N, F C O F Q H C Z D X, Q R W H U H C W F Z C H H R W R Z B W M — C D W I B K.

Old Will Aired In Mineral Court Dispute

KEYSER, W. Va. — The will of the late Jacob Miller, Burlington, who died in 1931, has been reopened in a recent action in Mineral County Circuit Court in which the court ruled that the commissioner of accounts, then Hal Reynolds, had no authority to construe the will.

Attorney James H. Swadely, Jr., filed the suit recently in behalf of six grandchildren of Miller.

The defendant in the present action, Charles Rinker, who was the executor of Miller's estate, filed a demurrer in which he contended that Reynolds, the commissioner, had died 18 years ago and no action had been taken in that time. The demurrer also stated that the will excluded the plaintiffs because their mother, Mrs. Leona Rogers, had died before the will was made. The court overruled the demurrer, holding that the will, on its face, shows no intention to disinherit any child or grandchild of the deceased.

After Miller's death in 1931, Rinker, as executor, sold all the property except what was left to the widow and divided the proceeds among the three living children, excluding the grandchildren, following Reynolds' ruling. Miller's will had included a statement that, if any of the children should precede him in death then his or her share should be given to the grandchildren

Yank Officers Tell Of Terror On New Year Eve

By JACK MACBETH

WITH THE U. S. 24th DIVISION NEAR SEOUL, Korea—(AP)—Two young American officers huddled close to a hot stove and talked of terror on New Year's Eve.

In tired voices they recalled how waves of shrieking, singing, wild-eyed Chinese celebrated the Occidental new year to the accompaniment of bugles and whistles.

The told proudly but humbly how their men fought and how many of them died.

"We were doing okay until the two companies on our flank got shoved back," said Lt. Henry L. Oppenborn, Miami, Fla. He rubbed his hands and continued:

"We had been fighting with some enemy in front of us, but it didn't amount to much. Then we got ordered to drop back to protect our flanks."

Oppenborn, in his early 20s, said his platoon started down a ridge line but ran smack into several hundred Chinese who had slipped down the same ridge on its reverse side.

At a range of about 20 feet, he related, the enemy shouted something. Apparently they believed the American platoon to be friendly.

"I tossed my four grenades at them and they opened up with everything," he said.

"My men started to drop like flies. We returned the fire as best we could, but soon it was obvious we had to make a run for it. I gave the order, and we took off down a gully."

Finally, the lieutenant said, they reached the bottom of the gully and met another group of Americans.

Lt. Lester A. Loflen, Mount Airy, N. C., nodded his head and commented "that was the other outfit which had been forced back earlier."

Smoking a pipe slowly and deliberately, Loflen said that at one point during the bitter cold night he had been sent up to a mortar position with reinforcements.

"I no sooner got there than a whole company of Chinks came in on us, singing as though they were drunk," he said. "We chopped them down, but still they kept running straight at us. Pretty soon we had to get out.

"They were all around us," Loflen continued. "One guy stepped out about 20 feet from me and blew a bugle in my ear. It scared hell out of me. I fired five shots at him, but I don't know if I got him. Things were sure confused.

Loflen, with shrapnel holes in his parka to prove it, said Chinese mortar shells fell fast and thick. About 4 a. m. he gathered up as many as he could, took them to the road and walked them back to friendly positions, he said.

China Reds Make Good Air Target

By BILL BARNARD

FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP) — The Chinese Communist soldier in Korea makes a good target for air attacks — he doesn't scatter and run like the Korean Reds do.

An Air Force spokesman said that on more than one occasion "Chinese troops have continued marching down on open road while our planes swept down again and again," inflicting heavy casualties.

"The ranks would be broken only by the dead and wounded dropping out," he added. "North Korean soldiers scattered like rabbits when they see an American plane. But the Chinese seem psychologically unaffected by U. S. air power. When our planes go in with machine guns and rockets, Chinese soldiers go right on doing whatever they are doing, even though they are in great peril.

"This indicates a great, even though misguided, discipline. Our pilots especially appreciate such discipline, since it makes the Chinese soldier a fine target on some occasions."

The Eighth Army estimated that on Jan. 1 alone, U. S. planes killed or wounded 6,000 enemy troops.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T COVER AN HONOR

AGAINST the time when you should follow the parroty rule to "cover an honor with an honor," there are plenty of times when the contrary is more profitable. Among these are situations in which it is clear that covering will simply make it easy for your opponents to have some newly-established tricks. There are others in which you refrain because thereby you can cause the lead to be just where the opponent doesn't want it. And there are those in which refusal to cover will block a hostile suit.

West was one of those players who does everything by rule, or at least everything for which he has a rule. First the rule told him to lead the fourth-best of his longest suit, the heart 3, which was okeh. South took that in dummy to preserve his K as an entry. Needing some diamond tricks, he led the 2. East came in with the K and returned the heart Q, on which South refused the hold up, winning with the K. Now he led the diamond J.

"Always cover an honor with an honor," West must have said to himself as he put on the Q. The A knocked that off, and the 5 to the 10 brought two more diamond tricks with the 8 and 6. Now the spade J was of course covered by the K. The A won, also the Q, 10 and 5 to give the declarer a total of ten tricks, one over his contract.

West could have blocked the entire diamond suit by refusing to cover the J on the fourth trick. South then could have finessed spades to score four tricks in that suit and followed it with the diamond A. But that would have made only eight tricks, and the rest would have had to be given to the defenders in clubs and hearts.

West's automatic play of the diamond Q would have been avoided by a thinking player who figured out what would have happened if he put in his 9 and kept the Q as a blocker.

Generous Scattered Gains Blunt Slight Market Drop

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — Prices in the stock market lost a little of their edge today in spite of a brilliant show of strength.

Losses were from a few cents to around a dollar a share and even beyond two dollars in some cases.

But there were generous scattered gains which blunted the decline and gave a bullish undertone to the market.

Quick profit taking accounted for a lot of the selling, a development that was only natural after the market on average reached a new high yesterday going back to more than 20 years.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 40 cents at $89.40. The industrial componet of the average was down 60 cents and rails lost a like amount. Utilities, on the other hand, added 20 cents.

The most active in the list was International Telephone. It gained ⅞ at 14⅛.

Missouri Pacific preferred was second most active with a sharp loss of 3⅝ at 26½.

The volume of trading exceeded 3,370,000 shares today against $3,-030,000 yesterday.

But the vigorous Griffis who has spent a fortune while working for the government at salaries which do not come close to covering his expenses, finds nothing very difficult if compared to his duties in 1943. It was his job for a time to dissuade the neutral Swedes from selling vital ball-bearings to the Germans, while the Eighth Air Force was running its costly raids against Schweinfurt and other Nazi bearing centers. The job called for a lot of shuttling back and forth between London and Stockholm, over enemy territory. Griffis travelled in perhaps the coldest and most uncomfortable accommodation known to aviation—the bomb-bay of an RAF Mosquito.

Matter Of Fact

victory is expected for Phibun's rival, Pridi Banomyong, the former Japanese collaborationist. Pridi is already known to have opened negotiations with the Communist high command.

In Burma, the distracted Socialist government has just decided on a firm anti-Communist policy. But it is hardly strong enough as yet to hold up under the pressure that must now be expected. Meanwhile in India, the death of the strongly anti-Communist Congress leader, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, makes it less likely that Pandit Nehru will respond to the anxious British pleas, that he prevent Communist occupation of Burma with Indian troops. And so it goes, throughout Southeast Asia.

If it were not for the threat of Chinese invasion of Indo-China, the whole Southeast Asiatic picture would now be hopeful and improving. Even in Indo-China itself, there has been an important response since the French have at last made the concessions to native nationalism that should have been three years ago. But all this hopeful process will be halted and reversed by the new step in the Kremlin's planned program of world aggression. And after Asia, will come Europe, and then, perhaps following a pause while the storm gathers new force, the tidal wave will engulf this hemisphere.

Kimble Named Minority Leader Of Senate As Assembly Opens

Allegany County Delegates Unsuccessful In Bids For Similar Position In House

Allegany County yesterday provided the minority leader in the Senate when Robert B. Kimble was named to that post but bids of members of the county delegation to a similar post in the House were unsuccessful.

Kimble won the post of minority leader in the Senate as the Maryland General Assembly convened yesterday in Annapolis.

His election was routine, even to the nomination of Kimble, the Republican leader, as his opponent. After a 17-10 vote, Kimble moved for unanimous election of Della.

John C. Luber, of the Fifth district, was elected speaker of the house, also on a strictly party-line vote.

Retain Whip Hand

The Democrats retain the whip hand in the Assembly although a Republican, Theodore R. McKeldin, will become governor January 10.

In the Republican house caucus yesterday morning, Anders R. Lofstrand, of Montgomery County, thwarted Allegany County bids for the post of minority leader in the house.

At the caucus, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., withdrew as a candidate and was elected chairman of the meeting.

Lofstrand won the post when he received 26 votes to nine cast for Lester B. Reed, Allegany County delegate.

Leona Rush, Montgomery County, was named secretary of the House minority party.

See Heads Delegation

Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County delegation, said yesterday's sessions were strictly organizational in character and no business was transacted.

He said all members of the delegation were on hand for the opening of the session.

Each of the 123 members of the House, Delegate See reported, was given a parchment commission as a member of the legislature.

Committee appointments will be made next Monday or Tuesday, See said.

Fraley Seated Conditionally As State Senator

Gonder's Petition Sent To Committee

Republican Neil C. Fraley of Garrett County was seated conditionally as a state senator yesterday.

Bernard I. Gonder, his Democratic opponent in the November 7 election formally petitioned the Senate shortly after it convened for its 90-day session to seat him instead of Fraley.

The petition was received without comment and Fraley was allowed to take his seat "without prejudice" to Gonder's petition.

It will be referred to the elections committee.

Fraley, seeking election to a second term, received 3,080 votes to 3,079 for Gonder—a difference of one vote on the face of the canvassed election returns.

Gonder's petition said that he does not "charge any fraud or intentional wrong on the part of any election officials," but "does charge error and inaccuracy in tallying and counting of ballots cast and other irregularities in conducting the election."

Jaycees Favor City-Operated Parking Plan

A resolution commending the action of Mayor Thomas S. Post and City Council in requesting authority from the Maryland Legislature to purchase and operate public off-street parking facilities was approved without dissent last night by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Earlier, the Jaycee board had endorsed this resolution, which supports the bill and commends the council for its action.

On a motion of Donald Coomber last night the Jaycees also voted to invite all charter and associate members to a monthly meeting in the near future.

The Jaycees also agreed to sponsor a boys team in the Hot Stove Baseball League in the coming season.

Another motion adopted last night, from Dr. Leland Ransom, instructed the public relations committee to study the problem of establishing a clearing house for social and other activities of the community. The committee will report back to the membership at the February 7 meeting.

Jack Price, chairman of the Jaycee Christmas lighting contest, reported on the success of the promotion. Robert Ebert informed the Jaycees that the next Barter Theater presentation in Cumberland will be Wednesday, February 14.

B. & O. Revenue Freight Shows 1950 Increase

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad handled 3,063,110 cars of revenue freight during 1950, an increase of 308,928 over the previous year's total of 2,754,182 cars.

However, in 1948 the total was 3,292,095 cars.

Monthly and weekly figures for the railroad also were higher than comparable periods of 1949, the railroad reported. In December, 1950, the B. & O. handled 262,869 cars, as increase of 41,138 over December, 1949's 221,731. # Aged Barber "Still Working"

Two old timers got together in a barber shop the other day as 76-year-old Jacob M. Myers prepared to cut the hair of Henry T. Helker, 220 Valley Street, in the Myers barber shop, 448 North Mechanic Street. Helker, retired grocer, has been active here for more than 50 years. Myers, who owns his own shop, has been cutting hair and shaving customers since he was 19 and has been in the present place for more than 38 years. He is very proud of his very steady hands and plans "to continue working until I'm forced to quit."

Eckhart Mine Mishap Termed Unavoidable

Workings Found In Excellent Order

The fall of rock which caused the critical injury of one Eckhart miner and the serious injury of another Tuesday was termed unavoidable yesterday following an inspection by state and federal mining officials.

The victims, Tillio "Ted" Spataro, 33, who suffered fractures of the spine and pelvis and a crushed spinal cord, and John Hess, 53, who suffered a fractured vertebrae, were reported improving last night in Memorial Hospital.

Bureau of Mines officials yesterday conducted a detailed inspection of the scene of the accident in a Consolidated Fuel Company mine in Eckhart.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, said the examination disclosed that the working where the rock fall occurred was in excellent order and that workmanship in the place was of the highest calibre.

He said it would have been impossible to have seen the slip because of its feather edge.

The veteran miners, both described as "good miners" were struck by the rock which was about seven inches thick and five to six feet in diameter.

They said there was a prop under the piece of rock that fell but that the support was swung out when the rock fell as the miners were cleaning up the face of the working after a machine cut.

Hess helped get the rock off his buddy and take him to the outside. He later returned to his home, collapsed and was taken to the hospital where X-rays disclosed he had suffered a fractured vertebrae.

Officials said Hess reported he was "shoved" by the rock that critically injured his buddy.

Powers said all of the officials present at the inspection were in agreement that the accident was unavoidable, due to the nature of the slip.

Steady Hands Help Barber, 76, To Continue His Work

Jacob Myers Began When Youth Of 19

By JOHN KNOWLTON
News-Staff Writer

That's how Jacob M. Myers proudly shows the hands that have made him a livelihood as a tonsorial parlor operator for more than 58 years and are "still going strong," as he puts it.

"Jake," as he is fondly called by those who know him best has been barbering since he was 19 and has operated his present shop at 448 North Mechanic Street for 38 years. Prior to that he owned and operated a shop on Valley Street for more than 12 years. At present he is aided in his small three-chair shop by his son, Herman J. Myers.

The little oldster—he's only a little over five feet tall and weighs less than 150 pounds — likes to reminisce a bit about times when he first began his trade compared to the present day and age.

He sometimes wonders how the old timers accomplished as much as they did when he thinks of the tools they used and the difficulties they worked under.

Better Tools Today

"Now they have electric clippers as well as scissors to cut hair," Jake commented, but the older barbers had to heat their water in buckets which they kept on old wood stoves and used only their scissors and razor to do the job. "We waste more water now than old time barbers ever used," the 76-year-old Negro mused.

With a sly grin, he added "And I never yet have found a barber who could make hair grow."

Today's barbers are driving their trade away, Myers thinks, because of their excessive demands on the public. The old fellow opens his shop as early as 6:30 in the morning and closes at 7 o'clock in the evening, taking only a half day off on Wednesdays' He remembers how he used to stay open until 2 in the morning sometimes.

"I get a little more tired now than I used to," Jake says, "because I put in a long day at my age, but I intend to keep at it until I have to quit. I'm still going strong and my hands are still holding out."

58 Years Of Barbering

And he again proudly shows his knarled, rought, big veined hands, with large broken joints on almost every finger—hands that look more like they have been catching baseballs for 58 years instead of barbering—and those hands are as steady as a surgeon's as he performs his daily chores of cutting hair and shaving customers.

When he first began barbering under the late John Robinson on Centre Street he broke in as an all around chore boy. "I worked at cleaning up the shop, cutting hair, shining shoes, and other details for 50 cents a week plus tips," he said, "and learned my trade for four years before going out on my own."

Modern barbering schools now teach the prospective barber the same trade in a year's time.

The white-haired oldster recalled that he began his barbering before he was 21.

Recalls First Vote

"I cast my first vote when I was 21 in the old Court House building. That was when Mr. Lowndes was the first Republican ever elected governor in the state." Lloyd Lowndes, Republican gubernatorial candidate from Allegany County, was elected governor of Maryland in 1895. "Had to wait until I voted, I guess," Myers laughingly remarked.

Thinking back to the days when he was a boy Myers remembered he was a pretty mischievous lad "about like everyone else in those days" but that he had to cut his frolicking short and work for a living.

"Then when a boy got caught doing something he shouldn't he got a whipping from the old man, but now he gets thrown in jail," the little fellow related as he

Icy Highways, Dense Fog Slow Area Traffic

A heavy, dense fog caused driving to be hazardous last night as Maryland State Police reported that traffic in some areas near here was virtually at a standstill as a result of ice and foggy road conditions.

They said ice forming on part of Route 40 and 220 as temperatures dropped was making traveling difficult.

The rain that slickened some city streets yesterday amounted to .15 inches, according to Robert R. Golden, official observer at Constitution Park.

Golden said the Potomac River measured 4.27 feet at 10 a.m. yesterday and it remained stationary during the afternoon and evening. A normal thawing caused by warmer weather would cause the river to rise slightly but not enough to pose a threat of flood, he said.

Golden said that Washington weather observers class any floods here as "flash floods" which occur when a lot of water enters normals channels at one time. Only a thaw and rain bordering on a cloudburst would make the local situation dangerous, he declared.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, said there had been no sleet in the district and except for the fog, traveling is good.

At Deal, Pa., the temperature at 10 o'clock last night was 48 degrees with cloudy skies.

The temperature at Thomas, W. Va., was 52 degrees and skies were cloudy.

Cloudy skies were also reported from Rockwood, Pa., where a temperature of 42 degrees was recorded at 10 p.m. yesterday.

Conference Planned With Richardson Wood

Other officers are Joseph M. Naughton, first vice president; Earl D. Chaney, second vice president; Miles G. Thompson, treasurer, and Harold W. Smith.

Directors, to serve for three years, will be F. Patrick Allender, James W. Bishop, William H. Buchholtz, Adolf Blunk, Earl D. Chaney, David Kauffman, Frank A. Martin, John J. McMullen, Joseph M. Naughton and James L. Weber.

Chester T. Williams, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was named director to fill the unexpired term of R. A. J. Morrison, who was recently transferred.

John Conway, cashier of the Cumberland Savings Bank, will fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Howard M. Smith and Henry Swearingen, vice president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, to fill the term of the late Harry A. Pitzer.

Officers of the corporation also reviewed proposals submitted by Richardson Wood, industrial development consultant for the Cumberland-Allegany industrial development program.

They favored the continuation of the program under Wood's direction but referred action upon the proposals to the Executive committee.

In general, Wood's program for Cumberland area industrial development called for his continuing the work under (1) a three-year contract on a fee basis or (2) a fixed fee, plus bonus based on the payroll he might develop.

Officials generally favored a contract on a fixed fee basis plus a commission based on payroll development over a three-year period.

The Executive Committee was asked to meet with Wood and discuss his proposals, then work out a detailed plan which is to be presented to the Board of Directors.

Jaycees Discuss Plan To Sponsor Beauty Contest

Committee Must Give Its Approval

A decision was made last night at the Jaycees monthly meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to enter into a contract for "Miss Cumberland" sponsorship.

The only hitch in the sponsorship is that the entering into a contract is contingent upon approval of a committee appointed to investigate the promotion.

For the past three years the Jaycees here have sponsored a "Miss Cumberland" contest. The winner each year competes with other local winners in the state for "Miss Maryland" honors.

"Miss Cumberland" has become "Miss Maryland" on two occasions competed for "Miss America" honors at Atlantic City.

Firms Join Efforts On Federal Contracts

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce announced last night that as a result of a series of meetings of the 17 machine shops and small plants in the Tri-State area, an organized effort in joint bidding on United States Government defense contracts will be made in the coming months.

The Piedmont Tractor Division, Keyser, W. Va., has been designated as the coordinating and committing agency for the small plants in nearby Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The cooperative group has been designated Tri-State Industrial Complex.

John F. Somerville, Jr., this city, president of the Piedmont Tractor Division, stated a compilation of survey questionnaires submitted by the participating plants shows an impressive amount of specialized machinery and equipment available in this area for manufacturing purposes.

Assets and machinery in excess of $850,000 are available as well as over 500 machine tools. Over 165,000 square feet of manufacturing space is available to the Tri-State group.

Seek Defense Work

The Piedmont Tractor Division has commitments from all members of the Complex authorizing a pledge of their manufacturing facilities in bidding on United States defense contracts. Somerville, who acts as legal counsel for the group, said the immediate objective of the Complex is to secure at least $500,000 worth of government subcontracts for the Tri-State area within the next six months.

Plans for the complex were discussed at a meeting of the group in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, which has aided in setting up the program.

John Weber, Baltimore, of the Department of Commerce, discussed similar plans underway for cooperative bidding on defense work.

Weber said prime contractors have been getting the lion's share of the work so far but that there is still a lot of business left for sub-contractors.

Weber Praises Plan

He termed the present plan a good way to get started on federal work and presented a list of contractors with whom the cooperative might work.

He also offered suggestions on methods of solving the material problem, which is becoming acute in some phases of industry.

The Chamber pointed out that membership in the complex will not prevent any member from securing bids on its own efforts and so will not strangle individual efforts.

The catalogue of facilities available through the combine is being financed by the Chamber.

Firms participating in the complex are:
